

HOW TO SING BETTER... INSTANTLY!

singerssecret.com

Sing in tune.

The note you are singing is just one out of a chord. It doesn't matter how well you sing that note, if it is wrong it will clash with the other notes in the chord and it will sound bad. Singing in tune is crucial!

Pick songs that are in your vocal range.

Go for notes that you know you can hit. Do simple songs really well rather than more difficult songs that contain notes you might not be able to reach.

Sing like yourself, not like the recording artist.

Your unique voice is what makes you stand out. Just sing like you and don't try to copy someone else.

Open your mouth.

Your mouth is the exit point for your sound. Keeping a nice open mouth will let the sound ring out clearly and makes an instant difference to your tone.

Sing the words clearly.

Make sure you sing all your lyrics clearly so the audience can hear what you are saying and get involved in the song. That emotional connection to the music will make you memorable as a singer.

How To Become A Singer The Ultimate Starters Guide:

The Opera Singer's Career Guide Pearl Yeadon McGinnis, 2010-08-12 Any singer longing to have a career in opera particularly in Europe should be familiar with the European system of classifying voices known as Fach. The Opera Singer's Career Guide: Understanding the European Fach System presents valuable information to help readers learn, understand, and use the Fach system to their professional advantage. More than just soprano, alto, tenor, or bass, students and professionals alike should know the 25 different Fach categories fully defined here, along with the examples of roles, audition arias, and European opera houses and agents provided. Based on careful research and personal experience, singer and teacher Pearl Yeadon McGinnis describes the features, characteristics, and benefits of the Fach system, including voice categorization and classification, and using Fach to train the young voice. She provides practical information on maintaining a career in opera, such as the different types, procedures, and pitfalls of opera auditions; types of opera contracts and contract negotiations; and the value of networking. She explains the different styles of European opera houses and gives an example of life in a state-level German opera house, including the various performance spaces, the makeup, and responsibilities of an ensemble, and the jobs and functions of opera house personnel. A glossary and several appendixes supply tools for auditioning, such as newly classified roles for Children, Lyric, and Beginner singers; roles for the established Fach categories; lists of opera agents and houses in the German-speaking countries; and suggested audition arias by Fach. In addition, practical details are offered about establishing and maintaining residency in Europe, obtaining permission to live and work in Europe, and helpful hints about customs and travel.
