The Practice of Crowdsourcing Omar Alonso, 2022-06-01 Many data intensive applications that use machine learning or artificial intelligence techniques depend on humans providing the initial dataset enabling algorithms to process the rest or for other humans to evaluate the performance of such algorithms Not only can labeled data for training and evaluation be collected faster cheaper and easier than ever before but we now see the emergence of hybrid human machine software that combines computations performed by humans and machines in conjunction There are however real world practical issues with the adoption of human computation and crowdsourcing Building systems and data processing pipelines that require crowd computing remains difficult In this book we present practical considerations for designing and implementing tasks that require the use of humans and machines in combination with the goal of producing high quality labels Toward a

Practice of Autonomous Systems Francisco J. Varela, Paul Bourguin, 1992-04-02 Artificial life embodies a recent and important conceptual step in modern science asserting that the core of intelligence and cognitive abilities is the same as the capacity for living The recent surge of interest in artificial life has pushed a whole range of engineering traditions such as control theory and robotics beyond classical notions of goal and planning into biologically inspired notions of viability and adaptation situatedness and operational closure These proceedings serve two important functions they address bottom up theories of artificial intelligence and explore what can be learned from simple models such as insects about the cognitive processes and characteristic autonomy of living organisms while also engaging researchers and philosophers in an exciting examination of the epistemological basis of this new trend Topics Artificial Animals Genetic Algorithms Autonomous Systems Emergent Behaviors Artificial Ecologies Immunologic Algorithms Self Adapting Systems Emergent Structures Emotion And Motivation Neural Networks Coevolution Fitness Landscapes Contributors H Bersini Domenico Parisi Rodney A Brooks Christopher G Langton S Kauffman J L Denenbourg Pattie Maes John Holland T Smithersm H Swefel H Muhlenbein The Long Night of Dark Intent Irving Louis Horowitz, 2011 The Cuban Revolution of 1959 was a benchmark of triumph and a harbinger of tragedy to come Rather than herald a new era of Cuba joining the world community of nations as a paragon of democracy as many fervently hoped and believed it would it became instead a new stage in authoritarian rule in the Western hemisphere For more than a half century since then Cuba has been defined by the capacity of a single family to command and determine the fate of a nation and to do so with a minimum of opposition Incredibly even those professing adherence to democratic norms have been ready to forgive the dictator his excesses This volume explains the theory and practice of this absence of internal opposition and the persistence of external support for the Castro family and its entourage The Long Night of Dark Intent is chronological in order with the author indicating major points in each of the five decades covered The volume covers five centers of system analysis economics politics society military and ideology Who or what determines events and decisions is the stuff of real history It is precisely due to variability in causal chains in society that we have huge variance in levels of predictability The course of the Cuban Revolution gives strong support for such an approach to the Castro Era
