

The book cover features a photograph of a modern interior space. On the left, a large, dark-stained wooden door is partially open, revealing a glimpse of a hallway. In the center, a wide opening leads to a wooden deck with a white railing, overlooking a lush green landscape with trees and a stone fireplace. To the right, a large window with a wooden frame looks out onto more greenery. In the foreground, a dark brown leather sofa is positioned on a dark wooden floor. The overall atmosphere is warm and inviting.

Now she has been transferred to the London Bureau just in time to endure the privation and terror of the Blitzkrieg bombs. Dedication to her craft can't prevent Kit from feeling a twinge of envy for her friend Hallie Vernon, an ATS member who falls in love semi-regularly every few weeks or so. Kit too would like to fall in love. However, she has finally met someone, a mystery man from the London tunnels encountered one night when the wail of the air raid sirens sent citizens scrambling for safety. He's a Texas charmer, this Lew McAllister, and it seems that he's as interested in her as she is in him. But after spending time together, he disappears without a word of apology or explanation. It's wartime, after all, and the life of each human being has been disrupted. In all the confusion, people are here, there, and everywhere, and it's difficult keeping track even of one's nearest and dearest. Whatever has happened to Lew, whatever kind of mystery he's gotten himself involved in, whatever sort of character flaws he might be dealing with, Kit can only feel suspicion and doubt. Yet she can't help wondering if she will ever see him again.

Just as she meets two amazing men, she finds out that she may have breast cancer. After suffering her own loss years ago, she now faces losing the new family of Dixie Chix and a possible relationship with two very sexy and complicated men. Evan and Colton Banks have some scars of their own. They lost their mother to cancer, are estranged from their father, and only know life as military men. Then they meet Ava. Ava soon realizes that Evan and Colton are like two special angels coming to her in a time when she needs true love most. Ava helps Evan and Colton to heal as she teaches them forgiveness and compassion when faced with a truth hidden by years of lies and misunderstanding. This final story emphasizes a different type of fear and suspense. It is a battle of Ava's inner struggles and proof that true love conquers all and that together the Dixie Chix can overcome the greatest battle of all life.
