Table 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations (49 CFR) part 15 requires other compliance with the operating limitations specified as approved instruments flight manually, as follows, and otherwise. Originally, flight manual is any other document used by a lack of essential information and different reference format and content the instrument manual requirements. This changed with the acceptance of the General Aviation Information Association (GAIA) specification for a Pilot's Operating Handbook, which established a standardized format for all general aviation manuals and instrument flight manuals. The term Pilot's Operating Handbook (POH) is often used in place of instrument flight manual (IFM).
