

The Cold War Heats Up

1. As you read the passage, fill in the information you discover about the Soviet-American agreement below.

	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build space programs and rockets?	That U.S. support them economically (training, fuel, etc.)	Not really.
2. Would anyone benefit from the rockets and satellites they could build?	They would certainly produce satellites that were better. They could deliver military air aid.	They might develop better in case of emergencies, but they would have to be ready when John F. Kennedy became president. They might also be involved in General Chiang Kai-shek's war.
3. Would anyone challenge either side?	Not really.	China might be tempted to join the competition and also challenge.
4. Would the two nations agree about other countries joining the space industry?	That the governments could be persuaded. There had to be continued activity.	That American policy was superior and we would not take in competitors like them.

2. Suppose the agreement simply set up the program, without these other agreements. What would happen? Would the competition really continue?

Discuss. Remember, the governments the satellites were created with needed U.S. technology. Now that you know how the situation
