How To Get The Most Out Of Attending A Conference:

How to Get the Most Out of Attending a Conference Shawn Collins, 2013-12 Do you remember how you felt on the first day at a new school If you were like me it was equal parts anxiety dread and disorientation Lots of people milling around and they all seemed to know each other but I didn t know any of them It was similar the first time I went to a conference I was rushed through the check in line given my badge and attendee bag and just pushed on to figure things out I didn t know who was who it was a blur of nametags racing by me But where were they all going I had no idea I felt like I was a stranger in a strange land So I sat in a corner put on some headphones and dug into my bag of conference information There was a schedule with lots of things going on at the same time and I didn t know where to begin My eyes glazed over and I felt sort of helpless When it came time for lunch I left the hotel and grabbed some food at a local restaurant by myself I don t think I really talked to anybody at the whole conference One big problem was that I went into the whole thing without a plan I just showed up and expected I d just magically get it My lack of advance planning made the time spent there as well as the money for the trip into a big waste When I got back to the office I told the boss how lame it was and how I wouldn t recommend returning next year The next time I was sent to a conference I made sure to do some homework in advance to figure out who I might want to meet as well as educational sessions that might benefit me It was a far more worthwhile use of my time I came to realize that going to a conference is an investment rather than an expense It s not just an investment of money but time too But when you do take the time to maximize the opportunities the experience can be fulfilling and prosperous After I understood that there were two reasons for me to attend these sorts of events networking and education I became better and better at planning and organizing my time The whole process of attending a conference isn t limited to the time you are physically there with a badge around your neck In order to make the most of it there are things you can and should be doing before during and after the conference Over the years I ve worked up lots of strategies and learned things from other folks to get the maximum value from attending conferences When Missy Ward and I started up the Affiliate Summit conference in 2003 we crafted it based on our frustrations and experiences as conference attendees and we ve evolved things over the years to make it the best environment we can for the people who attend However it's still up to the individual attendee to seize opportunities and get the most out of the experience Enjoy Your Science Meeting!: A Practical Guide To Getting The Most Out Of Attending Scientific Conferences Elizabeth M Fisher, Richard C Thompson, 2019-09-16 The book provides a practical and readable guide to getting the most out of attending a scientific conference The topics covered include writing an abstract preparing and presenting a poster or talk chairing a session making good use of poster and oral sessions and networking Also included is practical advice on registering for a conference and planning travel Aimed primarily at PhD students who are attending their first conference it is also relevant to junior postdoctoral scientists Different types of scientific conferences are discussed together with their distinct roles in the development of a scientific career After reading
