Guideline For Drug Courts On Screening And Assessment:

Guideline for Drug Courts on Screening and Assessment U. S. Department Of Justice, 2013-06-22 Screening and assessment are often described as discrete events completed by using specific instruments In fact screening and assessment are part of an ongoing decision making process that examines information on substance abuse and criminal history motivation for treatment educational and employment factors and other problem areas Information gathered during screening and assessment is used to develop a treatment plan that will be updated over time to reflect participant progress significant life events e g relapse changes in living arrangements and changing service needs While use of structured instruments is a core element of screening and assessment this activity must be supplemented by an individual interview review of archival materials e g criminal justice records treatment records drug test results employment records clinical observation and discussions with probation officers family members or significant others

Guideline for Drug Courts on Screening and Assessment Roger H. Peters, Elizabeth Peyton, 2014-07-25 This guideline is written to help drug courts develop effective policies procedures and techniques for screening and assessing treatment needs of drug court participants This document describes the principles and methods of screening and assessment of adult drug court participants and gives drug courts specific tools and information to establish and sustain screening and assessment processes While much of the information here will be helpful for juvenile drug courts specific guidance for juveniles should be obtained from other sources

NCJRS Catalog , 1998 Juvenile Drug Courts and Teen Substance Abuse Jeffrey A. Butts, John Roman, 2004-11-16 This book examines the ideas behind juvenile drug courts and explores their history and popularity The collection assesses the evidence supporting juvenile drug courts and guides the next generation of evaluation research

Guidelines for Drug Courts on Screening and Assessment Roger H. Peters, Elizabeth Peyton, United States. Drug Courts Program Office, 1998 Drug Court Publications Resource Guide Jeffrey Tauber, 2000 Drug Court Publications Resource Guide , 2000

Oversight of the Office of Justice Programs United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Youth Violence, 2001 Substance Abuse Treatment for Adults in the Criminal Justice System , 2005 This TIP provides counselors with clinical guidelines to assist with problems that routinely occur with clients in the criminal justice system who are dealing with substance abuse and dependency disorders It describes the unique needs of offenders It addresses the challenges counselors and criminal justice personnel are likely to face at every stage of the criminal justice continuum What Works (and Doesn't) in Reducing Recidivism Edward J. Latessa, Shelley J. Listwan, Deborah Koetzle, 2014-09-19 This book offers criminologists and students an evidence based discussion of the latest trends in corrections Over the last several decades research has clearly shown that rehabilitation efforts can be effective at reducing recidivism among criminal offenders However researchers also recognize that treatment is not a one size fits all approach Offenders vary by gender age crime type and or addictions to name but a few and these individual needs must be addressed by providers Finally issues such as leadership quality of staff and evaluation efforts affect the quality and delivery of treatment services This book synthesizes the vast research for the student interested in correctional rehabilitation as well as for the practitioner working with offenders While other texts have addressed issues regarding treatment in corrections this text is unique in that it not only discusses the research on what works but also addresses implementation issues as practitioners move from theory to practice as well as the importance of staff leadership and evaluation efforts

Tribal Healing to Wellness Courts, 2003

Implementing Evidence-Based Practices in Community Corrections and Addiction Treatment Faye S. Taxman, Steven Belenko, 2011-11-20 Community corrections programs are emerging as an effective alternative to incarceration for drug involved offenders to reduce recidivism and improve public health and public safety Since evidence based practice is gaining recognition as a success factor in both community systems and substance abuse treatment a merger of the two seems logical and desirable But integrating evidence based addiction treatment into community corrections is no small feat costs personnel decisions and effective appropriate interventions are all critical considerations Featuring the first model of implementation strategies linking these fields Implementing Evidence Based Practices in Community Corrections and Addiction Treatment sets out criteria for identifying practices and programs as evidence The book s detailed blueprint is based on extensive research into organizational factors e g management buy in and external forces e g funding resources with the most impact on the adoption of evidence based practices and implementation issues ranging from skill building to quality control With this knowledge organizations can set realistic attainable goals and achieve treatment outcomes that reflect the evidence base Included in the coverage Determining evidence for what works Organization change and technology transfer theory and literature review The current state of addiction treatment and community corrections Unique challenges of evidence based addiction treatment under community supervision Assessing suitability of evidence based practice in real world settings A conceptual model for implementing evidence based treatment in community corrections Implementing Evidence Based Practices in Community Corrections and Addiction Treatment is a breakthrough volume for graduate and postgraduate level researchers in criminology as well as policymakers and public health researchers
