We Live Inside a Story Megan McKenna, 2010 In the realm of the Spirit and when dealing with our own souls and the souls of others we are often at a loss for words We have a sense maybe even an image of what we want to share ask or communicate but words are harder to find and express Stories are the glue that hold us together in whatever groups we belong to even if we only visit or find ourselves on the margins In a sense our God is a story being told and God is seeking for all of us to listen to enter into the story and become one Megan McKenna uses images of Russian nesting dolls to illustrate the many layers of the stories that exist in each of our lives particularly in relation to the Spirit Stories are critical to living and are intertwined with truth in such a way that we can carry them with us remember them and pass them along sharing them as needed We live inside a story We live inside God

The Nature of College James Farrell, 2010-10-01 Stately oaks ivy covered walls the opposite sex these are the things that likely come to mind for most Americans when they think about the nature of college But the real nature of college is hidden in plain sight it s flowing out of the keg it s woven into the mascots on our T shirts Engaging in a deep and richly entertaining study of campus ecology The Nature of College explores one day in the life of the average student questioning what natural is and what common sense is really good for and weighing the collective impacts of the everyday In the end this fascinating highly original book rediscovers and repurposes the great and timeless opportunity presented by college to study the American way of life and to develop a more sustainable better way to live Can a Renewal Movement Be Renewed?

Michael Kinnamon, 2014-05-18 Does ecumenism have a future What would it mean to take the next step in ecumenical and interfaith relations Is the ecumenical movement a movement for peace What can the churches say together about the church What can the churches say together about the environment Can the tension between unity and justice be overcome Has the ecumenical movement become too political What is the way forward for Catholic Protestant relations How can the Orthodox help others understand them better How are interfaith relationships as challenging as they are necessary How can we deal with the tough issues in Jewish Christian relations Are councils of churches a thing of the past What does it take to be an ecumenical leader What will it take to revitalize the ecumenical movement Why care about Christian unity when there are so many other things to worry about The Logic of Intersubjectivity Darren M. Slade, 2020-08-27 To survey harsh criticisms against Brian Douglas McLaren 1956 readers gain the inaccurate impression that he is a heretical relativist who denies objective truth and logic While McLaren s inflammatory and provocative writing style is partly to blame this study also suspects that his critics base much of their analyses on only small portions of his overall corpus The result becomes a caricature of McLaren s actual philosophy of religion What is argued in this book is that McLaren s philosophy of religion suggests a faith based intersubjective relationship with the divine ought to result in an existential appropriation of Christ s religio ethical teachings When subjectively internalized this appropriation will lead to the assimilation of Jesus kingdom priorities thereby transforming the believer s identity into one that actualizes Jesus kingdom ideals The hope of this book is that by tracing McLaren s philosophy of Christian religion future researchers will not only be able to comprehend and perhaps empathize with McLaren s line of reasoning but they will also possess a more nuanced discernment of where they agree and disagree with his overall rationale Rooted and Rising Leah D. Schade, Margaret Bullitt-Jonas, 2019-11-01 Rooted and Rising is for everyone who worries about the climate crisis and seeks spiritual practices and perspectives to renew their capacity for compassionate purposeful and joyful action Leah Schade and Margaret Bullitt Jonas gather twenty one faith leaders scientists community organizers theologians and grassroots climate activists to offer wisdom for fellow pilgrims grappling with the weight of climate change Acknowledging the unprecedented nature of our predicament the fact that climate disruption is unraveling the web of life and threatening the end of human civilization the authors share their stories of grief and hope fear and faith Together the essays introductory sections and discussion questions reveal that our present crisis can elicit a depth of wisdom insight and motivation with power to guide us toward a more peaceful just and Earth honoring future With a foreword by Mary Evelyn Tucker and a special introduction by Bill McKibben the book presents an interfaith perspective that welcomes and challenges readers of all backgrounds Phyllis Tickle Sweeney, Jon M., 2015-09-30 Coming Home to Earth Mark S. Bocker, 2016-09-13 As a young Norwegian Lutheran teenager in rural Wisconsin Bocker lay awake one night worrying whether he believed in Jesus enough to get to heaven This getting to heaven anxiety reflected an excessive focus on individual salvation and a loss of concern for the well being of the Earth community A faith journey that leaves Earth behind is misguided Ever since those early teen years Bocker has been on a journey to come home to Earth Coming Home to Earth makes the case that there is no salvation apart from Earth and that Earth care is at the core of our identity and mission as followers of Jesus The ecological consequences of a loss of concern for the well being of Earth have been devastating Bocker is especially concerned to determine what will motivate followers of Jesus to make radical changes in our way of life so that we can participate in the healing of wounded Earth and all of its inhabitants both human and nonhuman We are far more likely to make needed sacrifices for our fellow creatures if we share God's delight in and affection for them and cherish Earth as our home The Sacred Exchange Mary L. Zamore, 2019-05-21 The newest addition to the CCAR Press Challenge and Change series this anthology creates a rich and varied discussion about ethics and money Our use of and relationship with money must reflect our religious values this book aims to start a comprehensive conversation about how Judaism can guide us in this multi faceted relationship The Gospel after Christendom Ryan K. Bolger, 2012-11-01 Emerging and missional church movements are an increasingly global phenomenon they exist as holistic communities that defy dualistic Western forms of church Until now many of the voices from these movements have gone unheard In this volume Ryan Bolger assembles some of the most innovative church leaders from around the world to share their candid insider stories about how God is transforming their communities in an entirely new era for the church Bolger's new book continues the themes that he and Eddie Gibbs established formally in their critically acclaimed Emerging Churches and situates new church movements within this rubric It explores what's happening now in innovative church movements in continental Europe Asia and Latin American and in African American hip hop cultures Featuring an international cast of contributors the book explores the changes occurring both in emerging cultures and in emerging and missional churches across the globe today How Climate Change Comes to Matter Candis Callison, 2014-02-15 A rich ethnographic account describing the processes by which climate change comes to matter collectively and individually and how vernacular explanations of climate change reflect diverse ways of knowing and caring about the world Global Ecologies and the Environmental Humanities Elizabeth DeLoughrey, Jill Didur, Anthony Carrigan, 2015-04-10 This book examines current trends in scholarly thinking about the new field of the Environmental Humanities focusing in particular on how the history of globalization and imperialism represents a special challenge to the representation of environmental issues Essays in this path breaking collection examine the role that narrative visual and aesthetic forms can play in drawing attention to and shaping our ideas about long term and catastrophic environmental challenges such as climate change militarism deforestation the pollution and management of the global commons petrocapiatalism and the commodification of nature The volume presents a postcolonial approach to the environmental humanities especially in conjunction with current thinking in areas such as political ecology and environmental justice Spanning regions such as Africa Asia Eastern Europe Latin America and the Caribbean Australasia and the Pacific as well as North America the volume includes essays by founding figures in the field as well as new scholars providing vital new interdisciplinary perspectives on the politics of the earth disaster vulnerability and resilience political ecologies and environmental justice world ecologies and the Anthropocene In engaging critical ecologies the volume poses a postcolonial environmental humanities for the twenty first century At the heart of this is a conviction that a thoroughly global postcolonial and comparative approach is essential to defining the emergent field of the environmental humanities and that this field has much to offer in understanding critical issues surrounding the creation of alternative ecological futures Green Christianity Mark I Wallace, 2010-09-10 The central message of this book is that religion has a special role to play in saving the planet Religion has the unique power to fire the imagination and empower the will to break the cycle of addiction to nonrenewable energy The environmental crisis is a crisis not of the head but of the heart The problem is not that we do not know how to stop climate change but rather that we lack the inner strength to redirect our culture and economy toward a sustainable future Only a bold and courageous faith can undergird a long term commitment to change This book is a call to hope not despair a survey of promising directions and a call for readers to discover meaning and purpose in their lives through a spiritually charged commitment to saving the Earth Tainted Kristin Sharon Shrader-Frechette, 2014 Three fourths of scientific research in the United States is funded by special interests Many of these groups have specific practical goals such as developing pharmaceuticals or establishing that a pollutant causes only minimal harm For groups with financial conflicts of interest their scientific findings often can be deeply flawed To uncover and assess these scientific flaws award winning biologist and philosopher of science Kristin Shrader Frechette uses the analytical tools of classic philosophy of science She identifies and evaluates the concepts data inferences methods models and conclusions of science tainted by the influence of special interests As a result she challenges accepted scientific findings regarding risks such as chemical toxins and carcinogens ionizing radiation pesticides hazardous waste disposal development of environmentally sensitive lands threats to endangered species and less protective standards for workplace pollution exposure In so doing she dissects the science on which many contemporary scientific controversies turn Demonstrating and advocating liberation science she shows how practical logical methodological and ethical evaluations of science can both improve its quality and credibility and protect people from harm caused by flawed science such as underestimates of cancers caused by bovine growth hormones cell phones fracking or high voltage wires This book is both an in depth look at the unreliable scientific findings at the root of contemporary debates in biochemistry ecology economics hydrogeology physics and zoology and a call to action for scientists philosophers of science and all citizens Candle, Feather, Wooden Spoon Zoë
