Palifka, 2016-03-07 The second edition of Corruption and Government updates Susan Rose Ackerman's 1999 book to address emerging issues and to rethink old questions in light of new data The book analyzes the research explosion that accompanied the fall of the Berlin Wall the founding of Transparency International and the World Bank's decision to give anti corruption policy a key place on its agenda Time has vindicated Rose Ackerman's emphasis on institutional reform as the necessary condition for serious progress The book deals with routine payoffs and with corruption in contracting and privatization It gives special attention to political corruption and to instruments of accountability The authors have expanded the treatment of culture as a source of entrenched corruption and added chapters on criminal law organized crime and post conflict societies The book outlines domestic conditions for reform and discusses international initiatives including both explicit anti corruption policies and efforts to constrain money laundering Bad Mothers: Regulations, Representations and Resistance Hughes Michelle Miller, 2017-03-01 While the image or construct of the good mother has been the focus of many research projects the bad mother as a discursive construct and also mothers who do bad things as complicated agentic social actors have been quite neglected despite the prevalence of the image of the bad mother across late modern societies The few researchers who address this powerful social image point out that bad mothers are culturally identified by what they do yet they are also socially recognized by who they are Mothers become potentially bad when they behave or express opinions that diverge from or challenge social or gender norms or when they deviate from mainstream white middle class heterosexual nondisabled normativity When suspected of being bad mothers women are surveilled and may be disciplined punished or otherwise excluded by various official agents i.e. legal medical and welfare institutions as well as by their relatives friends and communities Too often women are judged and punished without clear evidence that they are neglecting or abusing their children Frequently they are blamed for the marginal sociocultural context in which they are mothering This anthology presents empirical theoretical and creative works that address the construct of the bad mother and the lived realities of mothers labeled as bad Throughout the volume the editors consider voices and acts of resistance to bad mother constructions demonstrating that mothers across time and across domains have individually and collectively taken a stand against this destructive label A Very Short, Fairly Interesting and Reasonably Cheap Book about International Business George Cairns, Martyna Sliwa, 2017-05-01 The Second Edition of International Business includes recent impacts on international business such as the financial crisis Brexit and the changing political landscape Chinese steel prices and the Panama Papers revelations It includes two new chapters on understanding people and organizations in International Business as well as coverage of recent international reports from Amnesty Oxfam and the World Bank

Conceived by Chris Grey as an antidote to conventional textbooks each book in the Very Short Fairly Interesting and Reasonably Cheap series takes a core area of the curriculum and turns it on its head by providing a critical and sophisticated overview of the key issues and debates in an informal conversational and often humorous way Suitable for students of International Business professionals working in global organizations and anyone curious about the workings of the international business world Corruption and Anti-Corruption Upside Down Fernanda Odilla, Konstantinos
