Made Nunavut Experiment Decentralized Government:

Made in Nunavut Jack Hicks, Graham White, 2015-12-01 On April 1 1999 after decades of dreams and negotiations and years of planning the Inuit dominated territory of Nunavut came into being in Canada's Eastern and Central Arctic This was a momentous occasion signifying not only the first change to the map of Canada in over half a century but also a remarkable achievement in terms of creating a new government from the ground up Made in Nunavut provides the first behind the scenes account of how the Government of Nunavut was designed and implemented Written by leading authorities on governance in the Canadian Arctic this book pays particular attention to the most distinctive and innovative organizational design feature of the new government the decentralization of offices and functions that would normally be located in the capital to small communities spread out across the vast territory It also critically assesses whether decentralization has delivered better government for the people of Nunavut

"We Are in Charge Here" Graham White, 2023-04-28 Powerful innovative Indigenous self governance regimes are increasingly important players in Canadian politics but little academic work has been done on their structure operation and effectiveness We Are In Charge Here examines the central institution of the most populous Indigenous self governance regime in Canada the elected Assembly of the Nunatsiavut Government Nunatsiavut our beautiful land in Inuktitut was established in 2006 by a modern treaty between the Labrador Inuit and the Canadian state Graham White offers a thorough observation of the Assembly based on interviews with Assembly members and others involved in Nunatsiavut politics observation of Assembly sessions and a review of official documents in order to provide a comprehensive picture of the Assembly its members and its operations The book examines the Assembly's effectiveness in performing traditional legislative functions such as representation policy making and accountability It addresses key concerns including executive legislative power relations Inuit influence on Assembly operations and the Assembly's role in realizing self government Illuminating the intersection of Indigenous self governance approaches and Western institutions We Are In Charge Here will be of interest to political leaders legislative officials and academics concerned with the design and on the ground functioning of Indigenous self government

Indigenous Empowerment through Co-management Graham White, 2020-02-01 Co management boards established under comprehensive land claims agreements with Indigenous peoples have become key players in land use planning wildlife management and environmental regulation across Canada's North This book provides a detailed account of the operation and effectiveness of these new forms of federalism in order to address a central question Have co management boards been successful in ensuring substantial Indigenous involvement in policies affecting the land and wildlife in their traditional territories Graham White tackles this question drawing on decades of research and writing about the politics of Northern Canada He begins with an overview of the boards examining their legal foundations structure and membership decision making processes and independence from government He then presents case studies of several important boards While White identifies constraints on the role Northern Indigenous peoples play in board processes he finds that overall they exercise extensive decision making influence These findings are provocative and offer valuable insights into our understanding of the importance of land claims boards and the role they play in the evolution of treaty federalism in Canada Restructuring Relations Rauna Kuokkanen,2019-03-01 Self determination both individual and collective is among the most important and pressing issues for Indigenous women worldwide Yet Indigenous women s interests have been overlooked in the formulation of Indigenous self government and existing studies of Indigenous capacity building virtually ignore issues of gender Drawing on Indigenous and feminist political and legal theory as well as extensive participant interviews in Canada Greenland and Scandinavia this book argues that the current rights discourse and focus on Indigenous state relations is too limited in scope to convey the full meaning of self determination for Indigenous peoples The book conceptualizes self determination as a foundational value informed by the norm of integrity and suggests that Indigenous self determination cannot be achieved without restructuring all relations of domination nor can it be secured in the absence of gender justice Restructuring Relations Rauna Johanna Kuokkanen,2019 Self determination foundational value Indigenous self government structures in Canada Greenland and S pmi Implementing indigenous self determination self administration repatriation or independence Gendering indigenous self government Self determination and violence against indigenous women Indigenous gender justice as restructuring relations The Public Sector in an Age of Austerity Bryan M. Evans,Carlo Fanelli,2018-07-23 Following the 2008 global financial crisis Canada appeared to escape the austerity implemented elsewhere but this was spin hiding the reality A closer look reveals that the provinces responsible for delivering essential public and social services such as education and healthcare shouldered the burden The Public Sector in an Age of Austerity examines public sector austerity in the provinces and territories specifically addressing how austerity was implemented what forms austerity agendas took from regressive taxes and new user fees to public sector layoffs and privatization schemes and what if any political responses resulted Contributors focus on the period from 2007 to 2015 the global financial crisis and the period of fiscal consolidation that followed while also providing a longer historical context austerity is not a new phenomenon A granular examination of each jurisdiction identifies how changing fiscal conditions have affected the delivery of public services and restructured public finances highlighting the consequences such changes have had for public sector workers and users of public services The first book of its kind in Canada The Public Sector in an Age of Austerity challenges conventional wisdom by showing that Canada did not escape post crisis austerity and that its recovery has been vastly overstated Breaking Through Wilfrid Greaves,P. Whitney Lackenbauer,2021-02-02 This book examines what sovereignty and security mean in an Arctic region that is changing rapidly due to the intersection of globalization climate change and geopolitical competition Routledge Handbook of Indigenous Peoples in the Arctic Timo Koivurova,Else Grete Broderstad,Dorothee Cambou,Dalee Dorrough,Florian Stammer,2020-12-03 This handbook brings together the expertise of Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars to offer a comprehensive overview of issues surrounding the well being self determination and sustainability of Indigenous peoples in the Arctic Offering multidisciplinary insights from leading figures this handbook highlights Indigenous challenges approaches and solutions to pressing issues in Arctic regions such as a warming climate and the loss of biodiversity It furthers our understanding of the Arctic experience by analyzing how people not only survive but thrive in the planet s harshest climate through their innovation ingenuity and agency to tackle rapidly changing environments and evolving political social economic and cultural conditions The book is structured into three distinct parts that cover key topics in recent and future research with Indigenous Peoples in the Arctic The first part examines the diversity of Indigenous peoples and their cultural expressions in the different Arctic states It also focuses on the well being of Indigenous peoples in the Arctic regions The second part relates to the identities and livelihoods that Indigenous peoples in Arctic regions derive from the resources in their environments This interconnection between resources and people s identities underscores their entitlements to use their lands and resources The third and final part provides insights into the political involvement of Indigenous peoples from local all the way to the international level and their right to self determination and some of the recent related topics in this field This book offers a novel contribution to Arctic studies empowering Indigenous research for the future and rebuilding the image of Indigenous peoples as proactive participants signaling their pivotal role in the co production of knowledge It will appeal to scholars and students of law political sciences geography anthropology Arctic studies and environmental studies as well as policy makers and professionals

Schouls,2023-11-30 The Spaces In Between examines prospects for the enhanced practice of Indigenous political sovereignty within the Canadian state As Indigenous rights include the right to self determination the book contends that restored practices of Indigenous sovereignty constitute important steps forward in securing better relationships between Indigenous peoples and the Canadian state While the Canadian state maintains its position of dominance with respect to the exercise of state sovereignty Tim Schouls reveals how Indigenous nations are nevertheless carving out and reclaiming areas of significant political power as their own By means of strategically acquired legal concessions through hard fought political negotiations and sometimes through simple declarations of intent Indigenous nations have repeatedly compelled the Canadian state to roll back its jurisdiction over them In doing so they have enhanced their prospects for political sovereignty within Canada As such they now increasingly occupy what Schouls refers to metaphorically as the spaces in between The book asserts that occupation of these jurisdictional spaces in between not only goes some distance in meeting the requirements of Indigenous rights but also contributes to Indigenous community autonomy and well being enhancing prospects for reconciliation between Indigenous peoples and the Canadian state Design and the Built Environment of the Arctic Leena Cho,Matthew Jull,2023-12-20
