Handling Death And Bereavement At Work Handling Death And Bereavement At Work:

Handling Death and Bereavement at Work David Charles-Edwards, 2005-03-31 An estimated 3 500 people die every day in the UK If someone at work or their partner or close family member dies managers and colleagues need to respond appropriately This book breaks new ground in placing bereavement on the management agenda It addresses some challenging questions such as What to say and what not to say How to balance the needs of the person and the job How do you get it right in a diverse multi cultural workforce How do you decide what time off is reasonable How can other people at work help as well as avoiding making the situation worse This book is an essential guide for anyone in an organisation who has to take responsibility in the event of death It covers issues such as what do in the event of a sudden death at work managing staff who are terminally ill and practical help after death including funerals It is a unique and constant point of reference for anyone concerned with one of the most challenging issues to be faced in the workplace

Handling Death and Bereavement at Work David Charles-Edwards, 2005-03-31 This is a uniquely invaluable book which tackles how death and bereavement can affect the workplace It is a sensitive and constructive text for dealing with issues that touch all working lives

Loss, Grief, and Trauma in the Workplace Neil Thompson, Dale Lund, 2017-07-12 The workplace is not immune to the problems pressures and challenges presented by experiences of loss and trauma and the grief reactions they produce This clearly written well crafted book offers important insights and understanding to help us appreciate the difficulties involved and prepare ourselves for dealing with such demanding situations when they arise People s experiences of loss and trauma are of course not left at the factory gate or the office door Nor are loss and traumatic events absent from the workplace itself Loss grief and trauma are very much a part of life and that includes working life Executives managers human resource professionals and employee assistance staff need to have at least a basic understanding of how loss grief and trauma affect people in the workplace This book provides that foundation of understanding and offers guidance on how to find out more about these vitally important workplace issues The text provides a valuable blend of theory and practice that will be of interest to those involved in management human resources and organizational studies as well as those interested in the social scientific study of loss grief and trauma and of course to those involved in the helping professions It is essential reading for anyone concerned with making the workplace a more humane and effective environment or anyone wishing to develop an understanding of the complexities of loss grief and trauma in our lives

Dealing with Dying, Death, and Grief during Adolescence David E. Balk, 2014-02-18 For some life s introduction to death and grief comes early and when it does it can take many forms Not only does Dealing with Dying Death and Grief during Adolescence tackle them all it does so with David Balk s remarkable sensitivity to and deep knowledge of the pressures and opportunities adolescents face in their transition from childhood to adulthood In seamless jargon free language Balk brings readers up to date with what we know about adolescent development because over time such changes form the backstory we need to comprehend the impact of death and bereavement in an adolescent's life. The book's later chapters break down the recent findings in the study of life threatening illness and bereavement during adolescence. And crucially these chapters also examine interventions that assist adolescents coping with these difficulties. Clinicians will come away from this book with both a grounded understanding of adolescent development and the adolescent experience of death and they'll also gain specific tools for helping adolescents cope with death and grief on their own terms. For any clinician committed to supporting adolescents facing some of life's most difficult experiences this integrated up to date and deeply insightful text is simply the book to have. David E. Balk is professor in the department of health and nutrition sciences at Brooklyn College CUNY where he directs the graduate program in thanatology. He is the author of Adolescent Development Early Through Late Adolescence, Helping the Bereaved College Student and several other books on death and bereavement. He is also co-editor of the 2nd edition of the Handbook of Thanatology (Routledge, 2013).

Grief, Loss and Bereavement Peter Wimpenny, John Costello, 2013-03-01. Dealing with the social experience of grief, loss and bereavement are challenging areas for everyone including health and social care practitioners who are often well placed to offer help and support to the bereaved. This book draws together a comprehensive range of worldwide evidence for understanding and supporting the bereaved in a variety of health and social care contexts. It can be used by practitioners from a wide range of backgrounds in both health and social care to gain an appreciation of bereavement and its associated support and care. Additionally it can be used for personal and professional development by practitioners who want to enhance their own and others' practice with the bereaved in specific contexts or organisations. The book may also be of value to those undertaking post graduate study who want to gain a wider understanding of the evidence related to bereavement and bereavement care practice in health and social care and may be seeking to add to the body of evidence in this field.

Grief in Children Atle Dyregrov, 2008. This fully updated second edition of Grief in Children provides an overview of children's understanding of death at different ages and outlines how the adults around them can best help them cope. The author provides guidance on handling loss and bereavement at school and discusses the value of bereavement groups and support for child and caregiver.

Midwives Coping with Loss and Grief Doreen Kenworthy, Mavis Kirkham, 2019-01-22. The experience of stillbirth and other losses in pregnancy at what is usually a time of great joy is tragic for everyone involved including midwifery professionals. Although research increasingly shows how profound the effects of loss can be, few studies have explored the effects of pregnancy loss which often leads to other personal and professional traumas such as loss of autonomy or a workplace on midwives. This in depth investigation uses a phenomenological approach to capture midwives' experiences of loss and grief in their own words and encompasses both pregnancy loss and wider professional and personal issues. It then makes recommendations to enhance midwives' resilience and ability to cope appropriately whilst giving maximum support to their clients. Reflections on the emerging implications for midwifery education and practice further broaden the scope of the analysis. The insights in this book will be of great use to midwifery.

managers and supervisors They will also help midwives to nurture themselves their colleagues and their clients at a time when pressures on the service can leave support lacking The devastating experience of losing a baby for women and their families is something that as midwives we strive to understand in order to provide appropriate practical and emotional support Doreen and Mavis encourage us to consider how we are affected by the grief of others at a deeply personal level Ultimately the message in this book is one of hope through reflection and the sharing of experiences midwives who have been with women whose babies have died can regain their personal strength and learn to re shape memories in ways that contribute to personal growth and understanding A From the Foreword by Nicky Leap Dealing with Death Michael Green, Jennifer Green, 2006-05-25 Dealing with Death is a comprehensive and authoritative source of information for professionals on the procedures laws and cultural customs that should be observed when someone dies This completely updated and expanded second edition takes into account changes in UK law and the impact of the Harold Shipman and Alder Hey enquiries Coping with the Death of a Child Darin D. Schiffman, 2019-06-19 Coping with the Death of a Child shows clinicians how to integrate various therapeutic modalities and clinical approaches to grief therapy into one comprehensive model linked to positive change This integrated model shows mental health professionals how to offer practical and emotional support to the bereaved using descriptions of treatments care protocols and guidelines Through this approach practitioners can foster interpersonal support and growth among families even when grieving styles and timing differ between individuals Clinicians and the families they treat will come away from the book with tools for recognizing distorted and pathogenic exchanges between family members for valuing the emotional elements of their individual experiences and for shifting toward solution focused activities Understanding Loss and Grief for Women Robert W. Buckingham, Peggy A. Managing Death: International Perspectives Gerry R. Cox, Neil Thompson, 2022-09-23 There is a huge collection of literature relating to death grief and bereavement but one aspect that has received relatively little attention is that of death management practices by which we mean the various ways of managing the circumstances of the death ritually acknowledging it and sensitively handling the disposal of the body and so on While ways of disposing of the dead and grief practices have been thought of as based upon individual responses grief and bereavement practices can be understood not only by looking at psychological and medical frameworks but also by examining people as part of a complex structure of social arrangements institutions structures and patterns By examining the social and institutional structures of various groups around the world we provide an international framework for a better understanding of the study of dying death and bereavement This book highlights the significance of these matters in an international context reflecting common themes and important differences It will highlight common themes across diverse cultures and national settings while also drawing attention to significant differences If professionals working in the field of death grief and bereavement are not aware of such differences their practice can be insensitive discriminatory and therefore ineffective if not actually counterproductive As such the book provides an invaluable resource for a wide variety of professionals and students including medicine and health care social work counselling and psychotherapy chaplaincy and pastoral work and of course those involved in the funeral industry In addition students of sociology psychology and anthropology will find much of interest here in terms of appreciating the diversity of ways in which funerals and other death management practices are managed and integrated into social life

Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, Sara Sanders, 2021-08-31 Living Through Loss provides a foundational identification of the many ways in which people experience loss over the life course from childhood to old age It examines the interventions most effective at each phase of life combining theory sound clinical practice and empirical research with insights emerging from powerful accounts of personal experience The authors emphasize that loss and grief are universal yet highly individualized Loss comes in many forms and can include not only a loved one's death but also divorce adoption living with chronic illness caregiving retirement and relocation or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach the topic from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges people's capacity to find meaning in their losses and integrate grief into their lives The book explores the varying roles of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in responses to loss Presenting a variety of models approaches and resources Living Through Loss offers invaluable lessons that can be applied in any practice setting by a wide range of human service and health care professionals This second edition features new and expanded content on diversity and trauma including discussions of gun violence police brutality suicide and an added focus on systemic racism Perspectives on Death and Dying June L. Leishman, 2009 In the past most people encountered death at a relatively young age Dying relatives were cared for at home and mortality rates were higher Today there is much less familiarity with death which increasingly takes place in hospitals hospices and nursing homes This wide ranging and enlightening book offers an exploration of death and dying as human conditions that impact on the individual their significant others and those involved with their care and well being It is aimed at medical and healthcare staff social workers and counsellors as well as social sciences and health psychology students professional health and social care educationalists and anyone with an interest in this topic Drawing on aspects of social anthropology history and the social and behavioural sciences the book examines the customs attitudes and beliefs surrounding death and dying Emphasis is placed on the unique experience of death for each individual and the book highlights the challenges faced by those who work with people who are dying or those who have experienced loss through death In addition each chapter ends with some reflective questions that allow the reader to consider certain issues at a more personal level

Loss, Dying and Bereavement in the Criminal Justice System Sue Read, Sotirios Santatzoglou, Anthony Wrigley, 2018-03-22 Life is characterised by movement change and development including transitions losses and grief People experiencing loss must learn to accommodate it and sometimes relearn new roles Whether the offender is accommodating general loss such as transition the loss of others or facing their own impending death the bereavement process can become a particularly complicated experience for those involved in the criminal justice system Criminal offenders may be excluded from participating in grief rituals and may receive few explicit opportunities to talk about a loss they've experienced sometimes resulting in disenfranchised grief Informing thinking around assessment care and support procedures this volume seeks to bring together a range of perspectives from different disciplines on crucial issues surrounding the impact of loss death dying and bereavement for criminal offenders The book will explore inherent challenges and responses to the criminal justice system by considering to what extent offenders loss death dying and bereavement experiences have been or should be recognised in policy and practice The first section considers theoretical approaches to loss the next section translates these issues using professional perspectives to explore practical applications and the final section introduces an offender perspective Through identifying challenges and consolidating evidence this multidisciplinary book will interest researchers interested in loss and bereavement in vulnerable communities concepts of disenfranchised grief end of life care and mental healthcare in the criminal justice system

Cultural Influences in Coping with Grief Frank E. Eyetsemitan, 2025-03-26 This book appeals to scholars and students interested in culture and bereavement Bereavement occurs in a socio cultural context which helps to provide an understanding of how people would cope with grief accordingly For example coping with grief in the context of the workplace would be different than coping with grief in the case of a spousal loss When compared to competing books this book's approach is unique Topics covered include widowhood abortion death anxiety dying experience workplace bereavement resilience disenfranchised grief and grief rituals Unlike competing books culture is given prominence beyond religion in coping with grief
