Greening The Common Agricultural Policy Greening The Common Agricultural Policy

John Marsh, Bryn Green

Greening The Common Agricultural Policy Greening The Common Agricultural Policy:

Greening the Common Agricultural Policy Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Committee, 2012 The European Commission proposes that 30% of direct payments made to farmers under the Common Agricultural Policy CAP would be conditional on compliance with three new greening measures While supporting the Commission's desire to improve the environment the EFRA Committee rejects the approach proposed Instead it calls for the EU to set high level objectives for the CAP that provide for flexibility to apply the right measures for local conditions through decentralising environmental protection under the CAP to Member States This report highlights the huge benefit that UK agri environment schemes have brought to biodiversity food production and the countryside The Committee also urged Defra to ensure that the UK's tenant farmers should not be excluded from these schemes The Committee concludes that Defra must ensure the balance of funding between mandatory and voluntary aspects of the CAP should not leave UK farmers at a competitive disadvantage relative to their counterparts in the rest of Europe MPs also warn that measures proposed by the Commission would be even more complex than the current system adding costly bureaucracy and generating more errors in the system Likewise the committee concludes that the Commission's crop diversification measure would in the UK have perverse consequences that are far less environmentally beneficial than crop rotation Of the three greening measures offered the Commission's proposal for Ecological Focus Areas EFA has the potential to deliver the greatest environmental benefit However the lack of definitions within the proposals make it difficult to assess what if any such benefits would actually be delivered

Common Agricultural Policy Robert Ackrill, 2000-11-01 The CAP has traditionally been at the core of the European Communities and even now consumes half of the European Union's budget This book emphasizes the long term link between the CAP and the budget It examines the aims of the Common Agricultural Policy as set out in the Treaty of Rome and discusses to what extent they have been achieved and whether they are relevant to the 21st century The factors that have shaped the 1992 and 1999 CAP reforms are outlined with the latter in particular demonstrating the budget's effect on CAP and CAP reforms The internationalization of CAP with constraints being placed on it by the World Trade Organization is another important factor covered by the book The 1999 reforms are measured against what may be allowed by the WTO and the demands of EU enlargement This title is published in conjunction with UACES the University Association for Contemporary European Studies UACES web site can be found at www.uaces.org подходы и опыт стран Восточной Европы и России Коллектив авторов, 2016-07-11 Towards a Greening of the Common Agricultural Policy Stella Zervoudaki, 1998 The greening of agricultural policies in Germany Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2025-04-01 This report delves into the status of green policies in Germany exploring their alignment with key European Union initiatives such as the Common Agricultural Policy CAP the European Green Deal and the Biodiversity Strategy for 2030 These frameworks provide the foundation upon which Germany has built its robust approach to sustainability emphasizing environmental protection resource efficiency and social equity This report provides guiding principles and actionable recommendations that can be used by policymakers to improve agricultural policy and environmental sustainability in Germany and beyond by reorienting their food systems towards better nutrition environmental sustainability and economic resilience This report further delves into the regionally tailored approaches Germany has taken with regard to agricultural environmental and climate measures Federal states such as Bavaria emerge as leaders leveraging diverse agricultural landscapes to implement robust programmes targeting biodiversity water quality and cultural landscape preservation Greening the Common Agricultural Policy: Past Experiences and Future Challenges Toward Multifunctional Agriculture , 2015 Environment: Towards a Greening of the Common Agricultural Policy Stella Zervoudaki, 1998 The Changing Role of the Common Agricultural Policy John Marsh, Bryn Green, 1991 The Agricultural Law of the EU René Barents, 2022-05-13 European Monographs Series Volume 9 This second and much revised edition of the pre eminent work on European Union EU agricultural law emphasises the sweeping changes that have led to the gradual expansion of the common agricultural policy to encompass the food chain as a whole Although the new edition s purpose and methodology remain the same the author presents a completely new overview of the field as it now exists including the effects of the latest reform measures up to 2021 and their implications for the future Imparting in depth awareness of the multifunctional character of agriculture today its importance for environmental protection preservation of biodiversity public health mitigation of climate change and rural development as well as its international obligations the book provides matchless insight and clarifications on such critical legal details as the following analysis of the Green Deal the Farm to Fork Strategy and the Biodiversity Strategy for 2030 extensive treatment of the TFEU provisions on agriculture and the impact of international legal instruments clear and easily accessible treatment of the legislation on market and price policy competition and the agri food chain thorough analysis of administrative law aspects in particular the rights and obligations of operators in the framework of numerous subsidy arrangements and related topics such as sanctions and force majeure and in depth treatment of the importance of the general principles of EU law for legal protection Given that about one third of the EU s budget is spent on agriculture and that European legislation on agriculture is voluminous and complicated and case law is abundant this well organised and lucid exposition will be of immeasurable value to any practitioner asked to deal with a case involving agriculture anywhere in the EU Academics aware of the growing intricacy of the field will welcome the author's reflections on the meaning and significance of EU agricultural law The Elgar Companion to the European Union Samuel B.H. Faure, Christian Lequesne, 2023-01-20 Constituting a major contribution to literature on the EU this comprehensive Companion analyses the structure and value of the EU capturing the normality of its politics alongside crises and political breakdown Greening the CAP : proceedings of a European Conference on the Common Agricultural Policy, Environment, Nature Conservation and Rural Development ; Ghent, October 1994 J. A. W. A. Reus, 1995 , Agricultural Subsidies in the WTO Green Box Ricardo Meléndez-Ortiz, Christophe Bellmann, Jonathan Hepburn, 2009-12-03 Do the World Trade Organization's rules on green box farm subsidies allow both rich and poor countries to achieve important goals such as food security or do they worsen poverty distort trade and harm the environment Current WTO requirements set no ceiling on the amount of green box subsidies that governments can provide on the basis that these payments cause only minimal trade distortion Governments are thus increasingly shifting their subsidy spending into this category as they come under pressure to reduce subsidies that are more directly linked to production However growing evidence nonetheless suggests that green box payments can affect production and trade harm farmers in developing countries and cause environmental damage By bringing together new research and critical thinking this book examines the relationship between green box subsidies and the achievement of sustainable development goals and explores options for future reform The Transformation of EU Geographical Indications Law Andrea Zappalaglio, 2021-05-25 Linking traditional and local products to a specific area is increasingly felt as a necessity in a globalised market and Geographical Indications GIs are emerging as a multifunctional tool capable of performing this and many other functions This book analyses the evolving nature of EU sui generis GIs by focusing on their key element the origin link and concludes that the history of the product in the broad sense has become a major factor to prove the link between a good and a specific place For the first time this area of Intellectual Property Law is investigated from three different although interrelated perspectives the history and comparative assessment of the systems of protection of Indications of Geographical Origin adopted in the European jurisdictions from the beginning of the 20th century the empirical analysis of the trends emerging from the practice of EUGIs and the policy debates surrounding them and their importance for the fulfilment of the general goals of the EU Common Agricultural Policy The result is an innovative and rounded analysis of the very nature of the EU Law of GIs that starting from its past investigates the present and the likely future of this Intellectual Property Right This book provides an interesting and innovative contribution to the field and will be of interest to GI scholars and Intellectual Property students as well as anyone willing to gain a better understanding of this compelling area of law Bioenergy from Dendromass for the Sustainable Development of Rural Areas David Butler Manning, Albrecht Bemmman, Michael Bredemeier, Norbert Lamersdorf, Christian Ammer, 2015-11-16 Dieses Referenzwerk untersucht aus globaler Sicht unter Berücksichtigung wirtschaftlicher, ökologischer und sozialer Fragestellungen das nachhaltige Management von Holzbiomasse und beschäftigt sich u.a. mit bewährten Verfahren zur Erhöhung der Produktivität bei Dendromasse sowie den möglichen Folgen für die Landwirtschaft und das Ökosystem

Institutional Challenges in the European Union Madeleine O. Hosli, Mika Widgrén, Adrian M. A. van Deemen, 2012-10-12

The European Union EU is a continuously evolving entity Starting with six member states in the late 1950s the EU currently encompasses fifteen states of Western Europe It is expected to almost double in size in the near future however taking in a number of states located in Central and Eastern Europe in addition to Cyprus and Malta This dramatic increase has led to an intensive debate on how the institutions of the EU should be adapted in order to cope with this growth This book addresses the challenges that EU enlargement and institutional change imply for various policy fields such as EU trade policy agriculture and monetary policy in the framework of European economic and monetary union It will be of interest to economists and political scientists seeking an up to date overview of institutional challenges facing the European Union
