Geography of God's Incarnation Ann Pederson,2013-07-25 What does geography have to do with the incarnation of God and with our spiritual lives as Christians We will embark on a theological road trip that explores how geographies are at the heart of understanding of God s incarnation in the world It is no surprise to Christians that the center of the incarnation is the person of Jesus Christ God in flesh made manifest However it might be a stretch for some Christians to imagine that the promise that God has become flesh is not only in a person but also in a place in the creation Christians need to expand what incarnation means and what it means to be created in the image of God so that the scope of God s creative and redemptive action and work indeed reaches to the scope of all things from the outer reaches of space to the inner reaches of our hearts To be the creatures of God that God calls us to be requires a kind of dual citizenship within the details of our daily life attending to the needs of our neighbors simultaneously knowing we are part of a greater cosmos whose future is still unfolding Who is this Rock? Garrett Soucy,2018-01-24 The Gospel is said to be concealed in the Old Testament and revealed in the New Testament Often it can feel concealed in both Using an everyday approach to typology and literary analysis Garrett Soucy takes the reader through the Scriptures in order to hear the Gospel from the most unlikely of candidates rocks and stones

read this book and put its principals into practice the Catholic Church would stand a better chance of adapting to the rigors of an increasingly scrutinous world and finding a means to thrive in the twenty first century Born and raised in Melbourne Australia author Frank Baker now lives in Bundaberg in Queensland After 34 years working for the Gas Fuel Corporation Frank is now retired and spends his time writing playing croquet ballroom dancing and playing cards He is also currently the treasurer of the Moore Park Beach Arts Festival This is his first book Publisher s website <http://sbpra.com/FrankBaker>
