Strong, 2011-11-01 The old adage you are what you eat has never seemed more true than in this era when ethics politics and the environment figure so prominently in what we ingest and in what we think about it Then there are connoisseurs whose approaches to food address good taste and frequently require a language that encompasses cultural and social dimensions as well From the highs and lows of connoisseurship to the frustrations and rewards of a mother encouraging her child to eat the essays in this volume explore the complex and infinitely varied ways in which food matters to all of us Educated Tastes is a collection of new essays that examine how taste is learned developed and represented It spans such diverse topics as teaching wine tasting food in Don Quixote Soviet cookbooks cruel foods and the lambic beers of the Belgian Payottenland A set of key themes connect these topics the relationships between taste and place how our knowledge of food shapes taste experiences how gustatory discrimination functions as a marker of social difference and the place of ethical environmental and political concerns in debates around the importance and meaning of taste With essays that address variously the connections between food drink and music the place of food in the development of Italian nationhood and the role of morality in aesthetic judgment Educated Tastes offers a fresh look at food in history society and culture Fried Walleye and Cherry

Global Jewish Foodways Hasia R. Diner, Simone Cinotto, 2018-06 The history of the Jewish people has been a history of migration Although Jews invariably brought with them their traditional ideas about food during these migrations just as invariably they engaged with the foods they encountered in their new environments Their culinary habits changed as a result of both these migrations and the new political and social realities they encountered The stories in this volume examine the sometimes bewildering kaleidoscope of food experiences generated by new social contacts trade political revolutions wars and migrations both voluntary and compelled This panoramic history of Jewish food highlights its breadth and depth on a global scale from Renaissance Italy to the post World War II era in Israel Argentina and the United States and critically examines the impact of food on Jewish lives and on the complex set of laws practices and procedures that constitutes the Jewish dietary system and regulates what can be eaten when how and with whom Global Jewish Foodways offers a fresh perspective on how historical changes through migration settlement and accommodation transformed Jewish food and customs

The Grapes of Conquest Julia Ornelas-Higdon,2023-11 Honorable Mention for the 2024 OAH Frederick Jackson Turner Award California's wine country conjures images of pastoral vineyards and cellars lined with oak barrels As a mainstay of the state's economy California wines occupy the popular imagination like never before and drive tourism in famous viticultural regions across the state Scholars know remarkably little however about the history of the wine industry and the diverse groups who built it In fact contemporary stereotypes belie how the state's commercial wine industry was born amid social turmoil and racialized violence in eighteenth and nineteenth century California In The Grapes of Conquest Julia Ornelas Higdon addresses these gaps in the historical narrative and popular imagination Beginning with the industry's inception at the California missions Ornelas Higdon examines the evolution of wine growing across three distinct political regimes Spanish Mexican and American through the industry's demise after Prohibition This interethnic study of race and labor in California examines how California Natives Mexican Californios Chinese immigrants and Euro Americans came together to build the industry Ornelas Higdon identifies the birth of the wine industry as a significant missing piece of California history one that reshapes scholars' understandings of how conquest played out how race and citizenship were constructed and how agribusiness emerged across the region The Grapes of Conquest unearths the working class multiracial roots of the California wine industry challenging its contemporary identity as the purview of elite populations

!Vino! Karl J. Trybus,2023-10 Vino explores the history and identity of Spanish wine production from the mid nineteenth century to today Nineteenth century infestations of oidium fungus and phylloxera aphids devastated French and Italian vineyards but didn't extend to the Iberian Peninsula at first giving Spanish vintners the opportunity to increase their international sales. Once French and Italian wineries rebounded however Spanish wine producers had to up their game. Spain could not produce only table wine it needed a quality product to compete with the supposedly superior French wines. After the Spanish Civil War the totalitarian Franco regime turned its attention to Spain's devastated agricultural sector but the country's wine industry did not rebound until well after World War II. In the postwar years it rebranded itself to compete in a more integrated European and international marketplace with the creation of a new wine identity. As European integration continued Spanish wine producers and the tourism industry worked together to promote the uniqueness of Spain and the quality of its wines.

Karl J Trybus explores the development of Spanish wine in the context of national and global events tracing how the wine industry has fared and ultimately prospered despite civil war regional concerns foreign problems and changing tastes.

Corkscrewed Robert V. Camuto, 2008-11-01 Robert V Camuto's interest in wine turned into a passion when he moved to France and began digging into local soils and cellars. Corkscrewed recounts Camuto's journey through France's myriad regions and how the journey brought about a profound change in everything he believed about wine. The world of great wines was once dominated by great Bordeaux châteaux. As those châteaux were bought up by moguls and international corporations the heart of French winemaking moved into the realm of small producers whose wines reflect the stunning diversity of regional environment soil and culture terroir. In this book we follow Camuto across France as he works harvesting grapes in Alsace learns about wine and bombs in Corsica and eats and drinks his way through the world's greatest bacchanalia in Burgundy. Along the route he discovers a new generation of winemakers who have rejected chemicals additives and technologically altered wines. His book charts an odyssey into this new world of French wine a world of biodynamic winegrowing herbal treatments lunar cycles and grape varieties long ago dismissed as difficult. A celebration of the diversity that makes French wine more than a mere commodity Camuto's work is a delightful look beyond the supermarket to the various flavors offered by the true vintners of France.
