Narrative Psychology and Vygotsky in

Dialogue Jill Bradbury, 2019-09-06 This book draws together two domains of psychological theory Vygotsky's cultural historical theory of cognition and narrative theories of identity to offer a way of rethinking the human subject as embodied relational and temporal A dialogue between these two ostensibly disparate and contested theoretical trajectories provides a new vantage point from which to explore questions of personal and political change In a world of deepening inequalities and increasing economic precarity the demand for free decolonised quality education as articulated by the South African Student Movement and in many other contexts around the world is disrupting established institutional practices and reinvigorating possibilities for change This context provokes new lines of hopeful thought and critical reflection on discontinuities across historical time theories of social and psychological developmental processes and the practices of intergenerational life particularly in the domain of education for the making of emancipatory futures This is essential reading for academics and students interested in Vygotskian and narrative theory and critical psychology as well as those interested in the politics and praxis of higher education

Psychodynamic Perspectives on Asylum Seekers and the Asylum-Seeking Process Barbara K. Eisold, 2019-01-10 Psychodynamic Perspectives on Asylum Seekers and the Asylum Seeking Process looks at the psychosocial assessment of asylum seekers from three perspectives forensic psychodynamic and political and then attempts to better understand from a psychodynamic perspective differences in the historical motivational routes of asylum seekers themselves Barbara Eisold begins in Chapter One by exploring the unique evaluation relationship of psychosocial assessment and the striking will to survive of the asylum seekers that it puts into focus using a psychodynamic lens The forensic value of psychosocial assessment and its potential as both a political and a therapeutic tool are then described Chapter Two describes individuals who by background and personal characteristics shared a profound desire to protest gravely compromising their survival at home and forcing them to seek asylum elsewhere Chapter Three discusses women who have suffered female genital mutilation and includes a discussion of the development of strong personal agency in one case Chapter Four describes abused women from Central America forced to flee from femicide The evolution of femicide is explored including the development of honor bound machismo and the wide spread disregard of law The hold men have on women is then examined from a psychodynamic perspective Psychodynamic Perspectives on Asylum Seekers and the Asylum Seeking Process will be of great interest to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic psychotherapists and all mental health professionals working with asylum seekers Psychoanalysis and Holocaust Testimony Dori Laub, Andreas Hamburger, 2017-03-31 Psychoanalytic work with socially traumatised patients is an increasingly popular vocation but remains extremely demanding and little covered in the literature In Psychoanalysis and Holocaust Testimony a range of contributors draw upon their own clinical work and on research findings from work with seriously disturbed Holocaust survivors to illuminate how best to conduct clinical work with such patients in order to maximise the chances of a positive outcome and to reflect transferred trauma for the clinician Psychoanalysis and Holocaust Testimony closely examines the phenomenology of destruction inherent in the discourse of extreme traumatization focusing on a particular case study the recording of video testimonies from a group of extremely traumatized chronically hospitalized Holocaust survivors in psychiatric institutions in Israel This case study demonstrates how society reacts to unwanted memories in media history and psychoanalysis but it also shows how psychotherapists and researchers try to approach the buried memories of the survivors through being receptive to shattered life narratives Questions of bearing witness testimony the role of denial and the impact of traumatic narrative on society and subsequent generations are explored A central thread of this book is the unconscious countertransference resistance to the trauma discourse which manifests itself in arenas that are widely apart such as genocide denial the disappearance of the hospitalized Holocaust survivors and of their life stories mishearing their testimonies and ultimately refusing them the diagnosis of traumatic psychosis Psychoanalysis and Holocaust Testimony provides an essential multidisciplinary guide to working psychoanalytically with severely traumatised patients It will appeal to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic psychotherapists and trauma studies therapists Traumatized Witnesses in International Criminal Trials Suzanne Schot, 2024-02-13 This book focuses on the testimonial evidence of traumatised witnesses in trials of international crimes which deal with acts of genocide war crimes and crimes against humanity Such trials often involve the testimonies of those who experienced or witnessed extremely traumatic events which can make it hard for these witnesses to recall specific details Testifying during trial may in itself also pose challenges to their well being Yet the legal process of determining whether someone can be held criminally responsible for the alleged crimes needs to be fair in accordance with the right to a fair trial of the accused and the facts need to be determined as accurately as possible This book argues that to ensure fair and accurate fact finding when in particular traumatised witnesses testify a balance needs to be struck between the needs of witnesses who testify about traumatic experiences the fair trial rights of the accused and the objective of the court to establish as accurately as possible the responsibility of the accused This is crucial throughout the stages of selecting preparing presenting and assessing the testimonial evidence of traumatised witnesses The methodology involves an analysis of transcripts of proceedings and case law of the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia the International

Criminal Court and Dutch courts prosecuting international crimes The research demonstrates that it is often difficult to strike a balance between the competing objectives during proceedings when traumatised witnesses testify due to the current lack of regulations and guidelines applicable during investigations and prosecutions This book shows that this balance can and should be achieved when traumatised witnesses testify during criminal proceedings for international crimes The work is an invaluable resource for researchers academics and practitioners in criminal law criminology legal psychology legal psychiatry social anthropology and forensic sciences

Diaspora Mobilizations for Transitional Justice Maria

Koinova, Dženeta Karabegović, 2020-12-17 Transitional justice and diaspora studies are interdisciplinary and expanding fields of study Finding the right combination of mechanisms to forward transitional justice in post conflict societies is an ongoing challenge for states and affected populations Diasporas as non state actors with increased agency in homelands host lands and other global locations engage with their past from a distance but their actions are little understood Diaspora

Mobilizations for Transitional Justice develops a novel framework to demonstrate how diasporas connect with local actors in transitional justice processes through a variety of mechanisms and their underlying analytical rationales emotional cognitive symbolic value based strategic and networks based Mechanisms featured here are thin sympathetic response and chosen trauma fear and hope contact and framing cooperation and coalition building brokerage patronage and connective action among others The contributors discuss the role of diasporas in truth commissions memorialization recognition of genocides and other human rights atrocities as well as their abilities to affect transitional justice from afar by holding particular attitudes or upon return temporarily or for good This book sheds light on how diasporas contextual embeddedness shapes their mobilization strategies and features empirical evidence from Europe United States and Canada as well as from conflict and postconflict polities in the Balkans Middle East Eurasia and Latin America It was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Institutional Transformations Danielle Celermajer, Millicent Churcher, Moira

Gatens, 2021-05-13 Formal and informal institutions structure our social interactions by giving rise to normative expectations and patterns of collective behaviour This collection grapples with how affect imagination and embodiment can operate to either constrain or enable the justice of institutions and the experiences of specific social identities This anthology explores the myriad ways institutions work to systematically disadvantage people with particular identities whilst privileging others and considers the legal political and normative interventions that might serve to promote a more just society Taken together the chapters represent the scope of existing research within institutional theory affect theory race theory and theories of social imaginaries Across a range of topics human rights racial and sexual violence transitional justice and democratic movements this collection critically assesses the extent to which theorists have attended to the conjoined influence of the imagination embodiment and affective phenomena on processes of institutional change that aim to achieve social justice The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Angelaki
