marriage and adoption single parenthood the influence of biological and social factors in child development religious ideology and the legal rights of unmarried partners Not surprisingly the authors find that the standard bearer for public conceptions of family continues to be a married heterosexual couple with children More than half of Americans also consider same sex couples with children as family and from 2003 to 2006 the percentages of those who believe so increased significantly up 6 percent for lesbian couples and 5 percent for gay couples The presence of children in any living arrangement meets with a notable degree of public approval Less than 30 percent of Americans view heterosexual cohabitating couples without children as family while similar couples with children count as family for nearly 80 percent Counted Out shows that for most Americans however the boundaries around what they define as family are becoming more malleable with time Counted Out demonstrates that American definitions of family are becoming more expansive Who counts as family has far reaching implications for policy including health insurance coverage end of life decisions estate rights and child custody Public opinion matters As lawmakers consider the future of family policy they will want to consider the evolution in American opinion represented in this groundbreaking book A Volume in the American Sociological Association's Rose Series in Sociology
