We've all heard the saying money can't buy happiness but what does it actually mean? We often think that if we have all the money to buy the things that we want, take a dream vacation and live in our dream home, then we'll finally be happy. However, money comes from working. We often have to work enough to earn a high income and that is often associated with long work hours and with very little time to spend with loved ones and doing activities that we enjoy. This lack of time can have a negative impact on social relationships and with less time to spend the extra money, this can actually make us more miserable. The truth is that you can have all the money but we can't buy the escape out of an illness. Most of us are not aware of it when we are healthy because we are so busy doing our daily chores and as time goes by we forget what is important for us and that has all kinds of negative consequences to our psychological well-being. In this book, you will discover the connection between money, values and priorities. Undisclosed clues from people who have gone before us. Top nine regrets of patients that are at the end of their life. Power of reframing: a skill that will serve you a lifetime. The truth about happiness. Spending alignment: the one thing that you have to focus on if you want to be happy. Grace will teach you how to shift your beliefs about money using the power of reframing and how to spend in line with your values so you can spend money and feel happy and fulfilled about yourself.
