¹ To address the issue, the authors first tested the model with the same dependent variable as in the previous study, the number of employees. The results were similar to those reported in the previous study.

As noted earlier, the 2004 election was a watershed year for the U.S. health insurance industry. The election of George W. Bush, who was elected on a platform of health care reform, resulted in a change of leadership in the U.S. House of Representatives. The new House leadership, headed by Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-IL), was more sympathetic to the health insurance industry than the previous House leadership, headed by Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-CA). This change in leadership was a significant factor in the passage of the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005, which included provisions that were favorable to the health insurance industry.
