Mediating Nature Sidney I. Dobrin, Sean Morey, 2019-10-31 Mediating Nature considers how technology acts as a mediating device in the construction and circulation of images that inform how we see and know nature Scholarship in environmental communication has focused almost exclusively on verbal rather than visual rhetoric and this book engages ecocritical and ecocompositional inquiry to shift focus onto the making of images Contributors to this dynamic collection focus their efforts on the intersections of digital media and environmental ecological thinking Part of the book's larger argument is that analysis of mediations of nature must develop more critical tools of analysis toward the very mediating technologies that produce such media That is to truly understand mediations of nature one needs to understand the creation and production of those mediations right down to the algorithms circuit boards and power sources that drive mediating technologies Ultimately Mediating Nature contends that ecological literacy and environmental politics are inseparable from digital literacies and visual rhetorics The book will be of interest to scholars and students working in the fields of Ecocriticism Ecocomposition Media Ecology Visual Rhetoric and Digital Literacy Studies

How to Get Kids to do What You Want Bill Crawford, Ph.D., 2002-09. What is solution-focused parenting, and how can it help you get your kids to do what you want? In other words, why should you read this book? The purpose of this book is simply to help you become more powerful and influential in the life of your child. Sound, appealing. The approach is designed to help you focus your time and energy on teaching your kids what you want them to learn. In addition to helping you conserve and best utilize your time and energy, the solution-focused approach is also designed to minimize your child's resistance to hearing and learning from what you have to say. This book isn't about a miracle cure or magic potion that will turn your kids into little beings that hang on your every word and live to do your bidding. It is simply a model for interacting with them in a way that keeps you from getting caught in a power struggle that puts you at odds with children. Shows you how to tap into your children's internal motivation to hear what you have to say as valuable. Reinforces the values and qualities that you want them to have as adults. This book goes a long way to establishing the sort of relationship where children actually hear what their parents are saying and even look to
