H Beam Piper A Biography Critical Explorations In Science Fiction And Fantasy:

H. Beam Piper John F. Carr, 2014-02-11 H Beam Piper is one of science fiction's most enigmatic writers. In 1946 Piper appeared seemingly from out of nowhere already at the top of his form. He published a number of memorable short stories in the premier science fiction magazine of the time Astounding Science Fiction under legendary editor John W. Campbell. Piper quickly became friends with many of the top writers of the day including Lester Del Rey, Fletcher Pratt, Robert Heinlein, and L. Sprague de Camp. Piper also successfully made the turn from promising short story writer to major novelist, authoring Four Day Planet, Cosmic Computer, Lord Kalvan of Otherwhen, and Little Fuzzy, which was nominated for a Hugo award. Even those who counted Piper among their friends knew very little about the man or his life as a railroad yard bull in Altoona, Pennsylvania. This biography illuminates H. Beam Piper both the writer and the man and answers lingering questions about his death. Appendices include a number of Piper's personal papers, a complete bibliography of Piper's works, and an essay on Piper's Terro Human Future History series.

The Animal Fable in Science Fiction and Fantasy Bruce Shaw, 2010-04-23 Though animal stories and fables stretch back into the antiquity of ancient India, Persia, Greece, and Rome, the reasons for writing them and their resonance for readers and listeners remain consistent to the present. This work argues that they were essential sources of amusement and instruction and were also often profoundly unsettling. Such authors in the realm of the animal fable as Tolkien, Freud, Voltaire, Bakhtin, Cordwainer Smith, Karel Capek, Vladimir Propp, and many more are discussed.

The Science Fiction Mythmakers Jennifer Simkins, 2016-09-02 A literary genre that pervades 21st-century popular culture, science fiction creates mythologies that make statements about humanity's place in the universe and embody an intersection of science, religion, and philosophy. This book considers the significance of this confluence through an examination of myths in the writings of H. G. Wells, Arthur C. Clarke, Philip K. Dick, and Frank Herbert. Presenting fresh insights into their works, the author brings to light the tendency of science fiction narratives to reaffirm spiritual myths.

Stephen R. Donaldson and the Modern Epic Vision Christine Barkley, 2014-01-10 This critical study analyzes Stephen R. Donaldson's role as a modern writer who uses the fantasy genre to discuss situations and predicaments germane to the modern world. Donaldson reclaims an epic vision in his Thomas Covenant novels that is lacking in most modern literature. Chapters demonstrate how this use of epic heroism helps solve seemingly insurmountable problems and provides more meaning and purpose for individuals. As Donaldson's characters learn to transcend their world, the reader is engaged in a serious, enlightened discussion about the need for imagination, responsibility, and acceptance to resolve such problems as alienation, pollution, disease, and despair.

The Anticipation Novelists of 1950s French Science Fiction Bradford Lyau, 2014-01-10 Following World War II, the Fleuve Noir publishing house published popular American genre fiction in translation for a French audience. Their imprint, Anticipation, specialized in science fiction but mostly eschewed translations from English, preferring instead French work, thus making the imprint an important outlet for native French postwar ideas and aesthetics. This critical text examines in ideological terms eleven writers who published under the Anticipation imprint revealing the way these writers criticized midcentury notions of progress while adapting and reworking American genre formats Orbiting Ray Bradbury's Mars Gloria McMillan, Donald E. cultures the Alice and Pinocchio stories connected to a worldwide audience almost like folktales and fairy tales and have become fixtures of postmodernism Although they come from radically different political and social backgrounds the texts share surprising similarities This comparative reading explores their imagery and history and discusses them in the broader context of British and Italian children s stories The Last Midnight Leisa A. Clark, Amanda Firestone, Mary F.

Nature and the Numinous in Mythopoeic Fantasy Literature Chris Brawley,2014-06-26 This book makes connections between mythopoeic fantasy works that engage the numinous and the critical apparatuses of ecocriticism and posthumanism Drawing from the ideas of Rudolf Otto in The Idea of the Holy mythopoeic fantasy is a means of subverting normative modes of perception to both encounter the numinous and to challenge the perceptions of the natural world Beginning with S T Coleridge s theories of the imagination as embodied in The Rime of the Ancient Mariner the book moves on to explore standard mythopoeic fantasists such as George MacDonald C S Lewis and J R R Tolkien Taking a step outside these men particularly influenced by Christianity the concluding chapters discuss Algernon Blackwood and Ursula Le Guin whose works evoke the numinous without a specifically Christian worldview
