Theseus and the Minotaur

The walls of the Labyrinth were a maze above the labyrinthine city.

A Minotaur standing in the Labyrinth.

In ancient Greece, there were some very famous myths. One of the most famous myths was about a monster called the Minotaur that lived in a giant maze called the Labyrinth. The Minotaur was a terrifying creature with the body of a bull and the head of a man. Every year, the city of Athens had to send seven boys and seven girls to the Minotaur. Theseus thought this was very unfair and decided to stop it. He volunteered to go to Crete to be one of the sacrifices. But he promised his father, the king of Athens, that he would return safely. If he did, he would become the king of Athens. If he didn't, he would become a sacrifice to the Minotaur. Theseus arrived in Crete, the king's daughter, Ariadne, and she gave him a ball of white yarn. At the end of the yarn, instead of the monster, he found a path. Theseus walked in a circle, and he found a way out of the Labyrinth. Theseus arrived in Athens, and he became the king of Athens.
