The Triumph Motor Company is known around the world for its iconic sports cars. The hugely popular TR series Spitfires and GT 6s represent the quintessential British sports car: rugged good looks were combined with performance and economy at a price everyone could afford. These sports cars are always in demand and prized by British car collectors, racers, and open air motoring enthusiasts. Triumph understood the connection between competition success and sales success and was able to parlay rally and road racing wins into the best selling sports cars in the world, particularly in the United States during the 1950s and 1960s. The Works competition cars notched victories at Le Mans, Sebring, the Monte Carlo rally, and many others, and inspired privateers to take their cars to the track. Every model came from a bloodline of racing. Triumph historian G. William Krause reviews every model in the sports car lineup. He covers the history, design, evolution, and performance specifications from the first sports cars in the 1930s through the final cars built in 1981. Throughout Triumph's history, a number of pivotal moments could have significantly changed the company's fortunes. This book also looks at the "what if" cars that never made it into production, including photos. Although they have not been built for more than three decades, their mark on sports car history is undeniable. Whether you're a fan of the spartan brutes of the 1950s or the refined comfort and performance of the last TRs, you will find the backstory of your favorites here. p 1 margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px font 12 0px Arial

The Chequered Past David Anderson Charters, 2007-01-01
In the forty year period between 1951 and 1991, Canadian sports car competition underwent a massive change, transforming itself from an amateur recreational pastime to a commercialized profession and from an individual sport to a spectacle for mass consumption. The Chequered Past is the story of the struggle over power and purpose within the Canadian auto sport that led to this transformation. The first comprehensive history of sports car racing and rallying in Canada, The Chequered Past traces the efforts of the national governing body, the Canadian Auto Sport Clubs (CASC), to bring its sports car competition up to a world class level and to manage the consequences of those efforts in the second half of the twentieth century. David Charters traces the social origins of the sport and the major trends that shaped it: professionalism, technological change, rising costs, and the influence of commercial sponsors. Charters argues that while early enthusiasts set the sport on a course toward professionalism that would eventually produce world class Canadian events and racers, that course would also ultimately change the purpose of the sport from personal recreation to mass entertainment. As technological innovations drove up the costs of competing at the top ranks, racers were forced to rely on sponsors who commercialized and ultimately gained control of the sport. The end result, Charters argues, was the marginalization of the amateur competitor and of the CASC itself. Based on extensive research into the CASC's records and dozens of interviews with former competitors and officials, The Chequered Past opens a window into the rich but virtually unknown history of the auto sport and claims for it a place in Canadian sports history.

stories in all of racing history      Sports Cars Sandra Donovan,2007-01-01 Describes what sports cars are and introduces classic models of this type of car including the Porsche 356 the Mercedes Benz 300SL and the Jaguar XK 120      Sport, History, and Heritage Jeff Hill, Kevin Moore, Jason Wood, 2012 Sport is an integral part of British culture and an important aspect of modern life but although its importance has been recognised in academic history in the growing and related fields of heritage and museum studies it has yet to be fully appreciated and brought into interaction More with historical studies Ideologically sport and heritage both convey powerful messages responsible for shaping our understanding of sport history and the past although they have essentially operated as separate spheres one important aspect of convergence between them is seen in the rise and popularity of sports museums the collecting of sporting art and memorabilia and popular concern over the demise of historic sports buildings and places The essays in this volume look at sports history as manifested in academic enquiry museum exhibition and heritage sites They deal among other things with the public representation of sport and why it matters its impact on public spheres the direction of sports heritage studies and what they should be attempting to achieve the role of museums in public history and the place memory and meaning in the historic sports landscape      The Last Road Race Richard Williams, 2013-10-17 The story of the 1957 Pescara Grand Prix the last race of the heroic age of motor racing There has been much talk of how Grand Prix motor racing has become rather dull with big name big brand winners ousting out all competition But it wasn't always so Once a romantic sport motor sport produced heroes whose where individual skill and daring were paramount The 1957 Pescara Grand Prix marked the end of an era in motor racing Sixteen cars and drivers raced over public roads on the Adriatic coast in a three hour race of frightening speed and constant danger Stirling Moss won the race beating the great Juan Manuel Fangio in his final full season and ending years of supremacy by the Italian teams of Ferrari and Maserati Richard Williams brings this pivotal race back to life reminding us of how far the sport has changed in the intervening fifty years The narrative includes testaments from the four surviving drivers who competed Stirling Moss Tony Brooks Roy Salvadori and Jack Brabham      Sport in Britain Richard William Cox, 1991      British Car Advertising of the 1960s Heon Stevenson, 2015-03-27 During the 1960s the automobile finally secured its position as an indispensable component of daily life in Britain Car ownership more than doubled from approximately one car for every 10 people in 1960 to one car for every 4.8 people by 1970 Consumers no longer asked Do we need a car but What car shall we have This well illustrated history analyzes how both domestic car manufacturers and importers advertised their products in this growing market identifying trends and themes Over 180 advertisement illustrations are included      Road and Track, 1992      Racing Chassis and Suspension Design Carroll Smith, 2004-05-21 Hand selected by racing engineer legend Carroll Smith the 28 SAE Technical Papers in this book focus on the chassis and suspension design of pure racing cars an area that has traditionally been farmed out to independent designers or firms since the early 1970s Smith believed that any discussion of vehicle dynamics must begin with a basic understanding of the pneumatic tire the focus of the first chapter The racing tire connects the racing car to the track surface by only the footprints of its four tires Through the tires the driver receives most of the sensory information needed to maintain or regain control of the race car at high force levels The second chapter focusing on suspension design is an introduction to this complex and fascinating subject Topics covered include chassis stiffness and flexibility suspension tuning on the cornering of a Winston Cup race car suspension kinematics and vehicle dynamics of road racing cars Chapter 3 addresses the design of the racing chassis design and how aerodynamics affect the chassis and the final chapter on materials brings out the fact that the modern racing car utilizes carbon construction to the maximum extent allowed by regulations These technical papers written between 1971 and 2003 offer what Smith believed to be the best and most practical nuggets of racing chassis and suspension design information     The Guinness Complete Grand Prix Who's who Steve Small,1994     Vintage American Road Racing Cars 1950-1969 Harold Pace Mark R.
