The Lost Prince Frances Hodgson Burnett, 2015-03-02 He himself wished to be a patriot though he had never seen his own country of Samavia He knew it well however His father had talked to him about it ever since that day when he had made the promises He had taught him to know it by helping him to study curious detailed maps of it maps of its cities maps of its mountains maps of its roads He had told him stories of the wrongs done its people of their sufferings and struggles for liberty and above all of their unconquerable courage When they talked together of its history Marco's boy blood burned and leaped in his veins and he always knew by the look in his father's eyes that his blood burned also His countrymen had been killed they had been robbed they had died by thousands of cruelties and starvation but their souls had never been conquered and through all the years during which more powerful nations crushed and enslaved them they never ceased to struggle to free themselves and stand unfettered as Samavians had stood centuries before The Lost Prince Frances Hodgson

Burnett, 2019-08-18 Frances Eliza Hodgson Burnett 24 November 1849 29 October 1924 was a British born American novelist and playwright She is best known for the three children's novels Little Lord Fauntleroy published in 1885 1886 A Little Princess 1905 and The Secret Garden 1911 The Lost Prince by Frances Hodgson Burnett Unabridged 1914 Original Version Frances Hodgson Burnett, 2017-07-31 The Lost Prince by Frances Hodgson Burnett Unabridged 1914 Original Version The Lost Prince Frances Hodgson Burnett, 2015-03-04 This was because of the promises he had made to his father and they had been the first thing he remembered Not that he had ever regretted anything connected with his father

He threw his black head up as he thought of that None of the other boys had such a father not one of them His father was his idol and his chief He had scarcely ever seen him when his clothes had not been poor and shabby but he had also never seen him when despite his worn coat and frayed linen he had not stood out among all others as more distinguished than the most noticeable of them When he walked down a street people turned to look at him even oftener than they turned to look at Marco and the boy felt as if it was not merely because he was a big man with a handsome dark face but because he looked somehow as if he had been born to command armies and as if no one would think of disobeying him Yet Marco had never seen him command any one and they had always been poor and shabbily dressed and often enough ill fed But whether they were in one country or another and whatsoever dark place they seemed to be hiding in the few people they saw treated him with a sort of deference and nearly always stood when they were in his presence unless he bade
