Gender and Succession in Medieval and Early Modern Islam Alyssa Gabbay, 2020-03-19 In Gender and Succession in Medieval and Early Modern Islam Bilateral Descent and the Legacy of Fatima Alyssa Gabbay examines episodes in pre modern Islamic history in which individuals or societies recognized descent from both men and women Fatima daughter of the Prophet Muhammad features prominently in this study for her example constituted a striking precedent for acknowledging bilateral descent in both Sunni and Shi'i societies with all of its ramifications for female inheritance succession and identity Covering a broad geographical and chronological swath Gender and Succession in Medieval and Early Modern Islam presents alternative perspectives to patriarchal narratives and breaks new ground in its focus upon how people conceived of family structures and bloodlines In so doing it builds upon a tradition of studies seeking to dispel monolithic understandings of Islam and Gender

Beyond Sectarianism Tehseen Thaver, 2024-05-14 In this groundbreaking book Tehseen Thaver offers a fundamental reevaluation of how one should think about the relationship between the Qur'an Shi'ism and religious identity Beyond Sectarianism focuses on the literary Arabic Qur'an exegesis of the highly influential yet less studied poet historian and exegete al Sharif al Radi d 1015 Al Radi's fascinating interpretations sought to resolve Qur'anic ambiguities or mutashabihat Through a philologically layered and historically attuned analysis Thaver argues that al Radi's efforts at resolving Qur'anic ambiguities were interlocked with the project of the canonization of the Arabic language Although he was marked as a Shi'i scholar the interpretive and political horizons that informed al Radi's scholarly endeavors could not be reduced to predetermined templates of sectarian identity Rather Thaver argues al Radi was an active participant and beneficiary of critical intellectual currents and debates that animated the wider Muslim humanities during his life especially on questions of language poetry and theology Thaver thus leads her readers to reconsider their assumptions about the interaction of sectarian identity and scriptural interpretation in the study of Islam and religion Though centered on the context of late tenth and eleventh century Baghdad under the Buyid dynasty Beyond Sectarianism raises and addresses crucial questions of religious thought and identity with major ramifications for how we imagine the narrative of Islam and the place of sectarianism in it today

Islam and its Past Carol Bakhtos, Michael Cook, 2017-06-03 Islam and its Past J. Hiliyya Late Antiquity and the Qur'an brings together scholars from various disciplines and fields to consider Islamic revelation with particular focus on the Qur'an. The collection provides a wide ranging survey of the development and current state of Qur'anic studies in the Western academy. It shows how interest in the field has recently grown, how the ways in which it is cultivated have changed, how it has ramified, and how difficult it now is for any one scholar to keep abreast of it. Chapters explore the milieu in which the Meccan component of the Qur'an made its appearance. The general question is what we can say about that milieu by combining a careful reading of the relevant parts of the Qur'an with what we know about the religious trends of Late Antiquity in Arabia and elsewhere. More specifically, the issue is what we can learn in this way about the manner in which the polytheists of the Qur'an related to the Jewish and Christian traditions: were they Godfearers in the sense familiar from the study of ancient Judaism? It looks at the Qur'an as a text of Late Antiquity, not just considering those features of it that could be seen as normal in that context, but also identifying what is innovative about it against the Late Antique background. Here the focus is on the believers rather than the polytheists. The volume also engages in different ways with notions of monotheism in pre-Islamic Arabia. This collection provides a broad survey of what has been happening in the field and concrete illustrations of some of the more innovative lines of research that have recently been pursued.

While the principal aim of the handbook is to provide a guide to the philosophical literature on forgiveness that ideally will inform the psychological sciences in developing more philosophically accurate measures and psychological treatments of forgiveness, the volume will be of interest to students and researchers with a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds, including philosophy, psychology, theology, religious studies, classics, history, politics, law, and education.

Women and Gender in the Qur'an Celene Ibrahim, 2020. Stories related to gendered social relations permeate the Qur'an, and nearly three hundred verses involve specific women or girls. These stories weave together theology and ethics to reinforce central Qur'anic ideas regarding submission to God and moral accountability. Women and Gender in the Qur'an outlines how women and girls, old, young, barren, fertile, chaste, profligate, reproachable, and saintly, enter Qur'anic sacred history and advance the Qur'an's overarching didactic aims.
