Love Changes Urban Renaissance:

The Roots of Urban Renaissance Brian D. Goldstein, 2023-03-14 An acclaimed history of Harlem's journey from urban crisis to urban renaissance. With its gleaming shopping centers and refurbished row houses, today's Harlem bears little resemblance to the neighborhood of the midcentury urban crisis. Brian Goldstein traces Harlem's Second Renaissance to a surprising source: the radical social movements of the 1960s that resisted city officials and fought to give Harlemites control of their own destiny. Young Harlem activists inspired by the civil rights movement envisioned a Harlem built by and for its low-income, predominantly African American population. In the succeeding decades, however, the community-based organizations they founded came to pursue a very different goal: a neighborhood with national retailers and increasingly affluent residents. The Roots of Urban Renaissance demonstrates that gentrification was not imposed on an unwitting community by unscrupulous developers or opportunistic outsiders. Rather, it grew from the neighborhood's grassroots, producing a legacy that benefited some longtime residents and threatened others.

Providence, the Renaissance City Francis J. Leazes, Mark T. Motte, 2004 The authoritative account of one city's dramatic rebirth.

Urban Design and the British Urban Renaissance John Punter, 2009-10 An insightful exploration of the strengths, weaknesses, and implications of New Labour's urban renaissance agenda. Experts in urban design and planning critically review the development and application of the strategy in Britain's largest cities.

Urban Regeneration in the UK Andrew Tallon, 2013-06-07 Striking transformations are taking place in the urban landscape. The regeneration of urban areas in the UK and around the world has become an increasingly important issue amongst governments and populations since the global economic downturn. This textbook provides an accessible and critical synthesis of urban regeneration in the UK, analyzing key policies, approaches, issues, and debates. It places the historical and contemporary regeneration agenda in context. The second edition has been extensively revised and updated to incorporate advances in literature, policy, and case study examples, as well as giving greater discussion to the New Labour period of urban policy and the urban agenda, and regeneration policies of the Conservative Liberal Democrat Coalition government elected in 2010. The book is divided into five sections, with Section I establishing the conceptual and political framework for urban regeneration in the UK. Section II traces policies that have been adopted by central government to influence the social, economic, and physical development of cities, including early town and country and housing initiatives, community-focused urban policies of the late 1960s, entrepreneurial property-led regeneration of the 1980s, competition for urban funds in the 1990s, urban renaissance and neighborhood renewal policies of the late 1990s and early 2000s, and new approaches since 2010 which have sought to stimulate enterprise and embrace localism in an age of austerity resulting from the global economic downturn Section III illustrates the key thematic policies and strategies that have been pursued by cities themselves focusing particularly on improving economic competitiveness tackling social disadvantage and promoting sustainable urban regeneration Section IV summarizes key issues and debates facing urban regeneration in the early 2010s and speculates upon future directions in an era of economic and political uncertainty Urban Regeneration in the UK combines the approaches taken by central government and cities themselves to regenerate urban areas providing a comprehensive and up to date synthesis of the field Each chapter also contains case studies study questions suggested further reading and websites making this an essential resource for undergraduate students interested in Urban Studies Geography Planning and the Built Environment The Churches' Concern for Urban Renaissance Perry L. Eliminating the Achievement Gap William Jeynes,2019-10-04 The purpose of the Eliminating the Achievement Gapis to provide a resource for scholars and students into many of the most salient issues trends and factors that are most effective in reducing the achievement gap Eliminating the Achievement Gap is particularly unique because it will 1 utilize a meta analysis to determine what factors contribute the most to reducing the achievement gap and 2 examine potential achievement gap reducing variables from across disciplines These disciplines include education sociology economics family science psychology public policy and educational psychology The second emphasis is largely based on the meta analysis because the results of the meta analysis indicate that the best way to completely eliminate the achievement gap is to initiate a multidisciplinary approach to the achievement gap It is the intention of this book to make scholars educators policymakers parents and the general public more aware of the factors that best bridge the achievement gap so that they can take major steps to implementing comprehensive and multidisciplinary efforts The more such efforts are inaugurated the more the achievement gap will be reduced The nine chapters of this book are therefore divided into four parts to reflect this extent of this comprehensive approach Detroit, American Urban Renaissance Arthur M. Making Culture, Changing Society Tony Bennett, 2013-09-02 Making Culture Changing Society proposes a challenging new account of the relations between culture and society focused on how particular forms of cultural knowledge and expertise work on order and transform society Examining these forms of culture s action on the social as aspects of a historically distinctive ensemble of cultural institutions it considers the diverse ways in which culture has been produced and mobilised as a resource for governing populations These concerns are illustrated in detailed case studies of how anthropological conceptions of the relations between race and culture have shaped and been shaped by the relationships between museums fieldwork and governmental programmes in early twentieth century France and Australia These are complemented by a closely argued account of the relations between aesthetics and governance that in contrast to conventional approaches interprets the historical emergence of the autonomy of the aesthetic as vastly expanding the range of art s social uses In pursuing these concerns particular attention is given to the role that the cultural disciplines have played in making up and distributing the freedoms through which modern forms of liberal government operate An examination of the place that has been accorded habit as a route into the regulation of conduct within liberal social cultural and political thought brings these questions into sharp focus The book will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology cultural studies media studies anthropology museum and heritage studies history art history and cultural policy studies
