black mosaic Richard Kenyada,2014-05 In Black Mosaic Essays for Post Racial America Richard Kenyada assesses the progress we've made in our quest to find the key element that unites us as Americans and further as human beings The term post racialpopped up after the first Obama victory but the mood of the country has not reflected that kind of hope In many ways Americans seem to be drawing their own lines in the sand But it's no longer the historic us against them of the Cold War era The lines are being drawn between Americans races classes genders and sexual orientation The Best 168

Warfare in Black Atlanta Augustus Wood,2025-05-27 Between 1966 and 2015 the city of Atlanta was transformed In the late 1960s Black politicians ascended to the top of the power structure for the first time thanks to newly enfranchised Black working class voters Through the early 1970s the demographics of the city shifted and the combination of Black empowerment and white flight produced a growing Black working class majority that increasingly demanded Black Power policies that often clashed with the policies supported by affluent residents But by the 2010s Atlanta's city core had been thoroughly gentrified and the ability of Black working class Atlantans to organize and build power had diminished significantly Tracing the history of post civil rights Black Atlanta through rigorous class analysis Augustus Wood argues that Black and white elites responded to an energized and politicized Black working class by forging a public private partnership power bloc that included the small but growing Black political leadership expanding the racial class contradictions in Black Atlanta This bloc worked to shift state funding away from public services and toward gentrification projects that demolished subsidized housing and it ramped up police surveillance to deter working class resistance Paying close attention to political economy and class while drawing on unexamined archival sources and oral histories of Black working class Atlantans especially Black women Wood reframes our understanding of contemporary Black urban life by highlighting the centrality of the dynamics of intraracial class conflict in urban space Directory of Georgia's Historical's [sic] Organizations and

Mergent Bond Record ,2006 Sexual Justice Alexandra Brodsky,2025-10-16 A pathbreaking work for the next stage of the MeToo movement showing how we can address sexual harms with fairness to both victims and the accused and exposing the sexism that shapes today s contentious debates about due process Over the past few years a remarkable number of sexual harassment victims have come forward with their stories demanding consequences for their assailants and broad societal change Each prominent allegation however has also set off a wave of questions some posed in good faith some distinctly not about the rights of the accused The national conversation has grown polarized inflamed by a public narrative that wrongly presents feminism and fair process as warring interests Sexual Justice is an intervention pointing the way to common ground Drawing on core principles of civil rights law and the personal experiences of victims and the accused Alexandra Brodsky details how schools workplaces and other institutions can indeed must address sexual harms in ways fair to all She shows why these allegations cannot be left to police and prosecutors alone and outlines the key principles of fair proceedings outside the courts Brodsky explains how contemporary debates continue the long sexist history of rape exceptionalism in which sexual allegations are treated as uniquely suspect And she calls on readers to resist the anti feminist backlash that hijacks the rhetoric of due process to protect male impunity Vivid and eye opening at once intellectually rigorous and profoundly empathetic Sexual Justice clears up common misunderstandings about sexual harassment traces the forgotten histories that underlie our current predicament and illuminates the way to a more just world Harris Georgia Manufacturers Directory Fran Carlsen,2005 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2001 Farmers and Consumers
