use of a large variety of flowers and herbs for medical and culinary purposes has just come down the ages to us since ancient times. However, in the early mid 19th century with the rise of industrialization the popularity of herbs began to grow lesser because people started to clear up large tracts of lands on which herbs grew to give way to cities and human settlements. In fact, one great forest in the USA, Lumberlost, made popular in the writings of a writer and naturalist Gene Stratton Porter, was totally destroyed due to the felling of timber. If Teddy Roosevelt was not such an ardent and dedicated naturalist, many of the great green forest areas of the USA which are now natural forest reserves with herbs still present in them would have been destroyed through man's encroachment and greed. So apart from these herbs still available in the wilderness, this book is going to tell you how to make an herb garden in your own house. Thanks to the revival of interest and appreciation of herbs in the 21st century to heal and to cure and to beautify, you people with gardens are realizing the beauty of herbal plants. They are also learning the added pleasure of growing them in their garden so that they can use these herbs freshly picked. People living in flats are raising these herbs on windowsills by planting them in window boxes. In town gardens you can grow them in wooden tubs, boxes, and even in large pots on balconies and in your backyards.
