Luke Zondervan Exegetical Commentary On The New Testament Series Book 3:

NEW TESTAMENT CONTEXTUAL COMMENTARY Dr. Robert R. Seyda, 2024-03-26 The Apostle John tells his readers he has an important message to tell them It is about a person who was already there before the beginning of the world We heard him speak We've seen Him with our own eyes We watched Him and we touched Him He is the Word that gives us life with God This is the message God is completely good and pure He is like light There is nothing dark about Him Amazingly John tells us that one of the things Jesus wanted us to understand is that by loving others we love God Yes we do make mistakes and so do other believers but we are not to hold that against them because just as we were given forgiveness by God's mercy and grace since we are in union with His Son so can they What we are not to do is claim access to this privilege but then live like those in the world Our goal is not just life but eternal life After all we are God's children and no child of God keeps on sinning after they are born again through Jesus the Anointed One Old Testament Conceptual Metaphors and the Christology of Luke's Gospel Gregory R. Lanier, 2018-08-23 Extensive scholarship has been devoted to Jesus' depiction in the Gospels and how such depiction is influenced by the Old Testament Gregory R. Lanier presents a new case for the importance of conceptual metaphor arguing that the Gospel of Luke employs certain metaphors reflected in Israel's traditions such as horn of salvation dawn from on high mother bird gathering Jerusalem's children and crushing stone in order to portray the identity of Jesus as both an agent of salvation and more provocatively the one God of Israel Setting his argument at the intersection of three sub-fields of New Testament scholarship early Christology the use of Israel's Scriptures in the New Testament and contemporary metaphor theory Lanier suggests ways to overcome the low-high binary and perceive the Gospel's Christology as multi-faceted Applying metaphor theory to the influence of the Old Testament metaphors on Luke's Christology Lanier adds methodological rigor to the tracing of such influences in cases where standard criteria for quotations and allusions echoes are stretched thin Themelios, Volume 38, Issue 3 D. Luke's Legato Historiography David Lee Brack, 2017-10-24 As the first century came to a close the church struggled with its identity due to its memories of a disconnected past As the church reflected on recent history it remembered the origins of Christianity as full of gaps and discontinuities leaving it to question the validity of this new Jesus movement How did Jesus ministry relate to ancient Judaism What was the relationship between John the Baptist and Jesus What kind of transition occurred between Jesus and his followers How did the Holy Spirit relate to Jesus How could the controversial figure Paul have such an integral role in nascent Christianity How could a heavily Gentile church preach about the Messiah of Israel Using a musical metaphor this book demonstrates how Luke replies to these staccato narratives of the first century church with his own legato version of history Luke accomplishes this bridging of past events primarily through the ancient practice of rhetorical transitions and in the process reassures his audiences of the continuity of salvation history throughout the various stages of early Christianity

The Priest and Levite as Temple Representatives Michael Blythe, 2023-07-07 The parable of the good Samaritan is well known yet scholarship has not plumbed the depths of its meaning within its first century Palestinian context For the majority of Christian history the parable has suffered either from extreme allegorical treatments or from unimaginative readings limiting the parable to a single point example story of virtue A creative reading employing social and historical methods generates a refreshing telling of the story within Jesus's context whereby each variable from the Samaritan to the priest and even the innkeeper takes on representative forms not only indicative of widespread concerns from Jesus's audience but also becoming symbols of the eschatological age when the new temple supplants the old

Practicing Intertextuality Max J. Lee, B. J. Oropeza, 2021-10-29 Practicing Intertextuality attempts something bold and ambitious to map both the interactions and intertextual techniques used by New Testament authors as they engaged the Old Testament and the discourses of their fellow Jewish and Greco-Roman contemporaries. This collection of essays functions collectively as a handbook describing the relationship between ancient authors, their texts, and audience capacity to detect allusions and echoes. Aimed for biblical studies majors, graduate and seminary students, and academics, the book catalogues how New Testament authors used the very process of interacting with their Scriptures: that is, the Masoretic Text, the Septuagint, and their variants, and the texts of their immediate environment, including popular literary works, treatises, rhetorical handbooks, papyri, inscriptions, artifacts, and graffiti, for the very production of their message. Each chapter demonstrates a type of interaction that is doctrinal reformulations, common ancient ethical and religious usage, refutation, irenic appropriation, and competitive appropriation. It describes the intertextual techniques employed by the ancient author and explains how these were practiced in Jewish, Greco-Roman, or early Christian circles. Seventeen scholars, each an expert in their respective fields, have contributed studies which illuminate the biblical interpretation of the Gospels, the Pauline letters, and General Epistles through the process of intertextuality.

Those Who Weep Shall Laugh Sung Min Hong, 2018-08-22 The purpose of this study is to identify and develop appreciation for the theme of the reversal of weeping in Luke's gospel. Lukan scholarship has not fully recognized the reversal of weeping as a distinctive theme. By understanding Luke's third beatitude (6:21b) and third woe (6:25b) as two pegs on which the theme of the reversal of weeping is hung, it proposes that the reversal of weeping is a distinctive theme in Luke. In doing so, Luke repetitively uses to highlight the theme. This technique of Leitwort leads readers to focus on the reversal of weeping more effectively. Luke's presentation of the reversal of weeping is not limited to identifying it as a distinctive theme. There are narrative intentions and theological implications that Luke also targets. First, Luke wants to demonstrate concern for marginalized groups in society. He also shows how their fortunes are reversed by Jesus. Second, Luke portrays Jesus as the promised prophet, describing him as like Elijah and Jeremiah but superior to them. Finally, Luke provides the reversal of weeping as a significant phenomenon of the kingdom of God, particularly to show that the presence of God's kingdom is inaugurated and realized in Jesus Christ.

James Craig L. Blomberg, Mariam J. Kovalishyn, 2009-10-06 Concentrate on the biblical author's message as it unfolds. Designed to assist the pastor and Bible teacher in conveying the significance of God's Word, the Zondervan Exegetical Commentary on the New Testament series treats the literary context and structure of every passage of the New Testament book in the original Greek. With a unique layout designed to help you comprehend the form and flow of each passage, the ZECNT unpacks the key message. While primarily designed for those with a basic knowledge of biblical Greek, all who strive to understand and teach the New Testament will benefit from the depth format and scholarship of these volumes The Gospel Douglas W.

Kennard,2017-10-26 This book is about stating gospel especially in the Bible After surveying historical statements of gospel within their respective soteriology biblical contexts are explored that identify either 1 as gospel 2 promise forgiveness 3 promise everlasting life 4 promise kingdom or 5 promise resurrection with Christ These five statements indicate the outcomes that are normally associated with the gospel across Christendom This framework provides legitimate biblical gospel statements within exclusive salvation in Christ This volume presents and appropriates biblical gospel patterns as a new reformation for fullness of salvation in Christ and His earthly kingdom This variety of biblical gospel statements provoke 1 unity around Jesus Christ and God s gracious salvation 2 toleration concerning rival statements of Christian gospel and 3 jettisoning unsupported traditional frameworks For example ticket Christianity with little or no life change except past faith and an experience prepare Jesus Christ to say to a major section of the church Depart from Me I never knew you Better to hear the eschatological Christ say Come blessed of My Father inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world because to the extent that you did to these brothers of Mine even the least you did to Me Common Property, the Golden Age, and Empire in Acts 2:42-47 and 4:32-35

Joshua Noble,2020-10-15 Joshua Noble focuses on the rapid appearance and disappearance in Acts 2 and 4 of the motif that early believers hold all their property in common and argues that these descriptions function as allusions to the Golden Age myth Noble suggests Luke s claims that the believers had all things in common and that no one claimed private ownership of any possessions a motif that does not appear in any biblical source rather calls to mind Greek and Roman traditions that the earliest humans lived in utopian conditions when no one possessed any private property but all things were common By analyzing sources from Greek Latin Jewish and Christian traditions and reading Acts 2 42 47 and 4 32 35 as Golden Age allusions Noble illustrates how Luke s use of the motif of common property is significant for understanding his attitude toward the Roman Empire Noble suggests that Luke s appeal to this myth accomplishes two things it characterizes the coming of the Spirit as marking the beginning of a new age the start of a universal restoration that will find its completion at the Second Coming of Christ and it creates a contrast between Christ who has actually brought about this restoration and the emperors of Rome who were serially credited with inaugurating a new Golden Age The ^ABible in American Life Philip Goff,Arthur E. Farnsley II,Peter J.

Thuesen,2017-03-01 The Bible in American Life is a sustained collaborative reflection on the ways Americans use the Bible in their personal lives It also considers how other influences including religious communities and the internet shape individuals comprehension and engagement with scripture 15 New Testament Words of Life Nijay K.
