Provocation and Negotiation. Gesche Ipsen, Timothy Mathews, Dragana Obradovic, 2013 This collection of essays takes on two of the most pressing questions that face the discipline of Comparative Literature today Why compare and Where do we go from here At a difficult economic time when universities all over the world once again have to justify the social as well as academic value of their work it is crucial that we consider the function of comparison itself in reaching across disciplinary and cultural boundaries The essays written for this book are by researchers from all over the world and range in topic from the problem of translating biblical Hebrew to modern atheism from Freud to Marlene van Niekerk from the formation of one person's identity to experiences of globalisation and the relation of history to fiction Together they display the ground breaking ideas which lie at the heart of an act as deceptively simple as comparing one piece of writing to another

Qualitative Analysis in the Making Daniella Kuzmanovic, Andreas Bandak, 2014-10-10 How do scholars transform qualitative data into analysis What does making analysis imply What happens in the space in between data and finalized analysis is notoriously difficult to talk about In other parts of the research process scholars and students are aided by method books that describe the technicalities of generating processing and sorting through data handbooks that teach academic writing and scholarly works that offer meta level theoretical perspectives Yet the path from qualitative data to analysis remains a black box Qualitative Analysis in the Making ventures into this black box The volume provides a means of speaking about how analyses emerge in the Humanities Contributors from disciplines such as anthropology history and sociology of religion all employ an analytical double take They revisit one of their analyses analyzing how this particular analysis came into being Such analyses of an analysis are neither confessions nor step by step recounts of what happened Rather the volume argues that speaking of the space in between requires analytical displacement and the employment of fresh analytical takes This approach contributes to demystifying the path from qualitative data to finalized analysis It invites novel epistemological reflections among scholars and assists students in improving their analytical skills

Flora White Linda C. Morice,2016-10-31 Flora White In the Vanguard of Gender Equity draws on a collection of personal papers only recently made available to scholars to present the life of a colorful New England educator who lived from the Civil War to the Cold War Throughout her career White worked to promote the physical and intellectual growth of girls and young women beyond the narrow gender stereotypes of the day Although White's name is not a household word this book represents a newer form of biography in which the life of a lesser known individual serves as a lens for understanding larger social and cultural developments In Flora White's case this newer biographical approach produced findings to inform research in both educational history and gender studies For example White's papers correct some longstanding misconceptions about the origins of the progressive education movement and the role women played in it White's sources also shed light on the complicated relationships of educated but marginalized U S women and the prominent men who mentored them In addition White's papers show that in order to protect herself from those who might find her words objectionable she used coded language such as poetry to counter sexist stereotypes and advance her desire for a fuller life for her students and herself Although upon her death a newspaper obituary praised White for being recognized by men of note in educational circles her efforts to promote the physical and intellectual development of girls and women helped to create opportunity that is still unfolding today
