Stories by Contemporary Irish Women Daniel J. Casey, Linda M. Casey, 1990-04-01 These short stories invite the reader to see Ireland afresh Included are works by well known authors such as Mary Lavin Edna O'Brien and Julia O Faolain the collection also showcases new writers such as Clare Boylan Rita Kelly and Una Woods Repeatedly the stories bring us up against the inherent contradiction of provincial Ireland and Ireland as a modern European state and the complexities of women's lives in both Helen Lucy Burke writes tellingly of an older devout Irish Catholic woman as she encounters the startling realities of Italian Catholic Rome Other stories also dwell on traditional

Irish themes and situations through refreshingly varied voices Ita Daly movingly portrays the problems of an educated sensitive schoolteacher resigned to her life in a country town Anne Devlin handles yet another familiar theme the Irishman in England an Englishman's view about IRA bombings A few stories deal with the troubles in Northern Ireland while others address the troubles of the country as a whole too many children too much hypocrisy too little communication especially between women and men The editors have provided an introduction that examines the role of women writers in Irish literature They have also supplied detailed biographical notes for each contributing author Twelve Stories and a Dream H. Lawless, 2019-08-09 Folklorist Elaine J Lawless has devoted her career to ethnographic research with underserved groups in the American Midwest including charismatic Pentecostals clergywomen victims of domestic violence and displaced African Americans She has consistently focused her research on women's speech in these contexts and has developed a new approach to ethnographic research which she calls reciprocal ethnography while growing a detailed corpus of work on women's narrative style and expressive speech Reciprocal ethnography is a feminist and collaborative ethnographic approach that Lawless developed as a challenge to the reflexive turn in anthropological fieldwork and research in the 1970s which was often male centric ignoring the contributions by and study of women's culture

Collected here for the first time are Lawless's key articles on the topics of reciprocal ethnography and women's narrative which influenced not only folklore but also the allied fields of anthropology sociology performance studies and women's and gender studies Lawless's methods and research continue to be critically relevant in today's global struggle for gender equality

The Greatest Stories Ever... Retold Ross Thomas Lucas, 2010-09-24 I wonder what the Samaritan woman who met Jesus at Jacob's Well was like What were the circumstances that led to her being there drawing water in the heat of the day The New Testament does not give us much background on the people involved in some of the familiar stories This book brings those characters to life by letting the reader imagine what their life might have been like Consider Joseph as a man wondering how he got himself into a situation where he and his pregnant wife were traveling to Bethlehem What happened at the birth of Jesus from the perspective of another guest in the Inn Did the jailer in Philippi have a son If he did how might he have viewed the events that happened while Paul was a prisoner A Centurion had a servant who was ill What was the relationship between the Centurion and the servant How did the Centurion happen to get sent to Galilee These stories take New Testament stories as a starting place and consider a different possibility They will challenge you to think again about the people who might have met Jesus in person
