The engine stabiliser is situated at the rear of the engine and consists of a rubber/metal mounting attached to the body which is connected to brackets on the clutch housing via a rubber bonded link pin. The link pin is threaded at its upper end and is connected to the rubber mounting by means of flange washers and a self-locking nut.

ADJUSTMENT

It is MADE NECESSARY that the stabiliser is checked at the following intervals to observe the procedure given for adjustment and/or tightening of the self-locking nut, due to the engine having been in over-revving.

- Loosen the upper flange washer (A), Fig. 40 and turn the pin until the flange contacts the stabiliser rubber mounting (C). The stabiliser is secured on its upper face and can be moved up the pin by engaging a thin flange stabiliser in the slot through the centre hole of the rubber mounting.
- Fit the upper flange washer (B) and tighten down with the self-locking nut (A).
