How Mumbo Jumbo Conquered The World A Short History Of Modern Delusions:

How Mumbo-jumbo Conquered the World Francis Wheen, 2004 An entertaining impassioned polemic on the retreat of reason in the late 20th century An intellectual call to arms Francis Wheen's Sunday Times bestseller is one of 2004's most talked about books In 1979 two events occurred that would shape the next twenty five years In Britain an era of weary consensualist politics was displaced by the arrival of Margaret Thatcher whose ambition was to reassert Victorian values In Iran the fundamentalist cleric Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini set out to restore a regime that had last existed almost 1 300 years ago Between them they succeeded in bringing the twentieth century to a premature close By 1989 Francis Fukuyama was declaring that we had now reached the End of History What colonised the space recently vacated by notions of history progress and reason Cults quackery gurus irrational panics moral confusion and an epidemic of mumbo jumbo Modernity was challenged by a gruesome alliance of pre modernists and post modernists medieval theocrats and New Age mystics It was as if the Enlightenment had never happened Francis Wheen winner of the George Orwell prize evokes the key personalities of the post political era including Princess Diana and Deepak Chopra Osama Bin Laden and Nancy Reagan's astrologer while charting the extraordinary rise in superstition relativism and emotional hysteria over the past quarter of a century From UFO scares to dotcom mania his hilarious and gloriously impassioned polemic describes a period in the world's history when everything began to stop making sense necessary security and protection including protection from the global vicissitudes and matrices of power In the presence of these struggles to presuppose openness would be to celebrate vulnerability and insecurities This book examines ways in which emergent technologies expose Africans and more generally peoples of the global south to political economic social cultural and religious shocks occasioned by the coloniality of the global matrices of power It notes that there is the use by global elites of technologies to incite postmodern revolutions designed to compound the vicissitudes and imponderables in the already unsettled lives of people north and south Particularly targeted by these technologies are African and other governments that do not cooperate in the fulfilment of the interests of the hegemonic global elites The book is handy to students and practitioners in security studies African studies development studies global studies policy studies and political science

The New Sociological Imagination Steve Fuller,2006-03-03 C

Wright Mills classic The Sociological Imagination has inspired generations of students to study Sociology. However the book is nearly half a century old. What would a book address aiming to attract and inform students in the 21st century? This is the task that Steve Fuller sets himself in this major new invitation to study Sociology. The book critically examines the history of the social sciences to discover what the key contributions of Sociology have been and how relevant they remain. It demonstrates how biological and sociological themes have been intertwined from the beginning of both disciplines from the 19th century to the present day. It covers virtually all of sociology's classic theorists and themes, provides a glossary of key thinkers and concepts. This book sets the agenda for imagining Sociology in the 21st century and will attract students and professionals alike.

Empires of Belief Stuart Sim, 2006-06-26 Challenges all forms of fundamentalism and unexamined belief systems from a philosophical and sceptical viewpoint. Is unquestioning belief making a global comeback? The growth of religious fundamentalism seems to suggest so. For the sceptically minded this is a deeply worrying trend not just confined to religion. Political, economic and scientific theories can demand the same unquestioning obedience from the general public. Stuart Sim outlines the history of scepticism in both the Western and Islamic cultural traditions and from the Enlightenment to postmodernism. Setting out what a sceptical politics might be like, Empires of Belief argues that we need less belief and more doubt, an engaged scepticism to replace the pervasive dogmatism that threatens our democracies.

Rethinking Psychology Brian Hughes, 2017-09-16 Balancing readability with intellectual rigor, this is an essential guide to understanding the complex relationship between psychology, science and pseudoscience. At a time when unempirical data and evidence is increasingly purported as justification for scientific claims in the public consciousness, Hughes considers its impact upon the very philosophy behind the scientific principles, the methods that produce research findings. Further, he examines the controversial research practices and biases in the psychological field that threaten the integrity of its claims. This book undertakes a fascinating contemplation and sagacious analysis of the historical and contemporary debates regarding psychological methods and research. Written to suit 3rd year undergraduate students and MA/MSc students in psychology as well as academics and the more general reader interested in these subject issues.

The Shock of the Same Tom Grimwood, 2021-06-01 Since the birth of modernity, Western thought has been at war with cliché. The association of philosophical and cultural integrity with originality and the corresponding need for invention and novelty has been a distinct concern of a whole spectrum of ideas and movements, from Nietzsche's polemics against the herd, the shock of the new of the artistic avant-garde, the Frankfurt School's critique of mass culture to Orwell's defence of political dialogue from dying metaphors. This book is the first examination of the cliché as a philosophical concept. Challenging the idea that clichés are lazy or spurious opposites to genuine thinking, it instead locates them as a dynamic and contestable boundary between thought and non-thought. The book unpacks the constituent phenomena of cliché: repetition, circulation, the readymade, sameness, through readings of anti-philosophical thinkers such as Nietzsche, Kierkegaard, Paulhan, de Certeau, Derrida, Sloterdijk, Badiou.

and Groys In doing so the book critically articulates the techniques and technologies through which the boundary between thought and non thought is formed in modern Western philosophy Rejecting the idea that clichés should be dismissed out of hand on normative frameworks of good and bad thinking or new and old ideas it instead interrogates the material cultural and archival ground on which these frameworks are built

Performing Dark Arts Michael Mangan, 2007-08-01 Magic and conjuring inhabit the boundaries and the borderlands of performance The conjuror's act of demonstrating the apparently impossible the uncanny the marvellous or the grotesque challenges the spectator's sense of reality It brings him or her up against their own assumptions about how the world works at its most extreme it asks the spectator to re evaluate his or her sense of the limits of the human Performing Dark Arts is an exploration of the paradox of the conjuror the actor who pretends to be a magician It aims to illuminate the history of conjuring by examining it in the context of performance studies and to throw light on aspects of performance studies by testing them against the art of conjuring The book examines not only the performances of individual magicians from Dedi to David Blaine but also the broader cultural contexts in which their performances were received and the meanings which they have attracted
