Greatness Who Makes History And Why:

Greatness Dean Keith Simonton, 1994-05-21 This path breaking work offers the first comprehensive examination of the important personalities and events that have influenced the course of history It discusses whether people who go down in history are different from the rest of us and whether specific personality traits predispose certain people to become world leaders movie stars scientific geniuses and athletes It sheds light on the depth of potential in everyone yielding important clues as to how we can take advantage of our own individual personality traits Probing the lives of a range of important figures the book explores the full range of phenomena associated with greatness scrutinizing the significance of everything from genetic inheritance intuition aesthetic appreciation and birth order to formal education sexual orientation aging IQ and alcohol and drug abuse This book will be of interest to anyone interested in the people and events that have helped shape the world including mental health professionals and scholars studying psychological topics in the larger context of science art politics and history The book also serves as an engaging text for undergraduate psychology courses Encyclopedia of Creativity Mark A. Runco, Steven R. Pritzker, 1999-08-02 This encyclopaedia provides specific information and guidance for everyone who is searching for greater understanding and inspiration Subjects include theories of creativity techniques for enhancing creativity individuals who have made contributions to creativity Riveted: The Science of Why Jokes Make Us Laugh, Movies Make Us Cry, and Religion Makes Us Feel One with the Universe Jim Davies, 2014-08-05 Why do some things pass under the radar of our attention but other things capture our interest Why do some religions catch on and others fade away What makes a story a movie or a book riveting Why do some people keep watching the news even though it makes them anxious The past 20 years have seen a remarkable flourishing of scientific research into exactly these kinds of questions Professor Jim Davies fascinating and highly accessible book Riveted reveals the evolutionary underpinnings of why we find things compelling from art to religion and from sports to superstition Compelling things fit our minds like keys in the ignition turning us on and keeping us running and yet we are often unaware of what makes these keys fit What we like and don't like is almost always determined by subconscious forces and when we try to consciously predict our own preferences we're often wrong In one study of speed dating people were asked what kinds of partners they found attractive When the results came back the participants' answers before the exercise had no correlation with who they actually found attractive in person We are beginning to understand just how much the brain makes our decisions for us we are rewarded with a rush of pleasure when we detect patterns as the brain thinks we've discovered something significant the mind urges us to linger on the news channel or rubberneck an accident in case it might pick up important survival information it even pushes us to pick up People magazine in order to find out about changes in the social structure Drawing on work from philosophy anthropology religious studies psychology economics computer science and biology Davies offers a comprehensive explanation to show that in spite of the differences between the many things that we find compelling they have similar effects on our minds and brains The

Sexual Paradox Susan Pinker, 2010-01-11 After four decades of eradicating gender barriers at work and in public life why do men still dominate business politics and the most highly paid jobs Why do high achieving women opt out of successful careers Psychologist Susan Pinker explores the illuminating answers to these questions in her groundbreaking first book In The Sexual Paradox Susan Pinker takes a hard look at how fundamental sex differences continue to play out in the workplace By comparing the lives of fragile boys and promising girls Pinker turns several assumptions upside down that the sexes are biologically equivalent that smarts are all it takes to succeed that men and women have identical goals If most children with problems are boys then why do many of them as adults overcome early obstacles while rafts of competent even gifted women choose jobs that pay less or decide to opt out at pivotal moments in their careers Weaving interviews with men and women into the most recent discoveries in psychology neuroscience and economics Pinker walks the reader through these minefields Are men the more fragile sex Which sex is the happiest at work What does neuroscience tell us about ambition Why do some male school drop outs earn more than the bright motivated girls who sat beside them in third grade Pinker argues that men and women are not clones and that gender discrimination is just one part of the persistent gender gap A work world that is satisfying to us all will recognize sex differences not ignore them or insist that we all be the same Holistic Leadership

Satinder Dhiman, 2017-01-11 This book suggests that the solution to the current leadership crisis lies in leaders self cultivation process emanating from their deepest values and culminating in their contribution to the common good Traditional approaches to leadership rarely provide any permeating or systematic framework to garner a sense of higher purpose or nurture deeper moral and spiritual dimensions of leaders Learning to be an effective leader requires a level of personal transformation on the continuum of self spirit and service Synthesizing the best of contemporary approaches to leadership in a holistic manner this book presents a unique model of leadership that is built on the sound principles of Self Motivation Personal Mastery Creativity and Flow Emotional Intelligence Optimal Performance Appreciative Inquiry Authentic Leadership Transformational Leadership Positive Psychology Moral Philosophy and Wisdom Traditions of the world This broad interdisciplinary approach is well suited to effectively address the multifaceted issues faced by contemporary organizations and leaders It will be of great interest to graduate business and organizational leadership students and faculty as well as corporate leaders Wired to Create Scott Barry Kaufman, PhD, Carolyn Gregoire, 2016-12-27 Is it possible to make sense of something as elusive as creativity Based on psychologist Scott Barry Kaufman s groundbreaking research and Carolyn Gregoire s popular article in the Huffington Post Wired to Create offers a glimpse inside the messy minds of highly creative people Revealing the latest findings in neuroscience and psychology along with engaging examples of artists and innovators throughout history the book shines a light on the practices and habits of mind that promote creative thinking Kaufman and Gregoire untangle a series of paradoxes like mindfulness and daydreaming seriousness and play openness and sensitivity and solitude and collaboration to show that it is by embracing our own contradictions that we are able to tap into our deepest creativity Each chapter explores one of the ten attributes and habits of highly creative people Imaginative Play Passion Daydreaming Solitude Intuition Openness to Experience Mindfulness Sensitivity Turning Adversity into Advantage Thinking Differently With insights from the work and lives of Pablo Picasso Frida Kahlo Marcel Proust David Foster Wallace Thomas Edison Josephine Baker John Lennon Michael Jackson musician Thom Yorke chess champion Josh Waitzkin video game designer Shigeru Miyamoto and many other creative luminaries Wired to Create helps us better understand creativity and shows us how to enrich this essential aspect of our lives
