Mangiameli,2011-10-12 The book contains 24 contributions from European law scholars and practitioners analysing the constitutional basis of the European Union and the normative orientation of the Common Foreign and Security Policy CFSP as well as the central economic and monetary provisions TFEU after the Reform Treaty of Lisbon Presenting the findings of a European research team which is composed of authors from eight Member States the publication underlines the aspiration of the editors to thoroughly analyse the constitutional law of the European Union currently in force European Integration

A Legal and Political Interpretation of Articles 224 and 225 of the Treaty of Rome Constantin Stefanou,Helen Xanthaki,2019-01-15 First published in 1997 Article 224 is one of the most powerful Articles of the Treaty of Rome allowing a member state to take unilateral measures and to suspend some or all its Treaty based obligations in times of what can loosely be described as serious internal turmoil or external threat It is for this reason that the very next Article of the Treaty Article 225 allows the Commission or a member state to challenge invocation of Art 224 before the European Court of Justice ECJ on grounds of improper use In practice the use of Art 224 by a member state presents multiple problems The obvious connection with defence and security issues has inhibited the ECJ which still has not given an authentic interpretation of this Article As the recent former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia FYROM cases Greek referral for the embargo on FYROM indicate unless the use of Art 224 is blatantly flippant the ECJ is not in a position to challenge a member state s unilateral measures
