Cordesman,2015-11-10 The ongoing confrontation with Iran the war against ISIL the instability in Iraq the Civil war in Syria and the conflict in Yemen have all caused major changes in the security situation in the Persian Gulf and in the regional military balance The strategic partnership between Arab Gulf states and with the United States and other outside states must now evolve to deal with conventional military threats and a range of new threats including ideological extremists non state actors and their state sponsors and a growing range of forces designed to fight asymmetric wars This new report from the CSIS Burke Chair in Strategy provides a 2015 assessment of the Gulf military balance the military capabilities of each Gulf state the role of the United States as a security partner and the priorities for change in the structure of both the Gulf Cooperation Council and the Arab Gulf military partnership with the United States The assessment goes far beyond the conventional military balance and examines how force developments in the region affect joint and asymmetric warfare missiles and missile defense nuclear forces as well as terrorism the role of non state actors and outside powers

Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1994-02 Index of Specifications and Standards , The Gulf Military Balance Anthony H. Cordesman,Bryan Gold,2014-03-12 The United States faces major challenges in dealing with Iran the threat of terrorism and the tide of political instability in the Arabian Peninsula The presence of some of the world s largest reserves of oil and natural gas vital shipping lanes and Shia populations throughout the region have made the peninsula the focal point of US and Iranian strategic competition Moreover large youth populations high unemployment rates and political systems with highly centralized power bases have posed other economic political and security challenges that the Gulf states must address and that the United States must take into consideration when forming strategy and policy
