Federal Communications Commission,2011 Digitalization in Open Economies Michael Vogelsang,2010-03-20 Digital strings are not visible but affect all economic segments This book studies the phenomenon of digitalization with the instruments of economics in order to explore the interdependencies between digitalization economic policy and macroeconomic variables of open economies Digitalization is separated into the three components networks IT services and digital goods which are then incorporated into macroeconomic models of trade theory in open economies This approach allows to formally describe the cross effects between digitalization and macroeconomic variables of a country Specifically it is used to analyze interdependencies between macroeconomic variables and networks IT services and digital goods and to determine the challenges of digitalization for economic policy and regulation The Liberalisation of the Telecommunications Sector in Sub-Saharan Africa and Fostering Competition in Telecommunications Services Markets Rachel Alemu,2018-02-02 This study investigates whether the existing regulatory framework governing the telecommunications sector in countries in Sub Saharan Africa effectively deals with emerging competition related concerns in the liberalised sector Using Uganda as a case study it analyses the relevant provisions of the law governing competition in the telecommunications sector and presents three key findings Firstly while there is comprehensive legislation on interconnection and spectrum management inefficient enforcement of the legislation has perpetuated concerns surrounding spectrum scarcity and interconnection Secondly the legislative framework governing anti competitive behaviour though in line with the established principles of competition law is not sufficient Specifically the framework is not equipped to govern the conduct of multinational telecommunications groups that have a strong presence in the telecommunications sector Major factors hampering efficient competition regulation include Uganda s sole reliance on sector specific competition rules restricted available remedies and a regulator with limited experience of enforcing competition legislation The weaknesses in the framework strongly suggest the need to adopt an economy wide competition law Lastly wireless technology is the main means through which the population in Uganda accesses telecommunications services Greater emphasis should be placed on regulating conduct in the wireless communications markets Cellular Daniel D.
