Human Rights The Commons And The Collective:

Human Rights Laura Westra, 2011 Westra not only assesses the limitations of law she also proposes possible paths to an ecologically safer future including a new kind of cosmopolitanism one that has the United Nations as a focal point for a new international legal order Pub desc

Democracy, Markets and the Commons Lukas Peter, 2021-01-12 How can we overcome the existing political economic and ecological crises that humanity faces With the notion of the commons Lukas Peter argues that this form of social organization can provide answers to the shortcomings of centralized states and open and competitive markets By building on and going beyond the work of Elinor and Vincent Ostrom he develops an ecological understanding of the commons and human freedom more generally thereby reinterpreting classical thinkers such as John Locke and John Rawls Importantly he does not suggest an end to property states or markets but rather a radical democratization thereof ultimately providing a real alternative for the 21st century

African Ubuntu and its View on Law, Human Rights and Sustainable Development Goals Dorine E. van Norren, 2025-01-22 This innovative account of wellbeing perspectives of South African Ubuntu philosophy sheds new light on sustainability debates It questions the universality of the UN Sustainable Development Goals The slogan of the Goals Leave no one behind begs the question of who is behind and who is ahead Development is caught in the logic of linear sustainable growth of nations and centres around the flourishing of the individual instead of the community Life is mutual aid would be the African approach which includes a logic of sharing affirming that one's humanity is tied to others With concrete examples of policies law jurisprudence on Ubuntu and practice from South Africa this book is a must read for philosophers willing to think beyond European philosophy development economists interested in reshaping today's paradigms innovative human rights lawyers with a social heart anthropologists who yearn for a dialogue between worldviews of the Global South and science and all people who seek new meaning in today's society

The Commons and a New Global Governance Samuel Cogolati, Jan Wouters, 2018-12-28 Given the new found importance of the commons in current political discourse it has become increasingly necessary to explore the democratic institutional and legal implications of the commons for global governance today This book analyses and explores the ground breaking model of the commons and its relation to these debates

The United Nations' Declaration on Peasants' Rights Mariagrazia Alabrese, Adriana Bessa, Margherita Brunori, Pier Filippo Giuggioli, 2022-01-23 This is the first book to address and review the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Peasants and Other People Working in Rural Areas UNDROP which was adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in December 2018 Food security and sustainable agri food systems responsible governance of natural resources and human rights are among the key themes of the new millennium The Declaration is the first internationally negotiated instrument bridging these issues calling for a radical paradigm change in the agricultural sector while giving voice to peasants and rural workers recognised as the drivers of more equitable and resilient food systems The book unfolds the impact of the Declaration in the wider realm of law and policy making especially concerning the new human rights standards related to access and control of natural resources and the governance of food systems The chapters in the book touch on a broad array of topics including women s rights the role of and impact on indigenous peoples food sovereignty climate change land tenure and agrobiodiversity Voices from outstanding scholars and practitioners are gathered together to inform and trigger a further debate on the negotiation process the innovative and potentially disruptive contents the relations with other fields of law and the practical scope of the Declaration The volume concludes with a collection of case studies that provide concrete examples to help us understand the potential impacts of the Declaration at regional national and local levels This book is the first comprehensive tool to navigate the Declaration and is designed for students researchers and practitioners in the fields of food and agriculture law peasant agrarian and rural studies human rights and environmental law and international development and cooperation Chapter 6 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Resourcing an Agroecological Urbanism Chiara Tornaghi, Michiel Dehaene, 2021-03-07
Foregrounding an innovative and radical perspective on food planning this book makes the case for an agroecological urbanism in which food is a key component in the reinvention of new and just social arrangements and ecological practices Building on state of the art and participatory research on farming urbanism food policy and advocacy in the field of food system transformation this book changes the way food planning has been conceptualised to date and invites the reader to fully embrace the transformative potential of an agroecological perspective Bringing in dialogue from both the rural and urban the producer and consumer this book challenges conventional approaches that see them as separate spheres whose problems can only be solved by a reconnection Instead it argues for moving away from a food in the city approach towards an urbanism perspective in which the economic and spatial processes that currently drive urbanisation will be unpacked and dissected and new strategies for changing those processes into more equal and just ones are put forward Drawing on the nascent field of urban political agroecology this text brings together i theoretical re conceptualisations of urbanism in relation to food planning and the emergence of new agrarian questions ii critical analysis of experimental methodologies and performing arts for public dialogue reflexivity and food sovereignty research iii experiences of resourceful land management including urban land use and land tenure change and iv theoretical and practical exploration of post capitalist economics that bring consumers and producers together to make the case for an agroecological urbanism Aimed at advanced students and academics in agroecology sustainable food planning urban geography urban planning and critical food studies this book will also be of interest to professionals and activists working with food systems in both the Global North and the Global South

Governing tenure rights to commons Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-06-04 Governance of Tenure Technical Guide This guide aims to support states community based and civil society organizations the private sector and other actors in implementing the standards and recommendations of the Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure The guide offers twelve strategies in three areas of action the legal recognition and protection of tenure rights to commons their effective implementation by states and rights holders alike and the support of communities to enjoy their rights Revolt Against Authority Laura Westra, 2014-05-15 Protesters and mass demonstrations by citizens of many democratic countries are increasingly daily occurrences reported in today's news media These protests are often considered to be illegal or are charged with disrupting the peace and even when they are non violent assemblies they are attacked by police and riot squads called in to disperse the protesters Through a careful review of opposition to injustice this book demonstrates that most often these protests and demonstrations are in support of and defend moral and legal principles that their democratic governments have forgotten to uphold or have chosen to ignore Much like the earlier Civil Rights Movement in the US that was centered on issues of social justice and human dignity Westra concludes that today's protesters and social movements rally to defend human rights and moral principles against the undue influence of corporate actors and raise their voice in opposition to the resulting actions by and under the authority of their governments Proleptic Leadership on the Commons Randal Joy Thompson, 2020-10-22 Will capitalism give way to a commons centric society as many scholars and activists predict Viewing the commons as a vehicle for a new world order Randal Joy Thompson proposes proleptic leadership which envisions how leaders will continue to be essential as the custodians of responsible agency and conscious choice The Protection of General Interests in Contemporary International Law Massimo Iovane, Fulvio Maria Palombino, Daniele Amoroso, Giovanni Zarra, 2021 This book explores the notions of global public goods global commons and fundamental values as conceptual tools for the protection of the general interests of the international community It explores how states and other actors have used international law to protect general interests and outlines significant challenges still to be addressed The Commons in a Glocal World Tobias Haller, Thomas Breu, Tine De Moor, Christian Rohr, Heinzpeter Znoj, 2019-04-30 This volume focuses on how in Europe the debate on the commons is discussed in regard to historical and contemporary dimensions critically referencing the work of Elinor Ostrom It also explores from the perspective of new institutional political ecology NIPE how Europe directly and indirectly affected and affects the commons globally Most of the research on the management of commons pool resources is limited to dealing with one of two topics either the interaction between local participatory governance and development of institutions for commons management or a political economy approach that focuses on global change as it is related to the increasingly globalised expansion of capitalist modes of production consumption and societal reproduction This volume bridges the two addressing how global players affect the commons worldwide and how they relate to responses emerging from within the commons in a global local glocal world Authors from a range of academic disciplines present research findings on recent developments on the commons including historical insights new innovations for participatory institutions building in Europe or several types of commons grabbing especially in Africa related to European investments and restrictions on the management of commons at the international level European case studies are included providing interesting examples of local participation in commons resource management while simultaneously showing Europe as a centre for globalized capitalism and its norms and values affecting the rest of the world particularly developing countries This book will be of interest to students and researchers from a wide range of disciplines including natural resource management environmental governance political geography and environmental history

Property Meeting the Challenge of the Commons Ugo Mattei, Alessandra Quarta, Filippo Valguarnera, Ryan J. Fisher, 2023-03-23 This book explores the challenge that the commons present to the private public dichotomy in a wide variety of national legal systems representing the West European legal tradition as well as post socialist and post colonial experiences It presents national reports from 13 jurisdictions ranging from Belgium and the South Africa to the US Constituting the outcome of the 20th General Congress of the International Academy of Comparative Law held in Fukuoka Japan in July 2018 it offers a valuable and unique resource for the study of comparative law

Governing for transformation towards sustainable small-scale fisheries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Berkes, F. (ed.), Franz, N. (ed.), 2025-02-21 This volume provides a human centered perspective building on the expanding horizon from biological and economic management to interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary aquatic resources governance It was prepared in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines It also provides an update of Berkes book Coasts for People Interdisciplinary Approaches to Coastal and Marine Resource Management Routledge 2015 The original chapters of the book served as the first draft of seven of the chapters all of them rewritten with multiple authors total of 20 co authors and with an explicit focus on small scale fisheries through the lens of the SSF Guidelines Over the years aquatic resources governance has evolved For example the term resource which carried a sense of free goods and commodification of nature shifted in meaning to include biodiversity and ecosystem services The term management changed to include participation complexity and uncertainty The volume focuses on several subject areas as the key elements of an interdisciplinary science of aquatic governance These include holism and ecosystems view Chapter 2 coupled humans and environment systems Chapter 3 fishers knowledge Chapter 4 commons dilemmas Chapter 5 co management Chapter 6 livelihoods and sustainability Chapter 7 fishery systems resilience Chapter 8 and ecosystem and human rights based management Chapter 9 These interdisciplinary social science oriented approaches have shaped recent thinking about small scale fisheries helping empower fishers and fishworkers towards a more inclusive equitable sustainable and resilient subsector They also help meet Sustainable Development Goals particularly SDG1 No Poverty and SDG2 Zero Hunger consistent with the emphasis of SSF Guidelines on poverty eradication and food security The intended audience for the volume is broad based and includes fisheries and aquatic management practitioners and policymakers scientists and educators It is an invitation to a new generation of resource managers to be aware of how approaches and concepts have evolved over time to embrace the challenge of interdisciplinarity and complexity to advance the transformation towards sustainable small scale fisheries

The Palgrave Handbook on Decoloniality in Asia Phoebe Zoe Maria U. Sanchez,Regletto Aldrich D. Imbong,Matthew Ming-tak Chew,Caroline M. Schöpf,2025-05-02 This Handbook brings together a plethora of decolonial perspectives from and about Asian countries beyond Southeast Asia Complementing existing scholarship on decolonisation in Latin America and Africa emerging and established scholars from the Global North and the Global South cover politically urgent vital and underexplored topics from the social sciences and humanities An important compendium more than 25 original contributions bring debates happening in various parts of the world strongly into conversation with similar debates in the West where there has been little reciprocal exchange Bringing to the fore the importance of a paradigm shift within academia this first of its kind Handbook is useful for policy makers scholars and students of postcolonial and decolonial studies sociology development studies and social movements

Ecological Integrity and Global Governance Laura Westra,2016-04-28 It is increasingly argued that a focus on environmental sustainability is fundamental to effective and equitable governance and ultimately for the good of mankind This book argues that in the face increasing environmental challenges it is essential to recognise the role that ecological integrity has played and must play in governance for environmental sustainability in order to ensure the future survival of life on earth Ecological integrity encompasses not only the necessity of respect for nature but also the human right to a sound and healthy environment The author shows that on this basis acceptance of its primacy in law and governance is key to a sustainable and equitable future for all The book presents a uniquely informed treatise on the term its origins evolution and position in current debates exploring the conflicts which have so far prevented its acceptance Written by a leading scholar on the subject this book provides the most in depth exposition of ecological integrity available to increase understanding of this crucial concept and encourage its adoption in governance and international law

House of Commons - Foreign Affairs Committee: The UK's Relations with Saudi Arabia and Bahrain - HC 88 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee,2013-11-22 Saudi Arabia and Bahrain remain key partners for the UK but relations are complicated by the differences between our societies and the pressing need for reform in the Gulf Historic warm relations between the UK government and the leaders of Saudi Arabia and Bahrain are not mirrored in public opinion in Saudi Arabia and the UK and the UK s reputation in Bahrain has also suffered since 2011 The Government must make its public profile and reputation a more central part of its work in the Gulf consider how it can best support much needed economic and political reforms and how it can explain its policies and point to specific achievements when speaking to the public at home and in the Gulf In Saudi Arabia the Government must convert its promising steps so far in providing assistance on legal and judicial reform into solid and reportable programmes In Bahrain it must work to secure access for NGOs and the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture and press more strongly for swifter implementation of reforms Saudi Arabia

s role as a key buyer for the UK defence industry is controversial but the report finds little to suggest that ending defence sales from the UK would have any positive effect The aggressive way in which the Bahraini security forces handled events in 2011 has deeply damaged Bahrain s reputation The recommendations of the Bahrain Independent Commission of Inquiry BICI were sensible and the Bahraini government s failure fully to implement them is inexplicable Routledge Handbook of Food as a Commons Jose Luis Vivero-Pol,Tomaso Ferrando,Olivier De Schutter,Ugo Mattei,2018-12-17 From the scientific and industrial revolution to the present day food an essential element of life has been progressively transformed into a private transnational mono dimensional commodity of mass consumption for a global market But over the last decade there has been an increased recognition that this can be challenged and reconceptualized if food is regarded and enacted as a commons This Handbook provides the first comprehensive review and synthesis of knowledge and new thinking on how food and food systems can be thought interpreted and practiced around the old new paradigms of commons and commoning The overall aim is to investigate the multiple constraints that occur within and sustain the dominant food and nutrition regime and to explore how it can change when different elements of the current food systems are explored and re imagined from a commons perspective Chapters do not define the notion of commons but engage with different schools of thought the economic approach based on rivalry and excludability the political approach recognizing the plurality of social constructions and incorporating epistemologies from the South the legal approach that describes three types of proprietary regimes private public and collective and different layers of entitlement bundles of rights and the radical activist approach that considers the commons as the most subversive coherent and history rooted alternative to the dominant neoliberal narrative These schools have different and rather diverging epistemologies vocabularies ideological stances and policy proposals to deal with the construction of food systems their governance the distributive implications and the socio ecological impact on Nature and Society The book sparks the debate on food as a commons between and within disciplines with particular attention to spaces of resistance food sovereignty de growth open knowledge transition town occupations bottom up social innovations and organizational scales local food national policies South South collaborations international governance and multi national agreements Overall it shows the consequences of a shift to the alternative paradigm of food as a commons in terms of food the planet and living beings Nigerian Yearbook of International Law 2017 Chile Eboe-Osuji,Engobo Emeseh,2018-05-12 This book is the inaugural edition of the Nigerian Yearbook of International Law The Yearbook is a necessary and timely publication that provides a forum for critical discourse on developments in international law particularly where this has relevance for Nigeria Africa and its people including those in the diaspora The articles in this first volume explore topics under the following themes International Law and Regional Systems Contemporary Challenges Emerging Issues Criminal Law and Natural Resources Environmental Law There is also a section which provides a comprehensive review of key decisions in African and International Courts Tribunals Contributors to this edition are international law jurists from across the world including eminent judges of international tribunals leading academics and an international diplomat Redefining the Agenda for Social Justice Francine Mestrum, Meena Menon, 2021-04-24 The book relates three years of history of social movements from Asia and Europe who work on social justice as a rough overview The work for the book is mainly done on the ground day after day working in villages and cities with people and their organisations organising resistance and preparing alternatives It is based on the fact that European and Asian concerns are identical in spite of divergent levels of development and wealth and that the existing international initiatives such as the ILO's social protection floors or the UN's Sustainable Development Goals are perfectly compatible with neoliberal policies The book goes beyond and sees social commons as a strategic tool for transforming societies It is basically a project for the sustainability of life of humans of societies and of nature The book describes the ideas at the basis of the work in different sectors It is not about the practice of social policies but about the ideas and discourses that can in the end shape the political practices In sum this book presents a new social paradigm It concretely shows how social justice and environmental justice do go hand in hand The Right to Water Farhana Sultana, Alex Loftus, 2013-10-18 The right to clean water has been adopted by the United Nations as a basic human right Yet how such universal calls for a right to water are understood negotiated experienced and struggled over remain key challenges The Right to Water elucidates how universal calls for rights articulate with local historical geographical contexts governance politics and social struggles thereby highlighting the challenges and the possibilities that exist Bringing together a unique range of academics policy makers and activists the book analyzes how struggles for the right to water have attempted to translate moral arguments over access to safe water into workable claims This book is an intervention at a crucial moment into the shape and future direction of struggles for the right to water in a range of political geographic and socio economics contexts seeking to be pro active in defining what this struggle could mean and how it might be taken forward in a far broader transformative politics The Right to Water engages with a range of approaches that focus on philosophical legal and governance perspectives before seeking to apply these more abstract arguments to an array of concrete struggles and case studies In so doing the book builds on empirical examples from Africa Asia Oceania Latin America the Middle East North America and the European Union
