as this volume makes plain such views blind us to some of its most extraordinary qualities and limit our understanding not only of one of the world's great capital cities but also of the wider social cultural and political dynamics of early modern Europe. As the centre of Spanish colonial power within Europe during the vicerealty and with a population second only to Paris in early modern Europe, Naples is a city that deserves serious study. Further as a Habsburg dominion it offers vital points of comparison with non-European sites which were subject to European colonialism. While European colonization outside Europe has received intense scholarly attention, its cultural impact and representation within Europe remain underexplored. Too much has been taken for granted. Too few questions have been posed. In the sphere of the visual arts, investigation reveals that Neapolitan urbanism, architecture, painting and sculpture were of the highest quality during this period while differing significantly from those of other Italian cities. For long ignored or treated as the subaltern sister of Rome, this urban treasure house is only now receiving the attention from scholars that it has so long deserved. This volume addresses the central paradoxes operating in early modern Italian scholarship. It seeks to illuminate both the historiographical pressures that have marginalized Naples and to showcase important new developments in Neapolitan cultural history and art history. Those developments showcased here include both

The Throne of the Great Mogul in Dresden Dror Wahrman, 2023-04-25. A masterful deciphering of an extraordinary art object illuminating some of the biggest questions of the eighteenth century. The Throne of the Great Mogul 1701-8 is a unique work of European decorative art, an intricate miniature of the court of the Mughal emperor Aurangzeb depicted during the emperor's birthday celebrations. It was created by the jeweler Johann Melchior Dinglinger in Dresden and purchased by the Saxon prince Augustus the Strong for an enormous sum. Constructed like a theatrical set made of gold, silver, thousands of gemstones and amazing enamel work, it consists of 164 pieces that together tell a detailed story. Why did Dinglinger invest so much time and effort in making this piece? Why did Augustus, in the midst of a political and financial crisis, purchase it? And why did the jeweler secrete in it messages wholly unrelated to the prince or to the Great Mogul? In answering these questions, Dror Wahrman, while shifting scales from microhistory to global history, opens a window onto major historical themes of the period: the nature of European absolutism.

the princely politics of the Holy Roman Empire the changing meaning of art in the West the surprising emergence of a cross continental lexicon of rulership shared across the Eastern Hemisphere and the enactment in jewels and gold of quirky contemporary theories about the global history of religion
