Key Issues For Mountain Areas:

Key Issues for Mountain Areas Martin F. Price, Libor Jansky, Andrei A. Iatsenia, 2004 Mountain areas cover almost one quarter of the earth's land surface with a quarter of the global population living on them or very close by and they are sources of water food timber minerals and other natural resources They provide many opportunities for recreation as well as being centres of biological and cultural diversity and religious significance Unfortunately mountain environments and populations are also particularly threatened by climate change and political conflicts and their inhabitants include many of the poorest and most vulnerable in the world This publication includes a number of papers which explore a range of sustainable development challenges for mountain regions

Mountain Geography Martin F. Price, Alton C. Byers, Donald A. Friend, Thomas Kohler, Larry W. Price, 2013-08-24 Mountains cover a quarter of the Earth's land surface and a quarter of the global population lives in or adjacent to these areas The global importance of mountains is recognized particularly because they provide critical resources such as water food and wood contain high levels of biological and cultural diversity and are often places for tourism and recreation and or of sacred significance This major revision of Larry Price's book Mountains and Man 1981 is both timely and highly appropriate The past three decades have been a period of remarkable progress in our understanding of mountains from an academic point of view Of even greater importance is that society at large now realizes that mountains and the people who reside in them are not isolated from the mainstream of world affairs but are vital if we are to achieve an environmentally sustainable future Mountain Geography is a comprehensive resource that gives readers an in depth understanding of the geographical processes occurring in the world's mountains and the overall impact of these regions on culture and society as a whole The volume begins with an introduction to how mountains are defined followed by a comprehensive treatment of their physical geography origins climatology snow and ice landforms and geomorphic processes soils vegetation and wildlife The concluding chapters provide an introduction to the human geography of mountains attitudes toward mountains people living in mountain regions and their livelihoods and interactions within dynamic environments the diverse types of mountain agriculture and the challenges of sustainable mountain development

Presents different ways forward in order to achieve global goals with a specific focus on SDGs.

Neoendogenous Development in European Rural Areas. Eugenio Cejudo, Francisco Navarro, 2020-01-01. This book is one of the main outcomes of the projects Development Programmes and Rural Change in the European Union: governance, results and lessons to share and Successes and failures in the practice of neoendogenous rural development in the European Union 1991-2013, funded both of them by the Spanish Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness. This publication aims, on one side, to clarify and deepen the knowledge of the social, economic and territorial effects of the LEADER approach and, on the other, to analyze the importance of the participation of several stakeholders: young people and women as well as some traditional activities: agriculture or modern ones, tourism, linked all of them to the rich cultural and natural heritage of these areas. It also provides an in-depth study of the causes that lead to the generation of successful projects in the practice of neoendogenous rural development and also explores the reasons that cause certain projects to fail in the path towards LEADER support so that they are finally not implemented. In addition, it is shown the problems, results and best practices that cause the neoendogenous rural development in different areas inside of the European Union: Austria, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and United Kingdom. Thereby, it helps to improve the decision making in rural development both on a local and regional scale. The multidisciplinary and international character of the authors as well as the specificity of the research trajectory of each of them in the analysis of rural development enriches the publication and facilitates the different and critical reflections on the contributions errors and meaning of the neoendogenous local development Researchers in this discipline and technicians working in the practice of rural development along the European Union are the main audience of the book OECD
