The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany

The Story of Narrative Preaching Mike Graves, 2015-03-02 Forty years ago the one thing that could be said about sermons was they were biblical Unfortunately they were sometimes tedious too Narrative preaching aimed to fix that advocating for a dynamic experience of the text over against a static lecture Preaching could be like the parables of Jesus intriguing and compelling The Story of Narrative Preaching is the story of seven students who are enrolled in Professor Freeman's preaching course Once a new trend narrative preaching is now older than most of them As Professor Freeman notes two things went wrong with narrative styles over time the church became biblically and theologically illiterate and the promised stress on experience didn't always measure up to the weight of the gospel Readers are invited to sit in on the class to reflect on the expositional nature of preaching and to experience the stories of some modern storytellers Flannery O'Connor Alice Walker and others to see what they might teach us about narratives of depth In the end we discover what may be the most important word in preaching

Alice Munro's Late Style Robert Thacker, 2023-11-30 Focusing on Alice Munro's last three collections this book examines the differences between these volumes and the rest of her work to analyse the emergence and the difference of her late style Alice Munro has effectively reshaped the short story as a form This book focuses on Munro's art of recursion an approach that has been evident throughout her career but came to the fore in her last three books The View from Castle Rock 2006 Too Much Happiness 2009 and especially Dear Life 2012 This recursion and return manifest themselves not only in Munro's return to previously published pieces but also to her discovery and meditations on her Scottish heritage which can be read as entrance to her own understanding of herself and her life Its provenance displayed through archival evidence is complex yet reveals a writer intent on a precise late style Munro's final works serve as a coda to both her late style and to her entire career as arguably one of the finest short story writers ever to put pen to paper
