Homo Labyrinthus Humanisme Antihumanisme Posthumanisme:

Homo labyrinthus Frédéric Neyrat, 2015-09-03 Early Modern Humanism and Postmodern Antihumanism in Dialogue Jan Miernowski, 2016-10-14 This book employs perspectives from continental philosophy intellectual history and literary and cultural studies to breach the divide between early modernist and modernist thinkers It turns to early modern humanism in order to challenge late 20th century thought and present day posthumanism This book addresses contemporary concerns such as the moral responsibility of the artist the place of religious beliefs in our secular societies legal rights extended to nonhuman species the sense of normality applied to the human body the politics of migration individual political freedom and international terrorism It demonstrates how early modern humanism can bring new perspectives to postmodern antihumanism and even invite us to envision a humanism of the future The Unconstructable Earth Frédéric Neyrat, 2018-10-16 Winner Grand Prize French Voices Award for Excellence in Publication and Translation The Space Age is over Not at all A new planet has appeared Earth In the age of the Anthropocene the Earth is a post natural planet that can be remade at will controlled and managed thanks to the prowess of geoengineering This new imaginary is also accompanied by a new kind of power geopower that takes the entire Earth in its social biological and geophysical dimensions as an object of knowledge intervention and governmentality In short our rising awareness that we have destroyed our planet has simultaneously provided us not with remorse or resolve but with a new fantasy that the Anthropocene delivers an opportunity to remake our terrestrial environment thanks to the power of technology Such is the position we find ourselves in when proposals for reengineering the earth s ecosystems and geosystems are taken as the only politically feasible answer to ecological catastrophe Yet far from being merely the fruit of geo capitalism this new grand narrative of geopower has also been activated by theorists of the constructivist turn ecomodernist postenvironmentalist accelerationist who have likewise called into question the great divide between nature and culture With the collapse of this divide a cyborg hybrid flexible nature has been built an impoverished nature that does not exist without being performed by technologies that proliferate within the space of human needs and capitalist imperatives Underneath this performative vision resides a hidden anaturalism denying all otherness to nature and the Earth no longer by externalizing it as a thing to be dominated but by radically internalizing it as something to be digested Constructivist ecology thus finds itself in no position to confront the geoconstructivist project with its claim that there is no nature and its aim to replace Earth with Earth 2.0 Against both positions Neyrat stakes out the importance of the unconstructable Earth Against the fusional myth of technology over nature but without returning to the division between nature and culture he proposes an ecology of separation that acknowledges the wild subtractive capacity of nature Against the capitalist technocratic delusion of earth as a constructible object but equally against an organicism marked by unacknowledged traces of racism and sexism Neyrat shows what it means to appreciate Earth as an unsubstitutable becoming a trajectory that cannot be replicated in a laboratory Underway for billions of years withdrawing into the most distant past and the most inaccessible future Earth escapes the hubris of all who would remake and master it This remarkable book which will be of interest to those across the humanities natural sciences and social sciences from theorists to shapers of policy recasts the earth as a singular trajectory that invites humans to turn political ecology into a geopolitics From Technological Humanity to Bio-technical Existence Susanna Lindberg,2023-04-01 From Technological Humanity to Bio technical Existence can be framed as a metaphysics of the present It starts from the current epoch an era increasingly marked not only by technology but also by technics in the most general sense and asks how this affects human existence The book asks what is called technics what is called humanity how these relate to one another and how changes in these notions oblige us to revise the philosophical notion of existence It investigates how the idea of technological humanity of technology as an extension and instrument of the human is discovered and deconstructed by Martin Heidegger Helmuth Plessner Michel Foucault Jacques Derrida Bernard Stiegler and Giorgio Agamben Finally the book presents a new idea of bio technical existence one that underlies these philosophers works without being fully elaborated This idea of technics as a condition of humanity that humans share with other living and technical beings is the author's own philosophical proposition and the final result of the book

Classical Literature and Posthumanism Giulia Maria Chesi,Francesca Spiegel,2019-11-14 The subject of the posthuman of what it means to be or to cease to be human is emerging as a shared point of debate at large in the natural and social sciences and the humanities This volume asks what classical learning can bring to the table of posthuman studies assembling chapters that explore how exactly the human self of Greek and Latin literature understands its own relation to animals monsters objects cyborgs and robotic devices With its widely diverse habitat of heterogeneous bodies minds and selves classical literature again and again blurs the boundaries between the human and the non human not to equate and confound the human with its other but playfully to highlight difference and hybridity as an invitation to appraise the animal monstrous or mechanical machinic parts lodged within humans This comprehensive collection unites contributors from across the globe each delving into a different classical text or narrative and its configuration of human subjectivity how human selves relate to other entities around them For students and scholars of classical literature and the posthuman this book is a first point of reference

The End of the World Marcia Sa Cavalcante Schuback,Susanna Lindberg,2017-03-29 The end of the world opens up philosophical questions concerning the very notion of the world which is a fundamental element of all existential phenomenological and hermeneutical philosophy Is the end of the world for us somebody's death the end of being in the world or the extinction of many or of all the end of the world itself Is the erosion of the world a phenomenon that does not in fact affect the notion of the world as a fundamental feature of all existential ontological inquiry This volume examines the present state of these concerns in philosophy film and literature It presents a philosophical hermeneutics of the present state of the world and explores the principal questions of the philosophical accounts of the end of the world such as finality and finitude It also shows how literature and cinema have ventured to express the end of the world while asking if a consequent expression of the end of the world is also an end of its expression

(Un)Learning to Be Human? Stefan Herbrechter, 2024-09-23 Critical posthumanism is a theory paradigm that has become hugely influential across the humanities and social sciences in the last twenty years This volume collects essays written over the last decade by one of the founders and leading figures of this movement Originally a reaction to accelerated technological and media change that challenges traditional notions of what it means to be human posthumanism as opposed to transhumanism has developed into a general critique and reappraisal of life after humanism and anthropocentrism The essays collected here are dealing with aspects of education technology politics media and art and share a focus on how to critique and unlearn traditional understandings of humanness and re learn what it means to be human differently

The Ethos of Digital Environments Susanna Lindberg, Hanna-Riikka Roine, 2021-05-27 While self driving cars and autonomous weapon systems have received a great deal of attention in media and research the general requirements of ethical life in today s digitalizing reality have not been made sufficiently visible and evaluable This collection of articles from both distinguished and emerging authors working at the intersections of philosophy literary theory media and technology does not intend to fix new moral rules Instead the volume explores the ethos of digital environments asking how we can orient ourselves in them and inviting us to renewed moral reflection in the face of dilemmas they entail The authors show how contemporary digital technologies model our perception narration as well as our conceptions of truth and investigate the ethical moral and juridical consequences of making public and societal infrastructures computational They argue that we must make the structures of the digital environments visible and learn to care for them

Laughing on the Brink of Humanity Jan Miernowski, 2024-11-01 What does it mean to be human And more precisely what does it mean to be human now with both humanism and the humanities in crisis In answer to these questions Laughing on the Brink of Humanity seeks not some essence of the human but rather an epiphenomenal manifestation a sign of the human The book finds such a sign in the joyless painful and often deadly laughter that resonates when we cross the barrier between what is human and what is not animality machinery divinity Jan Miernowski brings together a wide swath of discourses and figures from Plato and the Bible through early modern humanism to Friedrich Nietzsche Georges Bataille Hannah Arendt Claude Lanzmann Spike Jonze Tom Stoppard and Michel Houellebecq Looking for laughter on the brink of humanity in literature and philosophy natural science and film theology and computer science the book offers an exercise in epihumanism appropriate to our posthuman age

Publication bilingue français anglais Inclusiones Nicolas Bourriaud, 2020-12-17 Con este libro Nicolas Bourriaud busca contribuir al surgimiento de una estética inclusiva que requiera un aprendizaje de la mirada finalmente descentrada en el seno de un universo plurivalente donde se incluya a los no humanos Basada en una visión ampliada de la antropología esta estética ratificará al final de los binomios que estructuran el pensamiento predador de Occidente En una estética inclusiva formas y materias constituyen un tipo especial de cooperación tal como sucede entre el ser humano y lo que se denominaba antes su entorno. En lugar de reaccionar ante las formas las imágenes o las ideas con las herramientas heredadas se ha hecho necesario elaborar nuevas herramientas. Por otra parte el confinamiento mundial que marcó la pandemia de la Covid 19 nos deja entrever lo que podrá ser la etapa siguiente de esta sedentarización. Si todos los individuos habíamos ya interiorizado la idea de que nuestro papel en la Tierra consista en ser inmediatamente utilizables por el sistema productivo nada tiene de asombroso por lo tanto que las modalidades de gobernanza contemporánea se vean transformadas por este proceso de domesticación general de lo viviente dentro del cual los humanos y los no humanos se ven reunidos por su condición de materia prima. En el seno de la catástrofe climática el arte podrá construir un modelo alternativo y una inspiración para las actividades humanas. La catástrofe ecológica nos conmina hoy a replantearnos el espacio que nuestras sociedades le han asignado al arte. La creatividad el espíritu crítico el intercambio la trascendencia el vínculo con el Otro y con la Historia todos valores intrínsecos a la práctica artística resultan también vitales para el futuro de la humanidad. Al tratar de desplegar algunas de las figuras estéticas que flotan en el capitalismo planetario Inclusiones intenta a la vez describir los retos de la actividad artística en tiempos del capitaloceno y abogar para que se la reconozca como una necesidad vital.

Antihumanisme(s) Carlos Tello, 2023 Cet ouvrage veut approfondir la réflexion qui prenait forme dans le volume Du postmodernisme au posthumanisme Littérature et cinéma publié en 2020 partir des rapports parfois troites et toujours complexes entre la crise de récits postmoderne et le posthumanisme compris comme un système de discours dont chacun est galement un outil pistologique il s'agit ici de se concentrer sur l'un de ces discours la critique de l'humanisme lui-même pouvant se décliner en trois sous discours que l'on pourrait nommer abhumanisme antihumanisme hiérarchique et antihumanisme pessimiste. Cependant cette apparente multiplicité typologique est surtout une manière d'aborder un questionnement comment noncer et condenser la situation actuelle en termes politiques philosophiques et éthiques Comment faire de l'hétérogène une sorte d'homogène relatif Comment la littérature et le cinéma le refléchissent le représentent et le configurent Les textes ici présentés constituent une approche originale sur la question des antihumanismes en explorant des corpus littéraires et cinématographiques du XXe et surtout du XXIe siècle La première partie aborde des productions européennes tatsuniennes et canadiennes et la deuxième partie s'intéresse plusieurs pays de l'Amérique latine dont l'Argentine l'Équateur et le Mexique Page 4 of cover Posthumanism Peter Mahon, 2017 Post- and Transhumanism Robert Ranisch, Stefan Lorenz Sorgner, 2014 Post and Transhumanism are being introduced with respect to foundational questions utopian issues normative and evaluative elements ontological perspectives and arts The topics are divided up into five sections with the following titles Confessions Lands of Cockayne Neo Socratic Reflections Ontologies of Becoming and Paragone of the Arts
