Ma Baseema Middle Eastern Cooking With Chaldean Flair:

Ma Baseema Chaldean American Ladies of Charity, 2010 MA BASEEMA Middle Eastern Cuisine with Chaldean Flair gives you a taste of a culture that has one of the world's oldest cuisines dating back to ancient Mesopotamia. This culinary journey will show you the essence of Chaldean food and delight your palate with a tempting collection of recipes ranging from soups, appetizers, salads, main course dishes, breads, and desserts. Upon savoring a Chaldean homemade meal, we hope you will say Ma Baseema. How good it is! Many of the Chaldean signature dishes found in this cook have been handed down unchanged for generations. And while the cuisine of other cultures and countries may have aspects of a regional character, Chaldean food defies any regional distinctions. Different families or villages may lay claim to scrumptious variations of specific specialties, but the underlying ingredients and recipes, as well as styles of cooking, are common to all Chaldeans. The Chaldean people are passionate about their food and enjoy spending time preparing, cooking, and eating with family and friends. Presenting a meal to guests is important to Chaldean people, and we always strive to entertain warmly and joyously to everyone in our home. Great effort is made in ensuring that our guests are comfortable and enjoying their meal. Hospitality is highly valued, whether a person is a dear friend or merely an acquaintance, whether formally invited or spontaneously dropped by. Meals are more often a festive, casual experience than a formal one. If you are a host, remember to say fathalo, which means "do me the honor when you invite the guests to come to the table." Awafi Bon Appetite. Enjoy yourself, excite your senses, and do it in good health. Thank you, and Fathalo! The Chaldean American Ladies of Charity invite you to come to our table to share and enjoy meals that are a time-honored tradition in the Chaldean culture. Chaldeans in Detroit Jacob

Bacall, 2014. In greater Detroit, Chaldeans from present-day Iraq have established a strong presence and a thriving community. Chaldeans, pronounced Kaldean, are a distinct ethnic group from present-day Iraq with roots stretching back to Abraham, the biblical patriarch of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, who was from the Ur of the Chaldees. Chaldeans are Catholic with their own patriarch and they speak a dialect of Aramaic, the language of Jesus Christ. Chaldeans began immigrating to the United States at the beginning of the 20th century when Iraq was known as Mesopotamia, the Greek word meaning "land between two rivers," the Tigris and the Euphrates. Lured by Henry Ford's promise of 5¢ per day, many Chaldeans went to work in Detroit's automotive factories. They soon followed their entrepreneurial instincts to open their own businesses, typically grocery markets and corner stores. Religious persecution has caused tens of thousands of Chaldeans to relocate to Michigan. Today, the Greater Detroit area has the largest concentration of Chaldeans outside of Iraq, 150,000 people. Transnational Identity and Memory Making in the Lives of Iraqi Women in Diaspora Nadia Jones-Gailani, 2020-08-26. This book draws on an extensive archive of over one hundred oral narratives collected and recorded with Iraqi women in three sites: Amman, Detroit, and Toronto. Nadia Jones-Gailani demonstrates how the relationships between ethno-religious migrants, nation, and citizenship are shaped by the traumatic experiences of forced displacement and integration into new communities and national imaginaries This book also examines the broader historical trends that have precipitated migration from Iraq While informed by research into the archival documentary record on Iraqis in North America this book is first and foremost a study of gender and memory that focuses on women s oral histories By historicizing the process through which ethno religious and ethno national communities become fractured and remade Jones Gailani explores the expectations and realities of women as the supposed biological and cultural reproducers of the nation The Iraqi women featured in this book assert their claims to belonging across three different generations thereby opening up spaces to discuss how sites of migration shape the ability of migrants to lobby for the homeland even as they engage in daily struggles to advance their education and economic stability abroad

The New Book of Middle Eastern Food Claudia Roden, 2008-12-24. The definitive volume on Middle Eastern cooking, a modern classic from the award-winning bestselling author of The Book of Jewish Food and Claudia Roden's Mediterranean. Originally published in 1972 and hailed by James Beard as a landmark in the field of cookery, this new version represents the accumulation of the author's years of extensive travel throughout the ever-changing landscape of the Middle East, gathering recipes and stories. Now featuring more than 800 recipes, including the aromatic variations that accent a dish and define the country of origin: fried garlic and cumin and coriander from Egypt; cinnamon and allspice from Turkey; sumac and tamarind from Syria and Lebanon; pomegranate syrup from Iran; preserved lemon and harissa from North Africa. Claudia Roden has worked out simpler approaches to traditional dishes using healthier ingredients and time-saving methods without ever sacrificing any of the extraordinary flavor, freshness, and texture that distinguish the cooking of this part of the world. Throughout these pages, she draws on all four of the region's major cooking styles: The refined haute cuisine of Iran based on rice, exquisitely prepared and embellished with a range of meats, vegetables, fruits, and nuts; Arab cooking from Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan at its finest today; and a good source for vegetable and bulgur wheat dishes. The legendary Turkish cuisine with its kebabs, wheat and rice dishes, yogurt salads, savory pies, and syrupy pastries; North African cooking, particularly the splendid fare of Morocco with its heady mix of hot and sweet, orchestrated to perfection in its couscous dishes and tagines. From the tantalizing mezze, succulent bites of filled fillo crescents and cigars, chopped salads, and stuffed morsels, as well as tahina, chickpeas, and eggplant in their many guises, to the skewered meats and savory stews and hearty grain and vegetable dishes.
