How To Build Resilience To Conflict The Role Of Food Security:

HOW TO BUILD RESILIENCE TO CONFLICT Breisinger, Clemens,Ecker, Olivier,Maystadt, Jean-François,Trinh Tan, Jean-François,Al-Riffai, Perrihan,Bouzar, Khalida,Sma, Abdelkarim,Abdelgadir, Mohamed,2014-09-30 This Food Policy Report explains why there is a need to place even higher priority on food security related policies and programs in conflict prone countries and offers insights for policymakers regarding how to do so To understand the relationship between conflict and food security this report builds a new conceptual framework of food security and applies it to four case studies on Egypt Somalia Sudan and Yemen It argues that food security related policies and programs build resilience to conflict insofar as they are expected not only to help countries and people cope with and recover from conflict but also to contribute to preventing conflicts and support economic development more broadly by helping countries and people become even better off

Building resilience to conflict through food security policies and programs: An overview Clemens Breisinger,Olivier Ecker,Jean-Francois Maystadt,Jean-Francois Trinh Tan,Perrihan Al-Riffai,Khalida Bouzar,Abdelkarim Sma,Mohamed Abdelgadir, One and a half billion people still live in fragile conflict affected areas People in these countries are about twice as likely to be malnourished and to die during infancy as people in other developing countries 2 This outcome is often a direct consequence of conflict conflict reduces food availability by destroying agricultural assets and infrastructure

Building resilience to conflict through food security policies and programs Breisinger, Clemens Ecker, Olivier,Maystadt, Jean-François,Trinh Tan, Jean-François,Al-Riffai Perrihan,Bouzar, Khalida,Sma, Abdelkarim,Abdelgadir, Mohamed,2014-04-30 Food insecurity at the national and household level not only is a consequence of conflict but can also cause and drive conflicts This paper makes the case for an even higher priority for food security related policies and programs in conflict prone countries Such policies and programs have the potential to build resilience to conflict by not only helping countries and people cope with and recover from conflict but also contributing to preventing conflicts and supporting economic development more broadly that is helping countries and people become even better off Based on this definition and a new conceptual framework the paper offers several insights from four case studies on Egypt Somalia Sudan and Yemen First conflicts are often related to other shocks such as economic crises price shocks and natural disasters Second increasing subsidies is a favored policy measure in times of crisis however such measures do not qualify as resilience building Third climate change adaptation should be an integral part of conflict prevention in part because climate change is expected to significantly increase the likelihood of conflict in the future Fourth building price information systems introducing and expanding credit and insurance markets geographic targeting of social safety nets and building functioning and effective institutions are key measures for building resilience to conflict Finally the paper points to several important knowledge gaps

Food and Sustainability in the Twenty-First Century Paul Collinson,Iain Young,Lucy Antal,Helen Macbeth,2019-06-06 Sustainability is one of the great problems facing food production today Using cross disciplinary perspectives from international scholars working in social cultural and biological anthropology ecology and environmental biology this volume brings many new perspectives to the problems we face Its cross disciplinary framework of chapters with local regional and continental perspectives provides a global outlook on sustainability issues These case studies will appeal to those working in public sector agencies NGOs consultancies and other bodies focused on food security human nutrition and environmental sustainability

2018 Global food policy report International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI),2018-03-20 IFPRI s flagship report reviews the major food policy issues developments and decisions of 2017 and highlights challenges and opportunities for 2018 at the global and regional levels This year s report looks at the impacts of greater global integration including the movement of goods investment people and knowledge and the threat of current antiglobalization pressures Drawing on recent research IFPRI researchers and other distinguished food policy experts consider a range of timely topics How can the global food system deliver food security for all in the face of the radical changes taking place today What is the role of trade in improving food security nutrition and sustainability How can international investment best contribute to local food security and better food systems in developing countries Do voluntary and involuntary migration increase or decrease food security in source countries and host countries What opportunities does greater data availability open up for improving agriculture and food security How does reform of developed country farm support policies affect global food security How can global governance structures better address problems of food security and nutrition What major trends and events affected food security and nutrition across the globe in 2017 The 2018 Global Food Policy Report also presents data tables and visualizations for several key food policy indicators including country level data on hunger agricultural spending and research investment and projections for future agricultural production and consumption In addition to illustrative figures tables and a timeline of food policy events in 2017 the report includes the results of a global opinion poll on globalization and the current state of food policy

Highlights of the IFPRI and IFAD partnership International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI),2016-10-05 The International Fund for Agricultural Development IFAD and the International Food Policy Research Institute IFPRI were both created in response to the food crises of the 1970s We have worked together for more than 20 years to catalyze agricultural and rural development and improve food security in Africa Asia and Latin America IFAD and IFPRI have strengthened the productivity and resilience of smallholder farmers and other rural people with a particular focus on helping expand their access to innovative local farming methods climate change mitigation and adaptation technologies and financing and more profitable markets To further promote rural development and transformation IFAD and IFPRI have built cutting edge information systems and tools that deliver sound data and analyses to governments donors farmer organizations and other stakeholders As a result the two organizations have fostered evidence based policy making and investments that promote agricultural growth and rural development

The relationships between food security and violent conflicts: Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-10-10 This study presents an overview of the 12 year civil conflict in the country It analyses how conflict affected food security in both war and post war periods and presents policy recommendations to improve it through greater access to land or monitoring of displaced people

Africa - Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition 2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,European Commission on Agriculture,African Union Commission,2020-02-07 In the 2017 and 2018 editions of the Africa Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition FAO reported that the prevalence of undernourishment was rising in the region The latest data shows that the deterioration has slowed but there remain 256 million hungry people in Africa today The report further documents that although many African countries are making progress towards reducing malnutrition progress is too slow to meet six key nutrition targets which form part of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs monitoring framework and the World Health Assembly global nutrition targets Food insecurity has been rising in Africa in recent years and the continent is not on track to eliminate hunger by 2030 The 2017 2018 and this year s report identify and report in detail on conflict climate extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns as the key drivers of the rise in food insecurity In most cases the economic slowdowns and downturns that contributed to rising undernourishment in 2014 2018 were the result of commodity price falls Many effective policy tools are available but their adoption will depend on the availability of fiscal space to effect the desired policy action In the longer term countries must develop policies and invest to achieve a more diversified economy and achieve an inclusive structural transformation However sustained economic growth is not enough reducing inequalities including gender based and spatial inequalities is essential to strengthening household resilience laying the path to inclusive growth and reducing food insecurity and tackling the multiple forms of malnutrition

Emerging Security Threats in the Middle East Ashok

Swain, Anders Jägerskog, 2016-04-12 Increasingly the Middle East and its growing population face a highly complex and fragile security system The rich deposits of natural resources such as oil and gas suffer from a strained renewable resource base that includes water and arable land This leads to water scarcity desertification and land degradation Increasing population industrialization and urbanization put more and more demand on the food supply Energy insecurity may not be generally associated with the Middle East but the countries in the eastern Mediterranean part have been traditionally vulnerable to it as their fossil fuel endowments have been low Another issue is the large scale temporary labor migration and the large number of forced migrants refugees and internally displaced persons The book analyzes these emerging security challenges in a comprehensive and systematic manner It draws national and regional security issues into both the global security and human security perspectives FAO: Challenges and Opportunities in a Global World Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-05-01 This illustrated volume identifies the challenges and opportunities facing food and agriculture in the context of the 2030 Agenda presents solutions for a more sustainable world and shows how FAO has been working in recent years to support its Member Nations in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals Sowing the seeds of peace for food security Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-10-29 This study looks at the causal relationship by which conflict triggers food crises and food insecurity e g by disrupting distribution networks which in turn perpetuate violence It proposes intervention mechanisms including regular cash transfers for improving food security and sustaining peace Food Security Policy, Evaluation and Impact Assessment Sheryl L. Hendriks, 2019-12-06 This book offers an essential comprehensive yet accessible reference of contemporary food security discourse and guides readers through the steps required for food security analysis Food insecurity is a major obstacle to development and achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals It is a complex issue that cuts across traditional sectors in government and disciplines in academia Understanding how multiple elements cause and influence food security is essential for policymakers practitioners and scholars This book demonstrates how evaluation can integrate the four elements of food security availability access nutrition and resilience and offers practical tools for policy and programme impact assessment to support evidence based planning Aimed at researchers postgraduates and those undertaking professional development in food studies agricultural economics rural development nutrition and public health the book is key reading for those seeking to understand evidence based food security analysis Africa regional overview of food security and nutrition 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, African Union Commission, 2021-06-29 Africa is not on track to meeting the Sustainable Development Goal SDG 2 targets to end hunger and ensure access by all people to safe nutritious and sufficient food all year round and to end all forms of malnutrition The number of hungry people on the continent has risen by 47.9 million since 2014 and now stands at 250.3 million or nearly one fifth of the population The 2017 2018 and 2019 editions of this report explain that this gradual deterioration of food security was due to conflict weather extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns often overlapping A continued worsening of food security is expected also for 2020 as a result of the COVID 19 pandemic In addition to hunger across all countries in Africa millions of people suffer from widespread micronutrient deficiencies and overweight and obesity are emerging as significant health concerns in many countries This report shows that the food system in Africa does not provide food at a cost that makes nutritious food affordable to a majority of the population and this is reflected in the high disease burden associated with maternal and child malnutrition high body mass micronutrient deficiencies and dietary risk factors The report also shows that current food consumption patterns impose high health and environmental costs which are not reflected in food prices The findings presented in this report highlight the importance of prioritizing the transformation of food systems to ensure access to affordable and healthy diets for all produced in a sustainable manner

The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2021 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, 2021-07-12 In recent years several major drivers have put the world off track to ending world hunger and malnutrition in all its forms by 2030 The challenges have grown with the COVID 19 pandemic and related containment measures This report presents the first global assessment of food insecurity and malnutrition for 2020 and offers some indication of what hunger might look like by 2030 in a scenario further complicated by the enduring effects of the COVID 19 pandemic It also includes new estimates of the cost and affordability of healthy diets which provide an important link between the food security and nutrition indicators and the analysis of their trends Altogether the report highlights the need for a deeper reflection on how to better address the global food security and nutrition situation To understand how hunger and malnutrition have reached these critical levels this report draws on the analyses of the past four editions which have produced a vast evidence based body of knowledge of the major drivers behind the recent changes in food security and nutrition These drivers which are increasing in frequency and intensity include conflicts climate variability and extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns all exacerbated by the underlying causes of poverty and very high and persistent levels of inequality In addition millions of people around the world suffer from food insecurity and different forms of malnutrition because they cannot afford the cost of healthy diets From a synthesized understanding of this knowledge updates and additional analyses are generated to create a holistic view of the combined effects of these drivers both on each other and on food systems and how they negatively affect food security and nutrition around the world In turn the evidence informs an in depth look at how to move from silo solutions to integrated food systems solutions In this regard the report proposes transformative pathways that specifically address the challenges posed by the major drivers also highlighting the types of policy and investment portfolios required to transform food systems for food security improved nutrition and affordable healthy diets for all The report observes that while the pandemic has caused major setbacks there is much to be learned from the vulnerabilities and inequalities it has laid bare If taken to heart these new insights and wisdom can help get the world back on track towards the goal of ending hunger food insecurity and malnutrition in all its forms Food security, Nutrition and Peace Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-06-20 Proceedings of the United Nations Security Council Arria Formula meeting on Food Nutrition and Peace co hosted by the Permanent Missions of Angola and Spain to the United Nations on 29 March 2016 in New York USA The Arria formula allowed for an informal and fruitful conversation on the topic The FAO Director General opened by providing a broad overview on the topic followed by concrete examples illustrating the links between food insecurity and conflict noting issues that need to be addressed moving forward This publication prepared by FAO offers the opportunity to further reflect on this issue Food security and nutrition and food security related interventions can contribute to conflict prevention and conflict mitigation by building and enhancing social cohesion addressing root causes or drivers of conflict and by contributing to the legitimacy of and trust in governments Food security can support peace building efforts and peace building can reinforce food security The linkages between migration, agriculture, food security and rural development Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,International Fund for Agricultural Development,International Organization for Migration,World Food Programme,2018 Migration has contributed to the society we live in today and as such it is part of our shared history Both the causes and the consequences are multifaceted and complicated While many people leave their homes as a result of conflict or poverty others move under conditions of peace political stability and development A large share of international migrants originated from rural areas This is an important part of the structural transformation of an economy and is an important part of the structural transformation of an economy Examining the complex interlinkages of migration with agriculture This report examines the existing literature and provides evidence from both developed and developing countries focusing on why people from rural areas decide to migrate It explores the drivers of migration both international and internal and aims to deepen our understanding of the interlinkages with agriculture food security and rural development This report assesses the impact of migration on countries of origin and destination focusing on rural areas and the agricultural sector It discusses how agricultural and social policies can address challenges and capitalize on opportunities created by migration trends Rural Migration in the Near East and North Africa - Regional trends Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-06-25 The Near East and North Africa NENA has always been affected and in many ways shaped by the high levels of human mobility However rural migration or migration to from and between rural areas is often overlooked despite its important ramifications for food security agriculture rural development and regional disparities In the next decade persistent poverty climatic threats and increasing competition for natural resources may fuel greater levels of migration across NENA countries This report was designed to provide policy makers practitioners and development partners with an overview of the main challenges and opportunities of rural migration in the NENA region From famine to food security: Lessons for building resilient food systems Dorosh, Paul A., Babu, Suresh Chandra, 2017-07-03 Armed conflict combined with prolonged drought has put about 20 million people at risk of starvation and death in Somalia South Sudan Yemen and northern Nigeria The international development and aid communities are caught between the enormity of the humanitarian crisis which demands an estimated US 4 4 billion to address and the lack of resources forthcoming from donors Food crises famine like conditions and famines recur with regularity in many developing countries see Box 1 for definitions of terms Although the current famines can be largely attributed to conflicts chronic food insecurity also threatens several other African countries For example 6 7 million people were affected by Malawi s largest food crisis in decades in 2016 2017 and the country remains vulnerable to weather extremes that could create food emergencies World Bank 2017 In Kenya food security has deteriorated since the end of 2016 and half of its 47 counties face food shortages Chatterjee and Mengistu 2017 How do countries prepare to prevent shocks natural and man made from generating food crises What does it take to break the cycle of chronic food insecurity and build resilient food systems How have some countries managed to prevent drought from leading to famine In this brief we document lessons for building resilient food systems to prevent future famines
