Key Themes In Media Theory:

Key Themes In Media Theory Laughey, Dan, 2007-10-01 Key Themes is a critical introduction to key theories of media for undergraduate students The 21st Century Media (r)evolution Jim Macnamara, 2010 The emergence of new media and social media is widely discussed in contemporary society However media and public communication are mostly analyzed within particular theoretical frameworks and within specific disciplinary fields Such approaches have created polarized views on media and communication and fail to create an understanding of the interdependencies between these fields This book expertly synthesizes competing theories and disciplinary viewpoints integrates scholarly and cutting edge research and examines international data from fast growing markets including China to provide a comprehensive holistic view of the twenty first century r evolution in media and public communication The book identifies how the changes are located in practices rather than technologies and that these practices are emergent in highly significant ways Engaging and accessible the book is essential reading for media scholars and communication professionals and a valuable text for courses in media studies journalism advertising public relations and organisational and political communication McQuail's Mass Communication Theory Denis McQuail, 2010-03-12 McQuail s Mass Communication Theory has been the benchmark for studying mass communication theory for more than 25 years It remains the most authoritative and comprehensive introduction to the field and still offers unmatched coverage of the research literature Fully up to date this new edition includes New boxed case studies on key research publications familiarizing students with the critical research texts in the field A new streamlined structure for better navigation More definitions examples and illustrations throughout to bring abstract concepts to life Major updates on new media globalization work and economy McQuail s Mass Communication Theory is the indispensable resource no student of media studies can afford to be without Reading Media Theory Brett Mills, David M. Barlow, 2014-06-11 What does the Frankfurt School have to say about the creative industries Does the spread of Google prove we now live in an information society How is Madonna an example of postmodernism How new is new media Does the power of Facebook mean we re all media makers now This groundbreaking volume part reader part textbook helps you to engage thoroughly with some of the major voices that have come to define the landscape of theory in media studies from the public sphere to postmodernism from mass communication theory to media effects from production to reception and beyond But much more than this by providing assistance and questions directly alongside the readings it crucially helps you develop the skills necessary to become a critical informed and analytical reader Each reading is supported on the facing page by author annotations which provide comments dissect the arguments explain key ideas and terminology make references to other relevant material and pose questions that emerge from the text Key features Opening chapters What is theory and What is reading bring alive the importance of both as key parts of media scholarship Pre reading substantial Introductory sections set each text and its author in context and show the relevance of the reading to contemporary culture Post reading

Reflection sections summarise each reading's key points and suggests further areas to explore and think about 4 types of annotations help you engage with the reading context content structure and writing style as well as questions to provoke further thought Split into 4 sections Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context New to the second edition New chapters on New Media and Audiences as Producers Reading Media Theory will assist you in developing close reading and analytic skills It will also increase your ability to outline key theories and debates assess different case studies critically link theoretical approaches to a particular historical context and to structure and present an argument As such it will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students of media studies cultural studies communication studies the sociology of the media popular culture and other related subjects Media Studies 2.0 William Merrin,2014-03-21 Media Studies 2 0 offers an exploration of the digital revolution and its consequences for media and communication studies arguing that the new era requires an upgraded discipline a media studies 2 0 The book traces the history of mass media and computing exploring their merger at the end of the twenty century and the material ecological cultural and personal elements of this digital transformation It considers the history of media and communication studies arguing that the academic discipline was a product of the analogue broadcast era emerging in the early twentieth century as a response to the success of newspapers radio and cinema and reflecting that era back in its organisation themes and concepts Digitalisation however takes us beyond this analogue era media studies 1 0 into a new post broadcast era Merrin argues that the digital era demands an upgraded academic discipline one reflecting the real media life of its students and teaching the key skills needed by the twenty first century user Media 2 0 demand a media studies 2 0 This original and critical overview of contemporary developments within media studies is ideal for general students of media and communication as well as those specifically studying new and digital media Media/Theory Shaun Moores,2007-05-07 From an established author with a growing international profile in media studies Media Theory is an accessible yet challenging guide to ways of thinking about media and communications in modern life Shaun Moores draws on ideas from a range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and expertly connects the analysis of media and communications with key themes in contemporary social theory Examining core issues of time and space Moores also examines matters of interactions signification and identity and argues that media studies is bound up in the wider processes of the modern world and not just about studying the media This book makes a distinctive contribution towards rethinking the shape and direction of media studies today and for students at advanced undergraduate or postgraduate level Media Theory for A Level Mark Dixon,2024-08-09 Media Theory for A Level provides a comprehensive introduction to the 19 academic theories required for A Level Media study From Roland Barthes to Clay Shirky from structuralism to civilisationism this revision book explains all the core academic concepts students need to master to succeed in their exams Each chapter contains comprehensive explanations of the academic ideas and theories specified for GCE Media study as well as practical tasks higher level

Black Mirror and Critical Media Theory Angela M. Cirucci, Barry Vacker, 2018-10-31 Black Mirror is The Twilight Zone of the twenty first century Already a philosophical classic the series echoes the angst of an era a civilization and consciousness fully engulfed in the 24/7 media spectacle spanning the planet With clever plots and existential themes Black Mirror presents near futures where humans collide with technology and each other tomorrows that might arrive in five years or five minutes Featuring scholars from three continents and ten nations Black Mirror and Critical Media Theory is an international collection of critical media theory applied to one of the most intellectually provocative TV shows of our time and the all too real conditions that inspire it Drawing from thinkers such as Michel Foucault Jean Baudrillard Guy Debord Marshall McLuhan and Paul Virilio the authors reverse engineer Black Mirror by probing the ideas meanings and conditions embedded in the episodes This book is organized around six key topics reflected and explored in Black Mirror human identity surveillance culture spectacle and hyperreality aesthetics technology and existence and dystopian futures Making Media Theory Marcel O'Gorman, 2020-10-29 Making Media Theory is about the study practice and hands on design of media theory It looks at experimental research methods and engages in media analysis inviting readers to respond to and shape the materiality of media while carefully considering the implications of living in a technoculture The author walks readers through the creation of digital objects to think with where critical design practices serve as tools for exploring social and philosophical issues related to technological being and becoming Media, Modernity and Technology David Morley, 2006-09-27 Clearly structured in five thematic sections this fascinating and readable book from best selling author David Morley presents a set of interlinked essays which discuss and examine the key debates in the fields of media and cultural studies Metareference across Media: Theory and Case Studies, 2009-01-01 Strange as it may seem Cervantes's novel Don Quixote Marc Forster's film Stranger than Fiction Shakespeare's play A Midsummer Night's Dream Pere Borrell del Caso's painting Escaping Criticism reproduced on the cover of the present volume and Mozart's sextet A Musical Joke all share one common feature they include a meta dimension Metaization the movement from a first cognitive referential or communicative level to a higher one on which first level phenomena self reflexively become objects of reflection reference and communication in their own right is in fact a common feature not only of human thought and language but also of the arts and media in general However research into this issue has so far predominantly focussed on literature where a highly differentiated albeit strictly monomedial critical toolbox exists Metareference across Media remedies this onesidedness and closes the gap between literature and other media by providing a transmedial framework for analysing metaphenomena The essays transcend the current notion of metafiction pinpoint examples of metareference in hitherto neglected areas discuss the capacity for metaization of individual media or genres from a media comparative perspective and explore major historical forms and functions as well aspects of the development of metaization in cultural history Stemming from diverse disciplinary and methodological backgrounds the contributors propose new and refined concepts and models and cover a broad range of media including fiction drama poetry comics photography film computer games classical as well as popular music painting and architecture This collection of essays which also contains a detailed theoretical introduction will be relevant to students and scholars from a wide variety of fields intermediality studies semiotics literary theory and criticism musicology art history and film studies Reading Media Theory David Maxwell Barlow, Brett Mills, 2009 This unique part reader part textbook brings core primary media theory readings to the student whilst assisting them with reading understanding decoding and deconstructing the material The dual functionality of the book helps students to familiarise themselves with core texts and develop the necessary critical reading skills and confidence required to engage with the subject The text is annotated throughout and explores context content structure and writing style in order to bring theory to life for the reader The book is split into four sections namely Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context This structure is adopted in order to encourage students to familiarise themselves with the material and the progressive pedagogical apparatus guides them to approach it gradually whilst developing their skill set The provision of questions to provoke further thought helps to encourage the student to read more widely around the subject and engage with core concepts of both theory and learning Ultimately the text acts as a how to read handbook for media theory and is structured so that students can learn the literature as well as learning how to approach it Media and Cultural Theory James Curran, David Morley, 2007-05-07 Containing new thinking and original surveys from leading international scholars this ideal course reader uses contemporary media film texts and case studies to address key issues and debates within media and cultural studies the world over
