A House Divided Anne M. Wagner,2012-02-14 In this much needed and courageous book Anne Wagner lays down a gauntlet to all those interested in modern and contemporary art to think anew about these works by canonic artists and about the relationship of art to recent history and politics Wagner presents an exhilarating and innovative set of closely worked historical arguments that are remarkably timely and her lucid prose makes complex ideas and critical debates accessible to a broad audience Briony Fer Professor of History of Art UCL In A House Divided Anne Wagner takes on the so called post war era in American art and asks searching questions about what that term might mean now amid cultural division and perpetual war Far more than a sum of its parts this collection of essays is essential reading on American artists post war responses to nationalism state violence and the 1960s Mignon Nixon author of Fantastic Reality Louise Bourgeois and a Story of Modern Art Believing in Opera Tom Sutcliffe, 2014-07-14 The staging of opera has become immensely controversial over the last twenty years Tom Sutcliffe here offers an engaging and far reaching book about opera performance and interpretation This work is a unique tribute to the most distinctive and adventurous achievements in the theatrical interpretation of opera as it has developed in recent decades Readers will find descriptions of the most original and successful avant garde opera productions in Britain Europe and America Sutcliffe beautifully illustrates how updating transposition or relocation and a variety of unexpected imagery in opera have qualified and adjusted our perception of the content and intention of established masterpieces Believing in Opera describes in detail the seminal opera productions of the last fifty years starting with Peter Brook in London after the war and continuing with the work of such directors and producers as Patrice Chereau in Bayreuth Peter Sellars and David Alden in America Ruth Berghaus in Frankfurt and such British directors as Richard Jones Graham Vick Peter Hall and David Pountney Through his descriptions of these works Sutcliffe states that theatrical opera has been enormously influenced by the editing style imagery and metaphor commonplace in the cinema and pop videos The evolution of the performing arts depends upon revitalization and defamiliarization he asserts The issue is no longer naturalism but the liberation of the audience's imagination powered by the music Sutcliffe an opera critic for many years argues that opera is theater plus music of the highest expressive quality and as a result he has often sided with unconventional and novel theatrical interpretations He believes that there is more to opera than meets the ear and his aim is to further the process of understanding and interpretation of these important opera productions No other book has attempted this kind of monumental survey Originally published in 1997 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1970-12 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Passion & Clarity Debra Murphy-Livingston, 2002 Joseph Jeffers Dodge was trained as an art historian and museum administrator at Harvard University before accepting his first job as curator of the Hyde Collection in Glens Fall New York At the same time he began actively painting and exhibiting his work In 1962 Dodge was invited to take the director's position at the Cummer Museum of Art Gardens a position he held for ten years before making a full time commitment to painting Impact Ali Rahim, Hina Jamelle, 2020-10-06 This issue of AD explores the working discipline of architecture as it impacts the material culture within which it is always embedded An architecture of impact uses advanced digital techniques in such a way that its material
