Infelicitities Representations Of The Exotic:

Infelicitities Peter Mason, 1998 In Infelicitities Peter Mason explores the texts paintings drawings photographs and museum displays in which the exotic has been represented from the early modern period to the present He describes the unique iconography that Europeans developed to convey the exotic and the means they employed to display it once artifacts were brought to Europe In both instances the exotic object is taken out of its original context and given a meaning and significance it never had this new meaning and significance Mason argues are derived from the imposition of European cultural values and the need to recontextualize the object in a European setting A Female Poetics of Empire Julia Kuehn, 2013-10-30 Many well known male writers produced fictions about colonial spaces and discussed the advantages of realism over romance and vice versa in the art of fiction debate of the 1880s but how did female writers contribute to colonial fiction This volume links fictional non fictional and pictorial representations of a colonial otherness with the late nineteenth century artistic concerns about representational conventions and possibilities The author explores these texts and images through the postcolonial framework of exoticism arguing that the epistemological dilemma of a self encountering an other results in the interrelated predicament to find poetic modalities mimetic realistic and documentary on the one hand romantic fantastic and picturesque on the other that befit an exotic representation Thus women writers did not only participate in the making of colonial fictions but also in the late nineteenth century artistic debate about the nature of fiction This book maps the epistemological concerns of exoticism and of difference self and other home and away familiarity and strangeness onto the representational modes of realism and romance The author focuses exclusively on female novelists travel writers and painters of the turn of the century exotic and especially on neglected authors of academically under researched genres such as the bestselling novel and the travelogue Indigenous and Black Confraternities in Colonial Latin America Javiera Jaque Hidalgo, Miguel Valerio, 2025-10-01 Employing a transregional and interdisciplinary approach this volume explores indigenous and black confraternities or lay Catholic brotherhoods founded in colonial Spanish America and Brazil between the sixteenth and eighteenth century It presents a varied group of cases of religious confraternities founded by subaltern subjects both in rural and urban spaces of colonial Latin America to understand the dynamics and relations between the peripheral and central areas of colonial society underlying the ways in which colonized subjects navigated the colonial domain with forms of social organization and cultural and religious practices The book analyzes indigenous and black confraternal cultural practices as forms of negotiation and resistance shaped by local devotional identities that also transgressed imperial religious and racial hierarchies The analysis of these practices explores the intersections between ethnic identity and ritual devotion as well as how the establishment of black and indigenous religious confraternities carried the potential to subvert colonial discourse Looking for Lost Randy Laist, 2014-01-10 Lost has received widespread acclaim as one of the most innovative intelligent and influential dramatic series in television history Central to Lost's success has been its capacity to evoke audience interpretations of its mysteries undiminished even with the series definitive conclusion This collection of fifteen essays by critics academics and philosophers examines the complete series from a diverse but interconnected array of perspectives Complementary and occasionally conflicting interpretations of the show s major themes are presented including the role of time fate and determinism masculinity parenthood and the threat of environmental apocalypse Keywords for Travel Writing Studies Charles Forsdick,Zoë Kinsley,Kathryn

Walchester,2019-04-22 Keywords for Travel Writing Studies draws on the notion of the keyword as initially elaborated by Raymond Williams in his seminal 1976 text Keywords A Vocabulary of Culture and Society to present 100 concepts central to the study of travel writing as a literary form Each entry in the volume is around 1 000 words the style more essayistic than encyclopaedic with contributors reflecting on their chosen keyword from a variety of disciplinary perspectives The emphasis on travelogues and other cultural representations of mobility drawn from a range of national and linguistic traditions ensures that the volume has a comparative dimension the aim is to give an overview of each term in its historical and theoretical complexity providing readers with a clear sense of how the selected words are essential to a critical understanding of travel writing Each entry is complemented by an annotated bibliography of five essential items suggesting further reading

Composing the Citizen Jann Pasler,2009-07-06 In a book that challenges modernist ideas about the value and role of music in Western society Composing the Citizen demonstrates how music can help forge a nation Deftly exploring the history of Third Republic France Jann Pasler shows how French people from all classes and political persuasions looked to music to revitalize the country after the turbulent crises of 1871 Embraced not as a luxury but for its public utility music became an object of public policy as integral to modern life as power and water a way to teach critical judgment and inspire national pride It helped people to forget the past voice conflicting aspirations and imagine a shared future Based on a dazzling survey of archival material Pasler s rich interdisciplinary work looks beyond elites and the histories their agendas have dominated to open new windows onto the musical tastes and practices of amateurs as well as professionals A fascinating history of the period emerges one rooted in political realities and the productive tensions between the political and the aesthetic Highly evocative and deeply humanistic Composing the Citizen ignites broad debates about music s role in democracy and its meaning in our lives

Leitch, 2010-09-27 As the first book length examination of the role of German print culture in mediating Europe s knowledge of the newly discovered people of Africa South Asia and the Americas this work highlights a unique and early incident of visual accuracy and an unprecedented investment in the practice of ethnography Native Shakespeares Parmita Kapadia,2016-04-22 Explored in this essay collection is how Shakespeare is rewritten reinscribed and translated to fit within the local tradition values and languages of the world s various communities and cultures Contributors show that Shakespeare regardless of the medium theater pedagogy or literary studies is commonly rooted in the local customs of a people in ways that challenge the notion that his drama promotes a Western idealism Native Shakespeares examines how the persistent indigenization of Shakespeare complicates the traditional vision of his work as a voice of Western culture and colonial hegemony The international range of the collection and the focus on indigenous practices distinguishes Native Shakespeares from other available texts Art, commerce and colonialism 1600-1800 Emma Barker,2018-07-01 The book re examines the field of Renaissance art history by exploring the art of this era in the light of global connections It considers the movement of objects ideas and technologies and its significance for European art and material culture analysing images through the lens of cultural encounter and conflict Visible Empire Daniela Bleichmar,2012-10-08 Between 1777 and 1816 botanical expeditions crisscrossed the vast Spanish empire in an ambitious project to survey the flora of much of the Americas the Caribbean and the Philippines While these voyages produced written texts and compiled collections of specimens they dedicated an overwhelming proportion of their resources and energy to the creation of visual materials European and American naturalists and artists collaborated to manufacture a staggering total of more than 12 000 botanical illustrations Yet these images have remained largely overlooked until now In this lavishly illustrated volume Daniela Bleichmar gives this archive its due finding in these botanical images a window into the worlds of Enlightenment science visual culture and empire Through innovative interdisciplinary scholarship that bridges the histories of science visual culture and the Hispanic world Bleichmar uses these images to trace two related histories the little known history of scientific expeditions in the Hispanic Enlightenment and the history of visual evidence in both science and administration in the early modern Spanish empire As Bleichmar shows in the Spanish empire visual epistemology operated not only in scientific contexts but also as part of an imperial apparatus that had a long established tradition of deploying visual evidence for administrative purposes The Lives of Images Peter Mason,2001 Examines the history of European representations of non European peoples Epistemic Practices and Plant Classification in Premodern European Botanical Knowledge Fabrizio Baldassarri,2025-10-01 This volume aims to uncover the diverse approach to plants in the Renaissance and seventeenth century that paved the way for a definition of botany as a fully fledged discipline Its scope expands beyond the natural historical interest in collections and the fabrication of materia medica moving from Varchi Matthioli and Bauhin to Locke Pinelli and Linnaeus among others the contributions collected here connect practical and theoretical features dealing with the challenges that characterized any involvement with plants The authors focus on the linguistic shortcomings problems in authenticating specimens and efforts to establish new botanical geographies to favour trades as well as the pursuits of new methodologies artisanal technologies and chymical experiments with plants Botany thus emerges as a suitable discipline to disclose the complexities and challenges of early modern science in general

Amerasia Elizabeth Horodowich,Alexander Nagel,2023-09-05 A connected world as imagined by early modern European artists mapmakers and writers where Asia and the Americas were on a continuum America and Asia mingled in the geographical and cultural imagination of Europe for well over a century after 1492 Through an array of texts maps objects and images produced between 1492 and 1700 this compelling and revelatory study immerses the reader in a vision of a world where Mexico really was India North America was an extension of China and South America was marked by a variety of biblical and Asian sites It asks further What does it mean that the Amerasian worldview predominated at a time when Europe itself was coming into cultural self definition Each of the chapters focuses on a particular artifact map image or book that illuminates aspects of Amerasia from specific European cultural milieus Amerasia shows how it was possible to inhabit a world where America and Asia were connected either imaginatively when viewed from afar or in reality when traveling through the newly encountered lands Readers will learn why early modern maps regularly label Mexico as India why the Amazonas region was named after a race of Asian female warriors and why artifacts and manuscripts that we now identify as Indian and Chinese are entangled in European collections with what we now label Americana Elizabeth Horodowich and Alexander Nagel pose a dynamic model of the world and of Europe's place in it that was eclipsed by the rise of Eurocentric colonialist narratives in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries To rediscover this history is an essential part of coming to terms with the emergent polyfocal global reality of our own time

Eighteenth-Century Thing Theory in a Global Context Ileana Baird,Christina Ionescu,2016-04-29 Exploring Enlightenment attitudes toward things and their relation to human subjects this collection offers a geographically wide ranging perspective on what the eighteenth century looked like beyond British or British colonial borders To highlight trends fashions and cultural imports of truly global significance the contributors draw their case studies from Western Europe Russia Africa Latin America and Oceania This survey underscores the multifarious ways in which new theoretical approaches such as thing theory or material and visual culture studies revise our understanding of the people and objects that inhabit the phenomenological spaces of the eighteenth century Rather than focusing on a particular geographical area or on the global as a juxtaposition of regions with a distinctive cultural footprint this collection draws attention to the unforeseen relational maps drawn by things in their global peregrinations celebrating the logic of serendipity that transforms the object into some thing else when it is placed in a new locale
