Running Up That Hill Vassos Alexander, 2018-03-08
SHORTLISTED FOR THE TELEGRAPH SPORTS HEALTH FITNESS BOOK OF THE YEAR AWARD 2019 RUNNING AWARDS
2019 TOP BOOK Running Up That Hill is a celebration of endurance running Of running ridiculous distances through cities over mountains and across countries Distances most people couldn't even imagine But sports presenter Vassos Alexander is hooked Why else would he run an ultra in Paris backwards having missed the start Why head to Wales for the world's hardest mountain race with a badly sprained ankle And why follow in some unforgiving ancient footsteps and attempt the oldest and toughest footrace on earth the 153 mile Spartathlon There's joy to be found here Really there is Vassos recalls his own assaults on these gruelling races along with ultra running legends including Scott Jurek Jasmin Paris Kilian Jornet Mimi Anderson and Dean Karnazes They all testify to the transformative power of endurance running It's about the astonishing highs that come from pushing your body to the limit The confidence and peace when you challenge yourself and succeed All told this is a cracking tale of what keeps ultra distance runners running mile after mile after mile television program to explore that program's cultural significance, creative strategies, and its place in a broader social context. How to Watch Television brings together forty original essays from today's leading scholars on television culture, writing about the programs they care and think the most about. Each essay focuses on a particular television show, demonstrating one way to read the program and through it, our media culture. The essays model how to practice media criticism in accessible language, providing critical insights through analysis, suggesting a way of looking at TV that students and interested viewers might emulate. The contributors discuss a wide range of television programs, past and present, covering many formats and genres, spanning fiction and non-fiction, broadcast and cable, providing a broad representation of the programs that are likely to be covered in a media studies course. While the book primarily focuses on American television, important programs with international origins and transnational circulation are also covered. Addressing television series from the medium's earliest days to contemporary online transformations of television, How to Watch Television is designed to engender classroom discussion among television critics of all backgrounds.

Amazing Pace Paul McMullen, 2006-08-08 A vibrant portrait of American swimmer Michael Phelps, the dominant athlete at the 2004 Olympics who has relentlessly pushed himself, promoted his sport, and appears poised to ultimately accumulate the most gold medals in Olympic history. Before he was old enough to have a driver's license, Michael Phelps had a world record. Before he ever took a college class or turned 20, he had earned distinction by winning 8 medals, 6 gold and 2 bronze, at the Athens Olympics, the most in non-boycotted Games. Along the way, he captivated an American television audience and confounded the critics who questioned his ambition. Amazing Pace provides the most revealing look yet at a young man who became a world-class athlete before he had the chance to grow up, by respected Baltimore Sun journalist Paul McMullen, who followed Phelps's rise from an obscure 14-year-old to the most scrutinized competitor at the world's biggest sporting event, details the plotting of his career from turning professional at age 16 to the management of the first crises he encountered. Paul McMullen's 5 years of observation add dramatic context to the life of a young athlete whose rise to prominence coincided with the tumult of the first Summer Olympics after 9/11. No Olympian has ever earned 10 gold medals in a career, but Michael Phelps is on pace to achieve that milestone at the 2008 Games in Beijing, China.
