Jones, 2012-12-06 The backbone of in patient care is the hospital ward and I believe that this will remain so in the future Shortcomings in the staffing organization and layout of the conventional ward have been recognized for a long time but there have been few changes and not all these have benefited the patient The evolution of specialized treatment centres for poliomyelitis thoracic surgery burns and so on showed the need for a new staffing structure a re organization of patient care and of secondary importance new forms of accommodation These regional or referral centres serve large populations or areas and are collectively known as specialized intensive care or therapy units The idea of using similar principles of staffing organization and facilities to serve each large district hospital came much later 1959 and was first applied in the United States Thus the general intensive care unit was born a unit which would treat critically ill patients irrespective of the nature of their disease in sharp contrast to the specialized intensive care unit The staffing structure and technologies of the two are however similar Specialized intensive care consists of a single speciality or two specialities for example thoracic surgery and thoracic anaesthesia General intensive care cannot be a speciality because it embraces the whole of acute medicine acute surgery accident surgery toxicology and many more individual specialities This very diversity makes it difficult to organize but interesting to perform Oh's Intensive Care Manual E-Book Andrew D Bersten, Jonathan Handy, 2013-10-31 Whether you're a newcomer to the ICU or a seasoned practitioner Oh's Intensive Care Manual delivers the practical expert

Data And Society Paul Beynon-davies,2021-07-27 Most literature thinks of the relationship between data and society as additive meaning that data and society are seen as two separate sets of things but which overlap to form an intersection The literature then goes off to unpack the intersection of the two circles and partners the term data in this manner with terms descriptive of the domain of society ownership control surveillance and privacy to name but a few Within this book we want to promote an alternative viewpoint of the relationship between data and society Rather than explaining how data fits with or contributes to some burning societal issues we want to explain how data is constitutive of many such issues The term constitutive is used here in the sense of data having power to institute establish or enact society Our viewpoint means that if you are to properly understand the constitutive nature of data you must start from first principles and closely examine the nature of data itself You must also focus on the mechanics of data how data is represented and articulated in records or more generally in data structures Our aim in doing this is to examine the place of data structures across cultures and societies In doing so we hope to better understand why we as humans make records In doing this we can also better understand some of the unintended consequences of the use of records which particularly plague us in the modern world Clinical teaching and practice in intensive care medicine and anesthesiology Longxiang Su,Matthieu Komorowski,Le Shen,Ignacio Martin-Loeches,2023-09-19
