Henri Lefebvre On Space Architecture Urban Research And The Production Of Theory:

Henri Lefebvre on Space Łukasz Stanek, 2011 In this innovative work Łukasz Stanek frames a uniquely contextual appreciation of Henri Lefebvre's idea that space is a social product Stanek explicitly confronts both the philosophical and the empirical foundations of Lefebvre's oeuvre especially his direct involvement in the fields of urban development planning and architecture Countering the prevailing view which reduces Lefebvre's theory of space to a projection of his philosophical positions Stanek argues that Lefebvre's work grew out of his concrete empirical engagement with everyday practices of dwelling in postwar France and his exchanges with architects and planners Stanek focuses on the interaction between architecture urbanism sociology and philosophy that occurred in France in the 1960s and 1970s which was marked by a shift in the processes of urbanization at all scales from the neighborhood to the global level Lefebvre's thinking was central to this encounter which informed both his theory of space and the concept of urbanization becoming global Stanek offers a deeper and clearer understanding of Lefebvre's thought and its implications for the present day At a time when cities are increasingly important to our political spatial and architectural world this reassessment proposes a new empirical and practical interpretation of Lefebvre's ideas on urbanism Provided by publisher Henri Lefebvre on Space Łukasz Stanek, 2011 Shows how Lefebvre's theory of space developed out of direct engagement with architecture urbanism and urban sociology The Routledge Handbook of Henri Lefebvre, The City and Urban Society Michael E.

Leary-Owhin, John P. McCarthy, 2019-11-21 The Routledge Handbook of Henri Lefebvre The City and Urban Society is the first edited book to focus on Lefebvre's urban theories and ideas from a global perspective making use of recent theoretical and empirical developments with contributions from eminent as well as emergent global scholars The book provides international comparison of Lefebvrian research and theoretical conjecture and aims to engage with and critique Lefebvre's ideas in the context of contemporary urban social and environmental upheavals to use Lefebvre's spatial triad as a research tool as well as a point of departure for the adoption of ideas such as differential space to reassess Lefebvre's ideas in relation to nature and global environmental sustainability and to highlight how a Lefebvrian approach might assist in mobilising resistance to the excesses of globalised neoliberal urbanism The volume draws inspiration from Lefebvre's key texts The Production of Space Critique of Everyday Life and The Urban Revolution and includes a comprehensive introduction and concluding chapter by the editors The conclusions highlight implications in relation to increasing spatial inequalities increasing diversity of needs including those of migrants more authoritarian approaches and asymmetries of access to urban space Above all the book illustrates the continuing relevance of Lefebvre's ideas for contemporary urban issues and shows via global case studies how resistance to spatial domination by powerful interests might be achieved The Handbook helps the reader navigate the complex terrain of spatial research inspired by Lefebvre In particular the Handbook focuses on the series of struggles globally for the right to the city and the collision of debates around the urban age cityism and planetary urbanisation It will be a guide for graduate and advanced undergraduate teaching and a key reference for academics in the fields of Human Geography Sociology Political Science Applied Philosophy Planning Urban Theory and Urban Studies Practitioners and activists in the field will also find the book of relevance

Landscape Theory in Design Susan Herrington, 2016-12-08 Phenomenology Materiality Cybernetics Palimpsest Cyborgs Landscape Urbanism Typology Semiotics Deconstruction the minefield of theoretical ideas that students must navigate today can be utterly confusing and how do these theories translate to the design studio Landscape Theory in Design introduces theoretical ideas to students without the use of jargon or an assumption of extensive knowledge in other fields and in doing so links these ideas to the processes of design In five thematic chapters Susan Herrington explains the theoretic groundings of the theory of philosophy why it matters to design an example of the theory in a work of landscape architecture from the twentieth and twenty first centuries debates surrounding the theory particularly as they elaborate modern and postmodern thought and primary readings that can be read as companions to her text An extensive glossary of theoretical terms also adds a vital contribution to students comprehension of theories relevant to the design of landscapes and gardens Covering the design of over 40 landscape architects architects and designers in 111 distinct projects from 20 different countries Landscape Theory in Design is essential reading for any student of the landscape

Architecture as Communication Ross A. Eaman, 2025-04-08 Media theory has long overlooked the built environment and its communicative capacity how built structures and spaces convey meaning through material embodiment and symbolization Architecture as Communication advances the idea that built environments function as media of communication Using practice theory in conjunction with the concept of style this book is anchored in three historical determinants the quest for perfect proportion in buildings the belief in architectural determinism and the ongoing efforts within other media to influence how those who experience built environments understand them Ross Eaman explores how houses schools places of worship factories office buildings stores malls opera houses plazas and parks have meaning for people as subjective life worlds Architecture as Communication proposes media theory that articulates the social construction of meaning as a unique way of understanding the built environment one in which the users and observers of structures and spaces participate along with architects and designers Architecture according to Eaman encompasses the multiplicity of communication as human interaction preparing people for what they are about to encounter signalling how they should act and selectively enabling them to perform their expected role Using examples across many historical periods and cultures Architecture as Communication argues that we judge our built environments by the values they communicate

Metamorphosis of Buddhism in China's New Era David L. Wank, Ji Zhe, Yoshiko Ashiwa, 2025-07-10 The metamorphosis of Buddhism synchronizing with alterations in political ideology rapid economic growth and evolving societal demands in China's new era is the focus of this book It traces the metamorphosis to 2002 when the Communist Party of China declared upholding traditional Chinese culture including Buddhism to be essential to its leadership The chapters offer rich case studies of updated authentic Buddhist teachings by clerics and other innovations in temples and nunneries new lay communities and their practices and the emergence of Buddhist cultural sites ranging from scenic areas to mega expos The comprehensive view of Buddhism in China illustrates how Buddhism is going beyond state imposed boundaries of religious space With a primary focus on Mahayana Buddhism practiced among Han Chinese it also considers interactions with Theravada and Tibetan Buddhism as well as Confucianism Daoism and folk beliefs The eleven contributing scholars experts in anthropology history philosophy religious studies and sociology draw on extensive fieldwork to provide transdisciplinary analyses of the metamorphosis raising key questions about the dynamics of religious space

The Routledge Companion to Marxisms in Art History Tijen Tunalı, Brian Winkenweder, 2025-03-31 This companion is an essential contribution to the study of historical materialism in general and the social history of art in particular Each chapter in the collection focuses on a key figure concept or historical epoch Increasingly scholars adopt an array of Marxist methods intertwined with a host of other theoretical practices particularly the historiography of key issues regarding hegemony ideology and identity Ideological issues of connoisseurship patronage and analyses of the artwork as a form of labor and leisure are essential to the practice of Marxisms in art history This collection spotlights a plurality of Marxian theories in which the ideas of such figures as Walter Benjamin Guy Debord and T J Clark are debated and developed through analyses of the socio historical conditions that impact how art is produced circulated and received This ultimately underscores that the historical contextualization of artworks and their markets within a class based society is crucial for writing socially engaged art history This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies visual sociology communication studies and the sociology of art

Urbanization and the Migrant in British Cinema Gareth Millington, 2016-11-09 This book examines a cycle of films about migration made in the late 1990s and 2000s It argues that these films present a novel and radical aesthetic of planetary urbanization based upon the mobility of the migrant and the dissolution of the city A stimulating cinematic analysis of our expanding urban fabric it offers an alternative to the cultural cityism of many other films about migration The author demonstrates that this particular film cycle offers a rare sustained consideration of the travails and struggles for urban life by migrants beyond and without the city Yet the city haunts these films like a spectre the city that has been lost the present city that excludes and the possible cities of refuge of the future Offering new insights into the cinematic portrayal of the figure of the migrant and how this is constructed in relation to urbanization processes this book will appeal to students and scholars of sociology film and media studies human geography and urban studies Cartographic Abstraction in Contemporary Art Claire Reddeman, 2017-11-27 In this book Claire Reddeman introduces her theoretical innovation cartographic abstraction a material modality of thought and experience that is produced through cartographic techniques of depiction Reddeman closely engages with selected artworks by contemporary artists such as Joyce Kozloff Layla Curtis and Bill Fontana and theories in each chapter Reconfiguring the Foucauldian underpinning of critical cartography towards a materialist theory of abstraction cartographic viewpoints are theorised as concrete abstractions This research is positioned at the intersection of art theory critical cartography and materialist philosophy Rethinking Urbanism Garth Myers, 2020-06-03 This book provides new insights into popular understandings of urbanism by using a wide range of case studies from lesser studied cities across the Global South and Global North to present evidence for the need to reconstruct our understanding of who and what makes urban environments Myers explores the global hierarchy of cities the criteria for positioning within these hierarchies and the successes of various policymaking approaches designed specifically to boost a city's ranking Engaging heavily with postcolonial studies and Global South thinking he shows how cities construct one another's spaces and calls for a new understanding of planetary urbanism that moves beyond Western centric perspectives

The Politics of the Encounter Andy Merrifield, 2013-04-15 The Politics of the Encounter is a spirited interrogation of the city as a site of both theoretical inquiry and global social struggle The city writes Andy Merrifield remains important virtually and materially for progressive politics And yet he notes more than forty years have passed since Henri Lefebvre advanced the powerful ideas that still undergird much of our thinking about urbanization and urban society Merrifield rethinks the city in light of the vast changes to our planet since 1970 when Lefebvre's seminal Urban Revolution was first published At the same time he expands on Lefebvre's notion of the right to the city which was first conceived in the wake of the 1968 student uprising in Paris We need to think less of cities as entities with borders and clear demarcations between what's inside and what's outside and emphasize instead the effects of planetary urbanization a concept of Lefebvre's that Merrifield makes relevant for the ways we now experience the urban The city from Tahrir Square to Occupy Wall Street seems to be the critical zone in which a new social protest is unfolding yet dissenters' aspirations are transcending the scale of the city physically and philosophically Consequently we must shift our perspective from the right to the city to the politics of the encounter says Merrifield We must ask how revolutionary crowds form where they draw their energies from what kind of spaces they occur in and what kind of new spaces they produce

Hotel Life Caroline Field Levander,Matthew Pratt Guterl,2015-04-27 What is a hotel As Caroline Field Levander and Matthew Pratt Guterl show us in this thought provoking book even though hotels are everywhere around us we rarely consider their essential role in our modern existence and how they help frame our sense of who and what we are They are in fact as centrally important as other powerful places like prisons hospitals or universities More than simply structures made of steel concrete and glass hotels are social and political institutions that we invest with overlapping and contradictory meaning These alluring places uniquely capture the realities of our world where the lines between public and private labor and leisure fortune and failure desire and despair are regularly blurred Guiding readers through the story of hotels as places of troublesome possibility as mazelike physical buildings as inspirational touchstones for art and literature and as unsettling even disturbing backdrops for the drama of everyday life Levander and Guterl ensure that we will never think about this seemingly ordinary place in the same way again

Culture Religion and Home-making in and Beyond South Asia James Ponniah,2020-09-01 Culture Religion and Home making in and Beyond South Asia explores how the idea of the home is repurposed or re envisioned in relation to experiences of modernity urbanization conflict migration and displacement It considers how these processes are reflected in rituals beliefs and social practices It explores the processes by which home may be constructed and how relocations often result in either the replication or rejection of traditional homes and identities Ponniah examines the various contestations surrounding the categories of home and religion including interfaith families urban spaces and sacred places Re-Framing Identities Ákos Moravánszky,Torsten Lange,2016-12-19 From 1970 1990 architecture experienced a revision as part of the post modern movement The critical attitude to the functionalistic Moderne style and the influence of semiotics and philosophical trends such as phenomenology on architectural theory led to an increased interest in its history expression perception and context In addition architectural heritage and the care of architectural monuments gained importance This development also increasingly challenged the ideologically based division between East and West Instead of emphasizing the differences the search was for a joint cultural heritage The contributions in this volume question terms such as Moderne and post modern and show how architecture could again represent local regional and national identity Art in the City, the City in Art Elisha Masemann,2024-03-31 This Book examines an interplay between discourses on the city that stress the need for rational functional order and art s imaginative deviations from the topdown structures of urban life Moving between theory and praxis the book situates the city as both a concept and physical construct through which lives and possibilities are shaped or defined In response certain modalities of art create spontaneous non rational and playful interludes that risk escape from the urban apparatus and a hyper valorisation of rational order A three part framework is used to discuss this push pull dynamic and to assess the strategies of shock performative embodiment and intervention that emerged in post war art movements and in contemporary performance and participatory art practices The book examines how the disturbances introduced by artists throw the city construct into sharp relief making it visible and activating momentary encounters where new modes of expression can emerge This Book offers a new approach to interdisciplinary studies of art and urbanity The book aims to delineate how the city as concept and construct is made visible through artistic practice and in turn challenged or interrogated Students researchers and professionals with an interest in the interaction between art and urban studies will discover a new perspective on how urban conditions and issues have been addressed through artistic practice The book contributes to an evolving discourse in the urban humanities through an exposition of the city s default construct that is made visible or reimaged through visual art in public spaces Peripheral Centralities Nicholas A. Phelps,Roger Keil,Paul Maginn,2025-04-01 The term peripheral centralities may seem something of an oxymoron and yet the spatial peripheries of cities have often been more central to urban development processes than is appreciated To better understand the nature of peripheral centrality Peripheral Centralities The Lost and Past Urbanity of the Suburbs brings together a wide variety of examples of lost and forgotten peripheral centralities of different sizes purpose geographical location and political complexion dating from the first decades of the twentieth century to the present day Following the introduction two chapters provide broad overviews of peripheral centralities in international and national systems of centralities The next four chapters look at plans from settings as different as Dublin and Shanghai that for one reason or another failed to materialize The following eight chapters each describes cases where projects have been realized ranging from peripheral townships in England to a Chinese steel city To conclude the book the editors highlight the themes revealed in the foregoing chapters and consider the part an appreciation of peripheral centralities might play in the development of urban theory from the outside in Cities for People, Not for Profit Neil Brenner, Peter Marcuse, Margit Mayer, 2012-06-25 The worldwide financial crisis has sent shock waves of accelerated economic restructuring regulatory reorganization and sociopolitical conflict through cities around the world It has also given new impetus to the struggles of urban social movements emphasizing the injustice destructiveness and unsustainability of capitalist forms of urbanization This book contributes analyses intended to be useful for efforts to roll back contemporary profit based forms of urbanization and to promote alternative radically democratic and sustainable forms of urbanism The contributors provide cutting edge analyses of contemporary urban restructuring including the issues of neoliberalization gentrification colonization creative cities architecture and political power sub prime mortgage foreclosures and the ongoing struggles of right to the city movements At the same time the book explores the diverse interpretive frameworks critical and otherwise that are currently being used in academic discourse in political struggles and in everyday life to decipher contemporary urban transformations and contestations The slogan cities for people not for profit sets into stark relief what the contributors view as a central political question involved in efforts at once theoretical and practical to address the global urban crises of our time Drawing upon European and North American scholarship in sociology politics geography urban planning and urban design the book provides useful insights and perspectives for citizens activists and intellectuals interested in exploring alternatives to contemporary forms of capitalist urbanization

The Paradoxes of Planning Sara Westin, 2016-03-03 Why is it that modern architects and planners these benevolent and socially visionary experts have created environments that can make one feel so uneasy Using a philosophical and psycho analytical approach this book critically examines expert knowledge within architecture and urban planning Its point of departure is the gap between visions and realities intentions and outcomes in planning with particular focus on projects in Sweden that try to create an urban atmosphere Finding insights from the work of Sigmund Freud and his followers the book argues that urban planning during the 20th century is a neurotic activity prone to produce a type of alienation Besides trying to understand the gap between intentions and outcomes in planning the book also discusses how to define the concept of the urban juxtaposing different knowledge traditions contrasting the positivistic theory of space syntax with poetic dialectical approaches the planner view of the city with that of the fl neur examining texts by Virginia Woolf and August Strindberg
