Teaching as Inquiry Alexandra Weinbaum, 2004-04-16 This book offers an engaging and effective approach to improving teacher and student learning Based on the experiences of three leading educational organizations the authors provide invaluable research based guidelines for incorporating inquiry into teacher s instructional practices and student work as part of the ongoing work of schools In addition to discussing the lessons learned and questions raised by inquiry work this volume includes specific considerations for determining who should be involved what work should be under review how it should be reviewed and how such inquiry should be supported by the school

Tell Me So I Can Hear You Eleanor Drago-Severson, Jessica Blum-DeStefano, 2017-11-14 In Tell Me So I Can Hear You Eleanor Drago Severson and Jessica Blum DeStefano show how education leaders can learn to deliver feedback in a way that strengthens relationships as well as performance and builds the capacity for growth Drawing on constructive developmental theory the authors describe four stages of adult growth and development and explain how to differentiate feedback for colleagues with different ways of knowing which include Instrumental knowers who tend to see things in black and white Did I do it right or wrong and may need to develop the capacity for reflection Socializing knowers who are concerned with maintaining relationships What do you want me to do and may need support developing their own ideas Self authoring knowers who have strong ideologies and values How does this fit with my goals and vision and may need help with perspective taking Self transformative knowers who are able to examine issues from multiple points of view How can I understand this more deeply and may need guidance in resolving tensions and contradictions The authors show how leaders can provide feedback in ways that meet people where they are while expanding the developmental capacities educators bring to their work Drago Severson and Blum DeStefano provide real life examples with practical strategies for creating a safe space for feedback finding the right words and bridging feedback and action Tell Me So I Can Hear You offers invaluable guidance to help educators support a culture of learning in classrooms schools and districts Navigating Teacher Licensure Exams Emery Petchauer, 2018-12-12

Navigating Teacher Licensure Exams offers practical empirically sourced insights into the high stakes licensure exams required in most states for teacher certification This unique resource foregrounds the experiences of diverse preservice teachers including teachers of color to understand how they organize their preparation efforts overcome self doubt and anxiety and navigate the high pressure space of this important testing event By situating these exams within their social and psychological contexts presenting real life cases of success and failure and confronting innate perceptions of standardized tests this book provides essential and highly practical support for preservice teachers teacher educators and departmental resource libraries The Shaping of an Effective Leader Gayle D. Beebe, 2011-11-02 Drawing on the influence of Peter Drucker and other mentors as well as his own years of experiences as a pastor administrator and college president Gayle Beebe has developed a pyramid of leadership principles that define a leader of influence and integrity Discover what it takes to be effective in your sphere of influence Fire Management Today, 2001 Hard Conversations Unpacked Jennifer Abrams, Corwin, 2015-12-23 Learn to speak up for what really matters Tough talks are never easy but in her best selling book Having Hard Conversations Jennifer Abrams showed educators how to speak intentionally with colleagues about work related issues through a planned interactive and personal approach In this sequel she moves readers deeper into the nuances of how to prepare for those conversations while building expectations for positive and meaningful outcomes Putting clarity before accountability or by being clear about what should be understood before going in can and will increase the favorable results of those tough talks With an emphasis on what needs to happen before during and after hard conversations this resource explores What humane growth producing and other centered conversations sound like How race culture gender and generational filters influence perceptions and how to account for them How to spot and work with organizational dynamics that could influence discussions How to conduct hard conversations with supervisors Plan for positive outcomes from hard conversations Let this resource empower you to expect and professionally navigate environmental influences unexpected pushback and uncomfortable silences toward real understanding and progress Abrams who cites a broad and current body of literature provides a valuable rationale for why certain ways of talking are more effective than others Robert J Garmston Professor Emeritus Co Developer of COgnitive Coaching Adaptive Schools California State University Sacramento In order to grow as learners educators and leaders we need to be provided with feedback that will enhance our growth That feedback doesn't come easily We shy away from providing honest feedback because we're afraid it will be taken the wrong way That is why I love Having Hard Conversations 2.0 Jennifer Abrams brings us through the process beautifully with a great deal of honesty and we can learn a great deal from her insight This is an important read for anyone in education Peter De Witt

Former School Principal Finding Common Ground Blog Corwin The Versatile Leader Bob Kaplan, Rob

Kaiser, 2006-03-24 In this groundbreaking new book Bob Kaplan and Rob Kaiser introduce an innovative approach to identifying and correcting lopsidedness in leaders You will discover how to make optimal use of your strengths and avoid getting trapped in a one-dimensional mindset that results in too much of a good thing Based on twenty years of research and extensive work with senior leaders The Versatile Leader is packed with illustrative cases and practical applications The book is equally useful for self-improvement and for coaching other managers Unconscious Bias in Schools Tracey A.

Benson, Sarah E. Fiarman, 2020-10-22 In Unconscious Bias in Schools two seasoned educators describe the phenomenon of unconscious racial bias and how it negatively affects the work of educators and students in schools Regardless of the amount of effort time and resources education leaders put into improving the academic achievement of students of color the authors write if unconscious racial bias is overlooked improvement efforts may never achieve their highest potential In order to address this bias the authors argue educators must first be aware of the racialized context in which we live Through personal anecdotes and real-life scenarios Unconscious Bias in Schools provides education leaders with an essential roadmap for addressing these issues directly The authors draw on the literature on change management leadership critical race theory and racial identity development as well as the growing research on unconscious bias in a variety of fields to provide guidance for creating the conditions necessary to do this work awareness trust and a learner's stance Benson and Fiarman also outline specific steps toward normalizing conversations about race reducing the influence of bias on decision making building empathic relationships and developing a system of accountability All too often conversations about race become mired in questions of attitude or intention But I'm not a racist This book shows how information about unconscious bias can help shift conversations among educators to a more productive collegial approach that has the potential to disrupt the patterns of perception that perpetuate racism and institutional injustice Tracey A Benson is an assistant professor of educational leadership at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte Sarah E Fiarman is the director of leadership development for EL Education and a former public school teacher principal and lecturer at Harvard Graduate School of Education Stuck

Improving Decoteau Irby, 2022-10-18 An incisive case study of changemaking in action Stuck Improving analyzes the complex process of racial equity reform within K-12 schools Scholar Decoteau J Irby emphasizes that racial equity is dynamic shifting as our emerging racial consciousness evolves and as racism asserts itself anew Those who accept the challenge of reform find themselves stuck improving caught in a perpetual dilemma of both making progress and finding ever more progress to be made Rather than dismissing stuckness as failure Irby embraces it as an inextricable part of the improvement process Irby brings readers into a large suburban high school as school leaders strive to redress racial inequities among the school's increasingly diverse student population Over a five year period he witnesses both progress and setbacks in the leaders' attempts to provide an educational environment that is intellectually, socioemotionally and culturally affirming Looking beyond this single school Irby pinpoints the factors that are essential to the work of equity reform in education He argues that lasting transformation relies most urgently on the cultivation of organizational conditions that render structural racism impossible to preserve Irby emphasizes how schools must strengthen and leverage personal, relational and organizational capacities in order to sustain meaningful change Stuck Improving offers a clear-eyed accounting of school improvement practices including data-driven instructional approaches, teacher cultural competency and inquiry-based leadership strategies This timely work contributes both to the practical efforts of equity-minded school leaders and to a deeper understanding of what the work of racial equity improvement truly entails
